

RESOLUTIONS ON REV. DR. SMART

Adopted by Newton Highlands Congregational Church in Accepting Resignation of Its Pastor

The following resolutions were adopted at the annual meeting of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on Wednesday, December 29, 1920, in appreciation of the services of the retiring minister, Rev. George T. Smart, D. D.

Whereas, Dr. George T. Smart, the fourth pastor of this church, has resigned his pastorate after nineteen years of devoted and successful ministry, his resignation to take effect on March 1, 1921;

BE IT RESOLVED, that the following minutes of our appreciation of his life and leadership among us be entered upon the records of this church, and a copy be given to him and his family.

George T. Smart, D. D., became the minister of this church, February 1, 1902, in response to the unanimous call extended to him, at a time when the church was occupying the first church edifice upon which the mortgage indebtedness, originally four thousand dollars, had increased with the floating indebtedness to nine thousand dollars, and the church was not able to meet its annual budget for current expenses. The membership at that time was 242.

Mr. Smart's visit among us and his preaching before the call was extended to him aroused such interest that the amount needed to pay off the debt of the church was readily subscribed to assure his acceptance of the call. Shortly after his coming the mortgage notes were burned at a special church service on April 27, 1902, and for the first time we turned our faces with hope toward a new church. Under Dr. Smart's leadership and inspiration this hope was realized three years later, and the struggling church to which he came, now strong and reliant, dedicated the beautiful edifice which was built by the generous gifts, and, in many cases, the noble sacrifices, of those who were willing to deny themselves to do their full share in the supreme effort of the church, waking to the vision of a new and larger life, and pressing forward to its realization.

Since that time each succeeding year has brought an increased membership to the church, until we now number 404, and with the increase in membership, a larger financial income, not only for the needs of the church, but for our benevolences and missionary work.

But above and beyond any material benefits which have given evidence of Dr. Smart's successful ministry, there are ministrations for which we are indebted to him, which are not measured in material terms, but which have exerted a lasting influence upon the spiritual life of the church.

We appreciate the example of his life among us, the integrity and sincerity of his Christian character, at all times without conscious or unconscious hypocrisy, and his life in the home, which bore witness that the plain living and high thinking of our Pilgrim fathers is still possible in the surging life of today, and still potent to bring out the best in our children.

We are grateful for his personal work among the children, evidenced by the number who each year, after attending his preparatory class, came from the Sunday School into the membership of the church.

Many of us at this time recall the generous sympathy and tender appreciative words of comfort which he has given us in times of sorrow. There was never any sense of intrusion into our grief, but we welcomed the solicitude of a true friend, which gave expression to thoughts we were unable to express.

Especially are we all in his debt for his guidance of our thoughts during

ALDERMEN OF 1920

Meet for Last Time. Oppose Winter Work on Woodward Street

The last meeting of a retiring city government, usually held less than an hour before the inauguration of its successor, is generally a perfunctory affair, but the aldermanic board of 1920 has not been perfunctory and its last meeting was certainly not in that class. To begin with there were but two absentees, all but one of the retiring aldermen being present.

The committee on the matter of fire insurance of city buildings reported that the subject required further study and recommended reference to the next board of aldermen. This was done after Alderman Allen had urged the most careful study of the matter calling attention to the need of an up to date appraisal of city buildings, the fire loss in this and in other cities and the possibility of investing the proposed annual cost of $10,000 as a special fire insurance fund by the city.

Another committee to which had been referred Mayor Childs' proposal that the drain and sewer in Woodward street be constructed at once instead of waiting for spring, in order to give work for the unemployed, reported that it was inexpedient to undertake this work at the present time in order to relieve general distress in the city. The committee reported that it had failed to find any general distress in the city and that the centre of unemployment appeared to be in Nonantum. It commented upon the general unfitness of the average mill hand for street labor and the fact that to do the Woodward street work now would add 25 per cent to the estimated cost. The report sought to "focus the attention of the members to the character of the work on Woodward street, the unsuitability of the average unemployed factory hand for this work, the fact that the present is a time of year when the city employee cannot expect continuous employment and the 25 per cent increase in cost if we undertake this work in winter. The report was accepted.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A.

Holds Interesting Reception to Celebrate the New Year

The first Annual New Year's Reception of the Newton Y. M. C. A. was a great success. The building was crowded with members and friends. The committee in charge was greatly pleased with the response to their invitation.

The program consisted of boxing and wrestling matches, a demonstration of class work and games by the junior members, and fancy tumbling by the Johnson brothers. There was a swimming contest in the pool, music by the orchestra, and an entertainment in the assembly hall by the Mystery Trio.

The Mystery Man first made his appearance from a black cabinet, introduced himself, and then disappeared. The poetical coon entered looking for work. It soon became evident that he strayed into the land of Mystery by mistake, and his troubles while there brought shouts of laughter and amusement.

In a clever illusion the Musical Domino was produced from the magic cabinet and "Dom" as she was called, proved to be a very attractive young lady, who not only played the piano exceedingly well, but who later on mystified everyone with her mind-reading abilities under the control of the Mystery Man.

Some unusual bits of magic were performed by the Mystery Man who called upon several of the children in the audience for assistance. They responded with much enthusiasm, greatly to the delight of the older folks.

A resolution expressing the thanks of the board for the work done by Alderman William L. Allen, the retiring chairman of the finance committee was adopted after Mr. Allen had protested strongly any such action.

The records of the board were approved for the year and all unfinished business referred to the next city government.

FINDS LAW VIOLATED

Judge Allen Makes His Findings in Political Inquest of Last Fall

Judge W. Lloyd Allen of the Newton Police Court who heard the testimony given last September in the political inquest held as a result of the Republican primary for choice of representatives in this city has recently filed his findings at the Superior Court in East Cambridge.

It will be recalled that the inquest was held primarily to determine who financed the so-called "Green" letter and if the corrupt practices act had been violated by so doing.

Judge Allen's conclusions are as follows:—

Findings

The testimony of Reuben Forknall and Henry W. Jarvis in the main is entirely contradictory and irreconcilable and I have no hesitation in finding that the testimony of Jarvis is true.

I find that Reuben Forknall was responsible with Henry W. Jarvis for the composition and distribution of the Green letter; that the financing of the letter through friends of Reuben Forknall solicited on behalf of Reuben Forknall by Mr. Jarvis and the suggestion and request of Mr. Forknall; and that the acts of Jarvis were done under authority and with the consent of Mr. Forknall; that, therefore, Reuben Forknall in behalf of his candidacy expended an amount in excess of Three hundred dollars ($300.) allowed by statute and violated the so called Corrupt Practices act?

I would be remiss in my duty if I should close my report without finding that William T. Rich, Chas. C. Jones, Fred S. Retan and Allen C. Emery acted in any other manner other than as public spirited citizens looking in their judgment to the best interests of Newton. Whatever acts they did or contributions they made were in good faith and in a generous spirit for the welfare of the city of Newton and Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT

Board of Aldermen of 1921 Organizes and Hears Address by Mayor Childs

The inauguration of the city government of 1921 took place very quietly last Saturday afternoon in the presence of only a few spectators.

The incoming board was called to order by City Clerk Grant and senior member, Henry I. Harriman was chosen as temporary chairman. Aldermen Whidden, Blake and Cook were appointed a committee to notify the Mayor and returned in a few moments accompanied by Mayor Childs and Rev. Robert L. Rae, pastor of the North Church at Nonantum. After prayer by Mr. Rae, Mayor Childs administered the oath of office to the alderman-elect and to Messrs Everett E. Kent and Maxwell C. Hutchins, members elect of the school committee.

He then gave his annual address, which is printed in full in another part of the Graphic.

At the conclusion of the address, Mayor Childs presided while Alderman Henry I. Harriman was unanimously elected president of the board, and then retired to his own office.

Alderman Stephen H. Whidden was elected vice-president, Francis Newhall re-elected city treasurer for his 17th year, and J. C. Brimblecom was re-elected clerk of committees for his 24th year.

Orders were adopted governing the conduct of the board, referring all committees, calling for a committee to consider the Mayor's address, for printing the Mayor's address, establishing office hours for City Hall, and authorizing temporary loans during the year to the amount of $3,046,000.

Mayor Childs recommended the sum of $1484.99 for certain deficits in the water department and $6.48 for interest on the Davenport fund.

Benjamin W. Pepper of Camden road and Charles D. Pickard of Hancock street were drawn as jurors for the Cambridge court.

Betterment assessments levied of certain streets were apportioned under the law.

Residents of Hood and Rogers streets asked that the estimated costs of constructing those streets be revised. Annie E. Collett asked for an abatement of assessments on Waban Hill road, and a petition was filed for a sewer in Oakwood avenue.

The Edison Company was granted pole locations in Central street.

President Harriman announced the committee assignments as follows:—

Finance:—Nichols, chairman; Carter, Heathcote, Madden, Phipps, Pratt, Rogers.

EDITORIAL

Do the residents of this city desire a modern, up-to-date Hospital to exist for their service and benefit? That is the question to be determined next week and it is up to you, the reader of this editorial, to say whether that object shall be attained. Don't try to pass it off on some other man or woman, it's up to YOU and no one else. Is it worth anything to you as an individual to have such a plant within easy access to your home, ready at all times to give you the best of service? You demand modern fire apparatus to be constantly ready for your call in case your house or store is threatened by fire. You pay for that service directly in your taxes and indirectly in your fire insurance. How many times have you had occasion to require the services of our Fire Department? Why should you not have a Hospital service also at your command? You have far more occasion to use its facilities than those of the Fire Department, for accident and sickness are far more common, sad to say, than fire. Let us urge you therefore, to look at your subscription towards the running expenses of our Hospital, just as you look at your taxes for fire service—as an ordinary item of your current expenses. With this thought in mind be ready next week, not only to give what would be a fair amount for the current year, but add to it a goodly sum to pay for the services of the past few years when you have not done as you should in this vital matter. You may be well sure that your money will be well and carefully expended under the direction of President William C. Bray and his co-trustees.

We can see no good reason why the established policy of the city for many years to insure its own public buildings should be changed in any particular. The fire records for the past fifty years show that Newton as a city has suffered comparatively small loss from fire, and has had but one so-called total loss—and that nearly 40 years ago. We do believe it would be wise to lay aside either $5,000 or $10,000 a year for a series of years and thereby accumulate a reserve fund from which future fire losses might be paid and call attention to the fact that there already exists a fund of nearly $50,000 accumulated some years ago by former city governments.

Governor Cox makes a strong point for the short ballot for state officers. Let us carry it still further and have most of our county officials appointed instead of elected.

Welcome the Hospital solicitor with a smile and a contribution.

POLICE NOTES

The activities of the railroad detectives stationed at the B. & A. tracks, near Crescent street, resulted in the appearance of six men in the West Newton Court Monday morning. They were Patsy Caruso, John Heald, Hubert Lyons, Thomas Burke, John Hoolihan and James Raitza. They were fined $5 and sentence was suspended. The passage through the railroad fence at Crescent street has been in use ever since the tracks were laid. Year after year the railroad has reconstructed the fence at this spot, and year after year the residents of the vicinity have torn it down to save them a long walk when traveling from West Newton to Auburndale. The fence is to be closed up again.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Legislature took up its annual duties on Wednesday of this week, when the oath of office was administered to the members of the House and Senate by Governor Coolidge. The governor received a tremendous reception when he entered the House accompanied by his staff.

The House organized by the choice of our neighbor, Representative B. Loring Young of Weston as Speaker and the Senate elected Frank G. Allen of Norwood as its president. The great interest of the day centered in the committee appointments in both Senate and House. Newton was very well treated by Speaker Young, Representative Rice receiving the appointment of Education and a place on the important committee of Metropolitan Affairs. Representative E. A. Baker was made chairman while the writer was given appointments on the House committee on Elections and his former place on Social Welfare. Senator Naphen of this district has a place on Metropolitan Affairs, on Judiciary and is chairman of Constitutional Amendments.

The drawing for seats is always interesting to the members of the House, and it is a curious incident that the writer who sat in seat 142 last year drew the same seat this year and that it is the 142nd session of the Great and General Court. Representative Early had nearly the same experience, sitting in 116 last year and 119 this year.

The inauguration of Governor Channing H. Cox yesterday again showed that a large place should be provided for the inaugural ceremonies or there should be fewer invitations issued for the affair. Hundreds of people were forced to stand during the two hours or more taken up with waiting for the gubernatorial party and the reading of his inaugural address by Governor Cox. Ex-Senator John W. Weeks and ex-councillors Seward W. Jones, G. Fred Simpson and Edward H. Haskell were Newton members of the Governor's party.

BOY DROWNED

John Chiros, the 7-year-old son of Jacob Chiros of 37 Wetherell street, Newton Upper Falls, was drowned and two others narrowly escaped death when the ice on Cold Spring Cove, Charles River, gave way Monday noon. John Kronilis, 9 years old, playmate of the Chiros boy, was rescued by Schuyler Cutler of Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls.

When Cutler turned to grasp the Chiros child, who was struggling to gain a grip on the breaking ice, the ice gave way and Cutler, exhausted from his efforts, was plunged into the water, which is 15 feet deep at that point.

Leon Wiczorek, of 47 Linden street, Newton Upper Falls, seeing Cutler in peril, threw himself on the ice and crawled to the edge of the ice, where Cutler was struggling. Cutler grasped the end of the rope which Wiczorek threw to him.

Meanwhile, the Chiros boy, after getting his head and one shoulder on the ice, fell through a weak spot and disappeared. His body was taken out an hour later.

The Kronilis boy was in hysterics when he was taken home. Cutler, who is the day engineer at the pumping station, was none the worse for his plunge.

MISS MARTIN RETIRES

Miss Jennie Martin, for the past six years, the superintendent of the Auburndale postal station retired from service on January 1st.

Miss Martin was appointed a clerk in the Auburndale Post Office in January, 1894, being appointed when Miss Imogene Guiney, who recently died in England, was Postmaster. She was appointed Clerk-in-charge in 1897 when the Auburndale office was consolidated with other Newton offices, with Edward A. Ellis as Postmaster, and was placed in charge of the free delivery. In October, 1914, Miss Martin was appointed Superintendent of the office and has served in that capacity since that time.

Miss Martin came to Newton in 1872, from Calais, Me., where she had taught school for several years. She became a telegraph operator at Newton Centre, a position she held for 15 years, before entering the Postal service.

WON BY APPEAL TO VANITY

How Wily Diplomat Saved Lord Beaconsfield From Bad "Break" He Had Contemplated.

Curiosity, says a London correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, is frequently expressed as to how the prime minister gets along in his conferences with foreign ministers. It is understood that, though he can make out the purport of a printed passage in the French language, he never had the opportunity of acquiring facility in the spoken tongue. In this respect he finds a precedent in the case of Lord Beaconsfield. When he went to the Berlin congress in 1878 he made known to his faithful secretary his intention of addressing the conference in French. Monty Cory, having suffered scraps of his chief's colloquial French, was aghast. In despair he applied to the British minister at Berlin for assistance. Odo Russell lived up to the occasion. In casual conversation with Lord Beaconsfield he mentioned that he had heard a rumor that he intended to address the plenipotentiaries on the following day in French. "That would," the wily minister said, "be a grave disappointment. They know that they have here in you the greatest living master of English oratory, and are looking forward to your speech as the intellectual treat of their lives." "Dizzy" immediately saw the reasonableness of this objection and all his speeches during the sittings of the congress were in English.

COULDN'T LEAVE EMILY OUT

Peculiar Reason Why Elderly Spinster Just Had to Attend the Funeral.

Word has come to the mid-Victorian lady that an old friend of her mother's had died suddenly in her home in Maine. It was her duty to break the sad news to two elderly spinsters, cousins of the dear departed "auntie."

She found Miss Susan at home, tending to her pet canary. Miss Susan is 78, but spry and alert, ready for any emergency. Miss Emily, five years older, was out motoring with a kindly benefactress. The slow tears of old age trickled down Miss Susan's cheeks at the word that another of her generation had passed away. And then, with a quick transition, she began excited plans for attending the funeral, which involved a trip by boat to Portland and a long and arduous ride in a day coach. But the thought of all this, coupled with midsummer heat, did not daunt the little lady. She would go.

"But, at least, Miss Susan," urged the messenger, "you'll not take Miss Emily with you."

"And, my dear," said the lady to the woman, when she told her story over a cold lunch, "what do you suppose Miss Susan said? Seriously, in her slow drawl, she replied: 'Oh, I couldn't leave Emily behind. You see she has so little fun in her life.'"

Scraping the Ballot.

The woman who had charge of the voting machine placed in one of the downtown stores for use in the instruction of women first voters, met a number of unusual and amusing situations. A few days ago, a well-dressed woman who had all the appearances of being well informed on matters political, entered the section where instructions were being given, and after making the usual preliminary apologies, asked the young woman in charge to demonstrate the operation of the machine. She was shown what she should do in case she wished to vote a straight ticket, but this failed to satisfy her craving for instructions, and the climax was reached when she innocently requested: "And now would you mind showing me how I should work the machine if I wish to 'scrape' my ballot?"

Furs All Her Fortune.

"Alaska produces a large variety of beautiful and valuable furs upon land," says Andrew J. Stone in the Century. "It has 13 varieties of bears, six species of fox—black, blue, cross, red, silver and white—and all common land furs. The skins of its foxes are of the highest quality and are larger than those produced in any other country. The Alaska moose is the largest land animal found on the western hemisphere. The meat is as choice as the best of beef and the skin makes excellent footwear and is much worn during the winter months. The caribou, like the reindeer, lives almost exclusively upon mosses, and inhabits nearly all parts of the country except the southern coast country. They are found in large herds and supply man with millions of pounds of meat."

Helium From Natural Gas.

Up to a little more than a year ago helium was a laboratory product made at a cost of from $1,500 to $2,000 per cubic foot, but toward the close of the war its production had been simplified to the point that 8,000 cubic feet per day was produced in Texas alone. The commercial production of helium has been stimulated by the need of a substitute for hydrogen, which is so highly inflammable that its value for military purposes in dirigibles and kite balloons is gravely impaired. Although the substitution of helium for this purpose entails a loss of 7 per cent in lifting power, this is more than compensated for by the elimination of all risk of fire and explosion. Helium suffers less loss by diffusion than hydrogen and cannot be made to burn or explode under any conditions.

West African Superstition.

In West Africa it is not unusual to see a native crouched over a stream talking to the "Spirit of the Water," and in that country, too, the traveler is unwise who looks behind him at any sudden sound, for he will probably be held a native with the Fangaree charm, and will see him beat with a bamboo hammer upon a tiny drum held above a live animal. As the traveler looks around the charm is struck, and it is the belief of the natives that, whatever part of the animal is injured, the human victim will suffer in the same region.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Elliot Church Woman's Association took place at Elliot Church on Tuesday. At the luncheon which was served at noon, the newly elected president, Mrs. Arthur E. Holt, reviewed the work of the association during the last year, paying a special tribute to Mrs. Henry L. Harriman, the retiring President. Following her, Mrs. George Angier also paid a tribute to Mrs. Harriman. She referred particularly to the ease with which Mrs. Harriman apparently accomplished so much, and to her great versatility and devotion to the association during the years with which she has been connected with the association, and conferred upon her the degree of Devoted Director.

Mrs. Henry L. Harriman then gracefully responded, calling attention to the co-operation which the association had given to her during her term of office, and paying tribute especially to the work of the Treasurer, and of the Secretary. Mrs. Alfred T. Fuller also paid a tribute to Mrs. George L. Parker, retiring secretary of the association, in verse.

Mrs. Edward P. Botsford, representing the Elliot Guild, then sang three songs playing her own accompaniment. Following her, Mrs. Holt, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre.

Mr. Arbuckle's subject was, "The Necessity of Bible Study." Mr. Arbuckle said that there was no subject upon which he would rather speak and spoke in part as follows: "The field of religious education is the greatest field today. More progress will be made in the immediate future along this line than along any other line. We are told on every hand that the times are of joint, and we see this clearly; but we are lacking in the motive power necessary to change conditions."

Formerly, we have dwelt too much upon our cultural inheritance, and have failed to emphasize our religious inheritance. This is the task of the church. She has too frequently failed in this respect, with the result that the boy or girl going to college too often loses his faith because he or she has not been given the right background, the right perspective for his faith. The Bible needs to be studied by its friends as well as its enemies.

One of the influences of the war has been the wild and totally unfounded interpretations of the Bible which have sprung up in an effort to predict the outcome of the war, to foretell the fate of the Kaiser, etc. The Bible is the record of the growth of spiritual experience, and one of the greatest signs of health today in the church is the awakened desire of many to study the Bible.

The greatest care should be taken in laying the foundation of Biblical teaching in the Sunday School. Young people should be taught to reverence the great truths of the Bible because of their greatness, and not because they are in the Bible.

As an example of the way to teach the Bible to the thinking youth of today, Mr. Arbuckle told of his own dealing with the problem of evil as shown in the Greek myths, and in the early stories of Genesis, and showed how incomparably superior in point of view of spiritual insight were the Bible accounts over those of the Greeks.

"There is a real hunger in the world today for the truth." One evidence of this is shown in the Open Forum movement. A woman in one of these meetings once asked whether one must be educated to understand the Bible, to which Mr. Arbuckle replied that even the least educated can pick up the nuggets of truth which lie upon the surface of this great Book, but that education enables one to delve below the surface and discover the hidden truths.

"What our children need today is orientation in religious matters; to get the great perspective which lies behind the teaching of Jesus. It is for parents and teachers to give them this."

In the conclusion of Mr. Arbuckle's address, Dr. Person spoke briefly of the Bible Study which Elliot Church is planning for the Lenten season this year. Mrs. Charles Daniels who is well known in the Congregational world as a teacher, and who is to be one of the teachers during the next few months, spoke of her appreciation of the honor conferred upon her, and her desire to co-operate in every way with this splendid movement.

At the morning session, the following were elected:

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Recognizing the vital work, which the West Newton Music School is doing for the community in providing musical instruction at a minimum cost to children who would otherwise be unable to have such training, the Newton Federation has always done everything in its power to foster that institution. Last year the clubs were aroused to make generous contributions from their funds to further the school's work and in order to get the school upon a sure financial basis, which can easily be done, the clubs through their music committees are to be asked this year to assist in securing a larger number of individual annual subscriptions. To this end the Music chairmen of the clubs will be asked to the next meeting of the Federation board on January 17, when a representative of the school will give a complete presentation of the needs. It is hoped that they will make every effort to be present.

In the past music was regarded as an accomplishment, but only within recent years has it been realized what a vital part music can play in the up-building of the nation, as a stabilizer of the various elements. No better piece of Americanization work can be done than to foster in every possible way anything which can bring harmony and a bond of union among diverse peoples.

Mrs. Marx Obendorfer, chairman of the Newton Federation, is to speak on the nineteenth of January at a Music conference in Boston, announcement of which will be given in detail next week. Mrs. Obendorfer has done much work along this line in Chicago and has a message to give, which every club woman should hear. She is a powerful speaker as well, and everyone will be amply repaid for any effort made to hear her.

State Federation

Wednesday, January 12. Joint conference at Revere by invitation of the Revere Woman's Club in the Congregational Church, Beach street. The General Federation has incorporated the work into its health program and it has been adopted by numerous state boards of health, by the National Parent-Teacher Association and by various university extension courses. There will be a demonstration of the work and Dr. Eugene R. Kelley will speak.

She comes under the auspices of the Home Economics committee and her subject is "Buying Happiness." Pennybacker and is an expert in her line, as well as being an unusually forceful speaker.

The Art Committee is in charge of the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, January 14th.

Local Happenings

Dallas Lore Sharp spoke on "The Magical Chance" before the Waban Woman's Club at the regular meeting on Monday afternoon, January 3rd, held in the Waban Neighborhood Club House. Mrs. Lewis Alden Estes played two piano solos with beautiful expression. Mrs. H. L. Tilton, Mrs. Edmund Winchester and Mrs. N. H. Marvin were the hostesses of the day, serving tea during the social hour.

Mrs. Annie Pepper Varney gave a

Japanese Flower lecture before the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls on Monday evening. She was assisted by her daughter, Miss Frances Varney, who danced two dances, the first interpretation of Grieg's "To Spring," and the other of Kreisler's "Veniens." Mrs. Bloss was the accompanist.

At the home of Miss Adelaide R. Webster on Monday afternoon the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. began the study of the Pilgrim Tercentenary. Mrs. C. P. Clark was in charge and discussed the historical and social background of the Pilgrim movement in England and Holland, taking up the Puritans, Anabaptists, Brownists, and Separatists. The following meeting will be devoted to a further study of the Pilgrims after coming to New England.

The Newton Social Science Club held its regular business meeting on Wednesday morning. There were the usual reports of committees. Mrs. George E. Merrill, chairman of the Legislative committee, presented the Federal bills, which the State Federation will act upon at the Mid-winter meeting, for the consideration of the club. The Rogers bill, which aims to put the citizenship of married women on an independent basis, was endorsed and also the Smith-Towner bill, which provides a wide educational program for the country and has already been endorsed in the past. The treasurer brought in a clear summary of the financial situation of the club in view of rising prices and the chairman of Directors presented an amendment to the Constitution to increase the dues, which will be acted upon at a special meeting in February.

Guest Night Dramatics

The Abundant Review Club presented with marked success two plays on New Year's Night in Norumbega Hall. The first, "Wrong Numbers," was an amusing little farce, cleverly done by Mrs. Cora A. Farrier, a "Waltress," Mrs. Alice V. Champion, "No. 1," and Mrs. Maud L. Feather, "No. 2." The second play, "The Florist's Shop," was given by the following cast of characters: Maude, the Bookkeeper, Mrs. Austin W. Fisher; Henry, the Messenger Boy, Theodore Grant; Slovisky, the Proprietor, Donald D. Williams; Miss Wells, Mrs. Philip Dunbar; Mr. Jackson, Austin W. Fisher. The scene in the florist's shop made a very pretty setting with the profusion of flowers and all the usual appurtenances. Mrs. Fisher's portrayal of the Bookkeeper, who had every eye to business, was realistic and her efforts to bring the couple engaged for fifteen years to the crisis of getting married were full of life and kept the audience in a state of laughter. The program committee and the actors are to be congratulated upon an altogether successful performance. The plays were given both afternoon and evening to accommodate all who wished to see them. In the afternoon music was furnished by the Salandri Trio and the evening by the Colonial Orchestra, which also played for dancing after the plays. Refreshments were served both afternoon and evening. Miss Mary A. Winn, of Emerson College of Oratory, was the coach.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church was held at the church on Wednesday. The morning was taken up with Red Cross work for China, and for the local Welfare Bureau.

An attractive luncheon was served at noon followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, Miss Abby Miller; Vice Presidents, Mrs. E. K. Titus, Mrs. G. B. Auryansen, Mrs. H. Belden Sly; Recording Secretary, Mrs. R. W. Leland, Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Herbert R. Gibbs; Treasurer, Mrs. E. Brewer Eddy; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. W. C. Boyden; Auditor, Mrs. E. S. Woodbury; Chairman of the Housekeeping Committee, Mrs. A. E. Vose; of the Work Committee, Mrs. D. P. Jewett; Luncheon Committee, Mrs. A. H. Decatur; Publicity, Miss Julia A. Butler. The Treasurer's report showed that $3,000 had been spent during the year in missionary activities, $1,000 of which supported a missionary in Turkey, and $504 went for Home Missionary work.

Great praise is due the President, Miss Abby Miller, whose enthusiastic and untiring efforts have been a source of inspiration to all associated with her during the past two years. The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Lillian Pickens, who spent five and one half years in India. Miss Pickens said that when she thought of America, she thought of light, education, physical, and spiritual. A great part of India is, however, still in darkness.

The problem in India is greatly complicated by the 13 languages with their 137 dialects, 8 principal religions, and 2,000 castes. England has done much for India, but approximately one half of India is governed by virtually independent principalities. In a population of 320,000,000 only 6 per cent are literate, and only 1 per cent of the women.

Miss Pickens' work was in a region 250 miles from Bombay. She with only one assistant were responsible for a district of 1,200,000 people where there was only one hospital. She told pitiful tales of the coming of the people for medical help, and also of their crying need of schools. Although it costs but $110 a year to support a village school, England is unable to provide nearly enough schools.

But even more than schools the country needs God, and is seeking Him in tears and suffering. Brahmin temples were constantly offered Miss Pickens as places in which to show her pictures of the life of Christ and tell of His message. In one such temple, where according to their religion the presence of a woman defiles the temple, 400 men gathered in one night to hear the gospel, and 500 the second night, while as many women were outside.

At the conclusion of Miss Pickens' speech pledges were taken for next year. Nearly $2,000 was pledged on the spot, and $50 was pledged for the suffering children of Europe. It was

PILGRIM SERVICE AT TRINITY CHURCH

Last Sunday evening a Pilgrim Anniversary Service, commemorating the 300 anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, was held at Trinity Church, Newton Centre.

The first speaker was Dr. James L. Barton, who delivered in part, the address he made in Plymouth, in the Church of the Pilgrims, the Sunday before. Dr. Barton emphasized the study of the Bible on the part of the Pilgrims. In the Bible they sought authority for their form of government. This "discovery" of the spirit of democracy was of more significance than the Declaration of Independence. The Mayflower Compact created a body politic which recognized Almighty God. The Declaration of Independence and the Constitution were its natural successors. "The Pilgrims stood for liberty under law."

According to Dr. Barton, it was of special significance that the entire English speaking world has united in honoring the Pilgrims at this time. "By honoring high principles in others we make them our own. Our praise, is however, valueless, unless we, as their successors, assume the responsibility of handing on their principles. We are passing through a period of Nationalism to one of sweeping Internationalism. It is for us to do our part in this movement."

Judge Raymond then read the poem delivered by Dean Briggs of Harvard University at Plymouth. This poem represented the lonely Pilgrim 300 years ago praying to his God. It concluded with a word of warning as to conditions at the present time in our nation, and called upon the nation to listen to the Pilgrim's prayer as found in the conscience of the land.

Following Judge Raymond, Mayor Edwin O. Childs delivered in part the address made by Governor Coolidge at the recent celebration. Among the striking statements of the address were the following: "Measured by the standards of their time, the Pilgrims were of the humblest; measured by the standard of their achievement, among the mightiest. No like body has ever had so great an influence upon civilization. Plymouth marks a revelation of that which is without beginning or end—of a purpose and a response."

In conclusion, Mr. Samuel B. Paul delivered Mrs. Hemans' poem, "The Breaking Waves Dashed High."

EIGHTH INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF HON. EDWIN O. CHILDS

Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen:

On this first day of the New Year I wish for all who make their home in Newton that 1921 may be a year of prosperity and happiness.

True to an old custom, we who represent the Legislative and Executive Departments of our City Government meet to-day to organize.

I trust that we shall work in harmony in the future as in the past and that together we may work with the people of our City for progress.

Society never makes any real advances unless we all go along. Let us work, therefore, for the welfare of the whole City and of all the people.

Ungrateful I would be, should I not express, at this time, my appreciation and thanks to the members of last year's Board of Aldermen for their co-operation; also to the various Boards and Commissions, to the Heads of Departments, the clerks in City Hall, and to all the employees of the City of whatever name or rank, for their many kindnesses and for the help which they have given me. To the retiring members of the Board I express my gratitude for their long and faithful service.

I am grateful also for the desire to be of service to the community which has prompted you, who for the first time take up the duties of public servants. As fellow-servants I gladly welcome you to our common task. I shall be glad to confer at any time with the members of this Board or with any of our citizens in regard to City matters, and I shall strive, as in the past, never to encroach upon legislative authority. That is forbidden by the charter. If I should seem to do so even in the slightest degree I trust that you will be quick to call my attention to the fact and correct me.

In these confused and chaotic times in which we are living, when there is much fog in men's thinking, it is difficult to say just what new work, if any, ought to be undertaken the coming year.

There are still many projects "on the table," so to speak, of which no disposition has been made. A perusal of my previous addresses will refresh your recollection.

For the present, however, and until there is stability and we get back more nearly to normal conditions in the business world, I suggest that we confine our attention to the great problem of properly maintaining what we already have.

A new fire station at Auburndale for which plans are at present being prepared, ought to be built if conditions warrant it the present year. That improvement, long needed, is the only big work which I now recommend.

There is little on the programme for the future development of our City which cannot be postponed to a more convenient season.

Were it not for the fact that there are several new faces in this Board, I should be strongly tempted to end my remarks right here, but for the sake of the new members who may be interested in the condition of our City and what has been accomplished during the past year, I am going to ask the older members of the Board to bear with me for a short time.

Two innovations, the influence of which will be far reaching, were introduced in this City last year.

Woman has been given the ballot and she has used it and the observance of Sunday has been somewhat changed.

The entrance of women into politics will doubtless make parties weaker and public questions stronger. Their influence will be thrown upon the side of right. We welcome them as co-workers in government.

The Golf Bill, sometimes called the Baseball and Sunday Sports Bill, was accepted by the Board of Aldermen and that action was approved and the bill adopted by the voters in December.

During the debates in this Chamber it was urged as ground for the adoption of the bill that it would benefit the boys of Nonantum and Upper Falls. May I call your attention in this connection to an important fact. Ninety per cent of all men, women, and children in these two sections of our City attend church on Sunday. All the family goes. The non-church goer is unique. They may be safely trusted there with Sunday sports from 2.00 to 6.00 P. M.

I commend to the people of every village of this City that same habit of worship. We do not want a Puritan Sunday. Public worship, however, deserves the loyal support of every good citizen, and it must have it if this is to remain the land of the free and the home of the brave.

The church generates the influence which makes our citizenship. The clergyman, therefore, deserves more whole-hearted support than he now gets in many places.

Early in the year the local post of the American Legion was housed in quarters prepared for it next to City Hall. This organization has had a prosperous year doing quietly what it was organized to do. Its members have at all times been ready to serve the City, and some of them are occupying important positions in the various municipal departments and on important Boards.

Company A of the State Guard was mustered out of service November 29th, 1920. Captain Crowell, who commanded the Company during the strike in Boston, having been discharged, in December, 1919, was succeeded by Captains MacClellan and Perry.

A Veteran Association known as "A Company Associates" was organized in January of last year with Major John C. deMille as Commander.

Company H, 101st Regiment, was mustered into the service on November 8th, 1920, with John A. MacClellan, Captain, Thomas Hickey, First Lieutenant, and George Henrikus, Second Lieutenant. This Company is the successor of old C Company of the Fifth Regiment and should at all times receive the support of Newton citizens.

War service buttons were issued by the Commonwealth to all members of the State Guard who had served one year or more, or thirty days during the Boston Police strike, which will ever serve as a reminder of difficult duties splendidly performed. The City as well as the Commonwealth owes a debt of gratitude to A Company.

During the year the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of old C Company, the Claflin Guard, was appropriately celebrated, and the presence of some of the original members added much interest to the affair.

The Constabulary goes out of service one month after peace is declared. In recognition of the splendid service which this organization has rendered the City I recommend that, after conference with the Commander as to just what is best, some token be presented by the City to each member as a reminder of the splendid service which was rendered in trying times and which is thoroughly appreciated.

Post 62 of the Grand Army of the Republic, growing fewer in number but more keen in patriotic spirit as the days go by, installs new officers the coming week and commences another year of service in this City as inspirers of our youth.

Thomas Burnett Camp of Spanish War Veterans is making a special effort to make the organization stronger. I trust that every veteran of that war in this City will unite with the new officers of the Camp who take office the coming week to this end.

Governor Coolidge in the Spring appointed Mr. Bishop, our City Solicitor, a Justice of the Superior Court. Since Mr. Slocum's death he had served in that capacity giving the City much time, the advantages of his experience in legal and legislative affairs, his knowledge of the law, his good judgment and his tact. The gain to the Massachusetts judiciary is Newton's loss. I immediately appointed as his successor Mr. Joseph W. Bartlett, one who had served satisfactorily in this Board, a sound lawyer well qualified to undertake the work. Already he has rendered most valuable service and has proved the right man in the right place.

Late in the fall, Lieutenant Edward P. O'Halloran, Chief Inspector in the Police Department, resigned, having accepted a most responsible position in detective service under private management. Lieutenant O'Halloran served the City for many years, and he carries with him to his new field of endeavor the best wishes of his many friends.

The City has also lost the services of three capable clerks, who had served in the Street and Assessors' Departments faithfully.

Miss Olive Bourne served in the Forestry Division and resigned to enter a business concern.

Miss Mary Smith had served the City for many years in the Assessors' Department and was most valuable to the City. It was a serious error of judgment on the part of the Board of Aldermen which resulted in the loss of Miss Smith's services.

Miss White resigned to enter a different field of work.

I believe that during the present year there should be some readjustment of the salaries of clerks in City Hall. At least they should be paid their replacement values. Many of them have been long tested, and their experience is invaluable to the Heads of Departments, our citizens, and the city by whom they are employed.

Whenever a clerk resigns the place has to be filled by one less competent and the City suffers, even though in some cases it has been necessary to pay the new clerks the same salary or even more than was paid to the old one.

The City has lost by death the following employees:

John F. Cotton, for more than twenty-five years a member of the Fire Department and attached to Engine 1; Reter Foley, William Armitage, James Hanney, William Hogan, James Mills, John Norton, and Michael Spellman, faithful for many years in the Water and Street Departments; and Sylvester Z. Burke, for twenty-four years a member of the Police Department.

These men took a keen interest and pride in their particular work and at all times strove to promote the welfare of the City.

The year 1920 was a year of ups and downs. In business, days of prosperity were followed by days of decline. High prices, high wages, optimism and overexpansion reached the peak. Falling prices, unemployment, pessimism, conservatism and retrenchment began to set in.

Depression, as a rule, follows such a period before improvement is noticeable.

How long it will be before the call for increased production is heard and business starts on the up grade, no one can predict with certainty.

Broken law always has its penalty, in economics as well as morals. This we are beginning to appreciate.

The desire for gain has been common to both labor and capital. "More" has been the word on the lips of all since the war ushered in an era of extravagance. Nevertheless, the City has weathered the storm. We have employed only enough people to do the work which was ordered to be done.

The various departments have for the most part functioned properly.

The City is in sound financial condition. A brief summary of the situation is as follows:

Bonds issued during the year 1920.....	$273,000.00
Bonds matured during 1920.....	392,000.00

on Jan. 1st, 1921, was.....	1,090,998.63
Showing an increase during the year of.....	70,623.78
The tax rate for the past year was $27.20, an increase of $7.40 over that of the previous year. The rate compares favorably with that of our sister cities and towns in the Commonwealth.

It has cost more than in previous years to maintain our homes, our churches, our clubs. Why not a city?

Our Board of Assessors has done its duty well. A re-valuation of property in certain sections of our city has been made according to a plan adopted some years ago. What our assessors are aiming at is to so assess property in this City that no one will be over-assessed and no one under assessed. This position taken is creditable and is supported by the law of this Commonwealth relative to the assessment of taxes. According to the law, property both real and personal must be assessed at its fair cash value.

There is an impression abroad quite generally in the community that assessments are called for at a fractional value. That is not the law. It is, as I have stated, at its fair cash value.

Pursuant to that law, our Assessors prepare a full and true list of assessments and are required to make oath that said assessments are made at the "full and fair cash value" of property assessed.

The present Board of Assessors is trying to live up to the oath which the members are required to take, and I for one am old fashioned enough to believe that they ought to do so.

It is just as important that property should not be under-assessed as that it should not be over-assessed, and the present Board in making valuations on new buildings or re-valuations upon old ones has tried to be fair.

In re-valuing old property there has been added only so much as will stand by us when the slump comes and conditions return to normal.

There is little ground for fault finding either in regard to the present tax rate or to re-valuations which have been made.

With prices such as have been maintained for gasoline, clothing, milk, and even ham sandwiches in this Commonwealth, and which the public has paid without a murmur, or with only a faint one, no reasonable person should complain of present-year tax rates. And as to re-valuations, few in the City would sell their property even in normal times for the price at which it is assessed today.

I made that statement at a gathering of three hundred representative citizens not long ago.

After the meeting was over a rich man whom we all respect and whose judgment is sound drew me aside; put his hand on my shoulder and whispered, "You bet your life I wouldn't sell my place for what it is assessed."

And so gentlemen when you hear a man complaining about the tax rate or re-valuations just slip over to the Assessor's office and look up for yourself his assessment. You will find in most cases that the Assessors have erred in making the assessment too low.

I am most happy to state that property owners who have been dissatisfied and who have come over to talk with the Assessors regarding the matter have for the most part gone away satisfied. In some cases adjustments have been made, in others the taxpayer has decided that the Assessors were right. All that we are trying to do is to get the right answer to the problem of assessment of taxes which has always troubled those who have to do with that subject.

The health of the City, with the exception of an outbreak of measles, has been good.

The death rate has been higher than it has been for some time, more of our older residents than usual having died.

The Health Department has recently stopped an outbreak of scarlet fever by getting in touch with an outside Board of Health.

We have had more cases of infantile paralysis than usual, but very little as compared with other places.

The dental clinic has been extended so as to include pupils in the High Schools. This work is most important and splendid results are being obtained. There is no question but that to continue the work properly there will be need in the near future of one full-time man. Quarters for the dental clinic will be changed to a more satisfactory location as soon as some minor matters can be adjusted. The Department has done some good work under the new Bakery Law and has at all times co-operated with the State Board of Health. This means much to all of our people.

The Newton Hospital which stands ready to aid any of our people at any time and which does serve a large number at a time when help is needed most, deserves the support of all citizens.

A new plan has been adopted whereby an attempt will be made to interest everybody in the City in this work.

I commend the plan to every citizen as the best means for solving a difficult problem.

During 1920 a large amount of work has been done by the City in the line of public civic improvement.

This has included street and sidewalk construction and surfacing, sanitary sewers, surface drainage, and water works.

A portion of the expenditures will be returned to the City in the direct levying of betterments.

That portion of Newton known as Oak Hill, located south of Boylston Street, has received a needed share of attention in the way of improvements, not only requested but obviously advisable for more than twenty years. Street and drainage work for which plans long since were made has been completed.

Of the street mileage of some twelve and one-half miles in this district, over 40 per cent has been improved by resurfacing, the latter amount including the paving of Dudley Road and Parker Street with six-inch bituminous macadam constructed by the penetration process with the use of Bermudez asphalt. These two streets comprise nearly one-half of the mileage resurfaced, the balance being constructed of gravel with a blanket coat of tar. The drainage work in this district comprises the building of a permanent system of surface drainage in these streets and the completion of further improvements of the channels of South Meadow and Paul Brooks for over one-half a mile and the construction of new culverts at Dedham and Parker Streets. This latter work of importance not only improves the land in its immediate vicinity but affords opportunity for further betterment in the drainage of the extensive meadows easterly of Parker Street.

The widening of a portion of Walnut Street at Newtonville is now a matter of fact instead of a favorably considered plan, and this start will undoubtedly lead to further extensions of this work as time passes and the value of the improvement is demonstrated. There are many other locations in which similar widenings or relocations can be made, some of which have already been the subject of recommendation besides others which the future will call to the attention of us or our successors.

It has been a growing policy to discourage and discontinue the construction of additional tar concrete sidewalks, of which we have so great a mileage, and build instead improved walks of cement concrete, perhaps better known as granolithic. The first cost of the latter type is now only slightly greater and this small percentage is more than off-set by the more economical maintenance of the cement concrete, to say nothing of its better appearance as compared with the tar concrete, which latter has in the past been used but little outside of eastern New England and is now practically discarded in new construction.

Nine private ways, laid out in accordance with the established policy of the City, have been constructed under the betterment laws, and building lines have been established on each, providing for a ten-foot setback of all new buildings.

The attitude of the city government in authorizing these many improvements of the past year and the obvious spirit of maintaining a high standing of civic improvements for Newton which has always existed, is most commendable and should be fostered and encouraged, in meeting the many new problems of major and minor importance which will be presented as time goes on. In traveling over the length and breadth of these United States one constantly meets people who have lived in Newton, have been here, have friends here, or know of the City by reputation, and it is the universal expression of opinion that this City is one of the most attractive residential cities on this continent. As such we wish to maintain it and to do so the high standard of the past should not be allowed to deteriorate or remain at a standstill, but further encouraged. We want more and more people to come and live here of the type who have done so in the past, and to make them desire to do so we must provide attractions that will advertise the wisdom of locating here. This can well be done by a wise expenditure of all the moneys which can reasonably be afforded for public improvements and such outlay may be counted as a capital investment with the general prosperity of the City as interest. Much can be done in the future. Some things ought to be done. In all of our planning we should put first things first.

Approximately one and one-half miles of main pipe was laid during the year by the Water Department. Although handicapped by lack of men until recently, all petitions received for extensions have been covered. In addition to this, fire lines were installed or extended at four manufacturing plants.

Fortunately the City was not obliged to pay the prevailing abnormal prices for pipe, sufficient having been carried over from previous years. We congratulate the Commissioner on his foresight and wise planning.

At the present time indications point to but little demand for extensions the present year. Opportunity will, therefore, be given to connect a number of short dead ends, set numerous hydrants long desired by the Chief of the Fire Department, care for and renew gates and hydrants, flush thoroughly the main system, locate leaks and improve conditions caused during the past three years by a shortage of men.

The Auxiliary Pumping Station will in all probability be ready for operation in March when with a temporary supply drawn from the Metropolitan system the main Pumping Station can be shut down, thus giving opportunity for long-needed repairs and renewals on engines and boilers.

During the last five years one hundred and seventy-five acres of our water-supply land in Needham has been reforested with white and red pine.

This woodland lacks proper protection from fire. It is planned to locate a small sheet steel structure at some central point, equip it with chemical extinguishers and have the territory patrolled for a portion of the year.

About a mile of wire fence should be built in the future, and the wooden fence and gate at the Highland Avenue entrance should be replaced.

On April 1st, 1921, the Water Debt will be reduced by the retirement of 4 per cent bonds to the amount of $100,000.00.

The Police and Fire Departments which protect life and property in the City have done their work creditably. Eighteen square miles is a big area to cover.

The use of the auto has sounded the call for more traffic officers and to properly patrol the City more police officers are needed. Both of these departments should be properly manned.

Several new men have been appointed in both Departments during the past year, many of whom saw service in the recent war. They are taking up their duties in a spirit of loyalty to the City and with a keen interest in their work.

The voters decided at the last election to give the Police officers one day off in eight.

The two-platoon system for the Fire Department was defeated largely on account of the added expense. Where this system has been adopted improvement has been noted both from the standpoint of the men and service to the City.

By adding a few more men to the Department an arrangement might be made whereby there would be a sufficient number of men at each fire station at all times, especially at meal hours, and during days of consecutive duty each man might have one night off.

This might well be considered as a substitute for the two-

NEWTON CLUB

The New Year was celebrated at the Newton Club by one of the most enjoyable parties of the season. A formal dance with many unique features was well attended and much enjoyed by those present.

The music was furnished by an orchestra that played just the right kind of music to add joy to the occasion. The matrons were Mrs. Edgar S. Barker, Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Donald E. Rust.

The Grand March was led by Mr. Fred Mann and Miss Mann followed by a grand right and left. Gaily colored paper caps were worn by the dancers. One dance was a Lucky Dance in which numbers were drawn and the last couple on the floor was awarded prizes. These were won by Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, Ballou, favors and a Ladies' Choice added to the gaiety and joy of the occasion. At twelve o'clock the dancers were given pop guns and streamers resulting in a noisy and colorful celebration.

At 10.30 a light supper was served in the dining room and punch was served all the evening.

On Thursday there was the usual New Year's night dinner followed by bowling and dancing.

Tomorrow night will be Men's Night.

On Wednesday, January 12th at 8.30 p. m. there will be an informal bridge party, and on Thursday, January 13th, the usual dinner dance.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

On New Year's morning, at Bullough's Pond, the school hockey team was defeated by the alumnae, 10 to 0. This is by no means a serious defeat when we consider the "star" players on the alumnae team. They were, Eaton, Owen, Scott, Forte, Davis, and Mohor. On last Monday morning the school team defeated Amherst College, 5 to 0. The team was to play Malden at Malden on Tuesday on account of the condition of the ice the game had to be postponed until the weather permits. On next Saturday morning the annual game with Boston College High School will take place at Bullough's Pond.

The students of the school have learned with the deepest regret that Robert Barrett, a member of the senior class and vice-president of the Boys Debating Club, died recently at his home on Washington Park, from pneumonia.

At the meeting of the Boys' Debating Club on next Monday, tickets for the dance and entertainment, which is to be held two weeks from the time of the meeting, will be distributed to the members. The chairman of the office of vice-president will be nominated and then voted upon by the members.

On Wednesday afternoon about 75 students reported for track practice. Some of the most promising candidates are: "Bob" Garrity and "Al" Richards, both 300 men; Clauson, 300 man; Cunningham, high jump and hurdles; and Blodgett, shot put. The captain will be elected on next Monday. Both Clauson and Garrity are likely candidates for the office.

NEW YEAR'S PARTY

A very pretty masquerade and dance was held at Odd Fellows' Hall, New Year's Eve, by The Get-together Club of the Bachrach Finishing Department, Newton. There were about fifty couples present and the costumes represented many nations and types, giving attractive coloring to the party.

The prizes awarded for the best costumes were as follows: Mrs. Xenia Fleming, best lady's, a harum costume of bright yellow and blue silk. Mr. Alfred Willis, best gentleman's, brown velvet Spanish costume. Mrs. Isabel Dixon, funniest gentleman's Scotch kiltie with a large nose. Miss Marguerite Wombolt, funniest lady's, a little colonial lady.

A few minutes before twelve, noise making favors were given out, and a most successful year for The House of Bachrach was welcomed in with loud applause.

MONDAY EVENING CLUB

The regular meeting of the Monday Evening Club was held at the home of Mr. J. Wesley Barber, 66 Summit street, on Jan. 3rd. Mr. D. Fletcher Barber had the paper of the evening, his subject being "Locks." Mr. Barber traced the history of locks from the early days of 1400 B. C. down to the present time. He traced their development from the early wooden lock found among the ruins of Nineveh which was operated by a key as large as a man could carry, down through the wrought and cast iron types which were used in the early days in this country, then a pin tumbler lock which Linus Yale invented around 1850 which plan he secured from the early Egyptian locks, and finally the present day master and emergency key locks which are most intricate.

BOY SCOUTS

New Troop Organized

Under the leadership of Mr. Wm. O. Holman, Manual Art Instructor of the Stearns School, a new troop of Boy Scouts has been organized. Already twelve boys have passed their Tenderfoot tests and are studying to pass the Second Class tests. Mr. Holman feels certain that this troop will soon attain its full strength of thirty-two, and will develop into one of the best in the City of Newton. It might be called "League of Nations Troop," for in the twelve tenderfoot tests, he has learned there are several different boys of different nationalities, American born, but with parents from other countries. These boys are the future American citizens and Scouting will give them a keener appreciation of their opportunities in this land. It will develop in them good citizenship, and build up fine character.

This troop has a fine group of men as its Troop Committee, and we are assured that they will oversee the development of the troop and see that it has every opportunity to become one of the best in Newton.

REMARKABLE PERFORMANCES

Last week Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Allen Hubbard on Montvale Road, and again on Monday evening at the Methodist church, the people of Newton and vicinity had an opportunity of hearing really remarkable performances by Coe Pettit, a 17-year-old boy from Mason City, Iowa, who played by ear the compositions of Schubert, Chopin, etc. The boy first came to the attention of Dr. Wagner in the town in which he was then pastor, and it was largely due to his efforts that he was sent to Chicago where he has been studying. His playing has developed in technique and maturity in an astonishing manner.

During the war he played for the soldiers, music which especially appealed to them.

Last Monday the church was filled to overflowing. The player received encore after encore. As one of the encores he played a composition of his own which pictured the structure of his own life. The composition was largely in minor vein with a ray of light running through it.

NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK

Excellent Suggestions for Each Day of the Week of January 17-24 Presented by Y. M. C. A.

On January 17th, 1706, in Boston, a child was born of sturdy New England stock, who was destined to tower above ordinary mortals of his era, and to become not only one of the greatest of Americans, but one of the supermen of all times.

Because Benjamin Franklin showed us how to be thrifty, the week of January 17th, his birthday, has been set aside as National Thrift Week, and will be observed throughout the United States in the following manner:

Monday, January 17th, as Bank Day. Put your money in the bank. Money is meant to circulate, to grow, and promote progress. For that reason, the man who puts his money where it will do no good is not only cheating himself, he is cheating his community. The dollars that are neither increasing through wise investment, or bringing help through giving or helping the individual through bringing intelligent enjoyment to his life, are one and all just plain slackers. They've got no business to be idle when there is so much work to do in the world. Banks are good money employment bureaus. Use them.

Tuesday, Jan. 18th, set aside as Budget Day.

Intelligence spending is the first big principle in Thrift. "But how does a fellow know exactly how much to spend?" One poor spendthrift cries, "Money just goes before I know it." There's one remedy for it. Make it tell you where it is going before it leaves your wallet and then if it isn't a wise trip it's planning, put your foot down and say, "You stay at home today." Progressive business houses use the budget system. Individuals can too. Start today.

Wednesday, Jan. 19th, National Life Insurance Day.

January 19th is National Life Insurance Day—a good time for you to think about the future of your loved ones.

Thursday, Jan. 20th, as Own Your Own Home Day.

It is the ship that is well anchored that can withstand the turbulent tides. It is the man whose heart is anchored to home and loved ones who is not swept away on the tides of Anarchism and Radicalism. Owning your own home is a good investment. It saves renters' troubles and exorbitant rents, but it also enlarges a man's scope of service to the Community in which he lives.

Friday, Jan. 21st, Make a Will Day. There are certain state laws which govern the division of a man's property, who dies without making a will. Every man who owns property should make a will so that his property will be divided among his heirs according to his wishes.

Saturday, Jan. 22nd, Pay Your Bills Promptly Day. Are you one of the "Some Day" guys? The guy who tells you vaguely he is going to pay you some day. This habit of putting off paying your bills reacts to a man's disadvantage quicker than most anything else in the world. You are your own worst enemy if you are a "Some Day" guy. Join the Pay Your Bills Promptly Club. Start by paying your bills today.

READ FUND LECTURE

Prof. Baker Speaks on the Pilgrims at Hunnewell Club Hall

Professor George T. Baker of Harvard University spoke Monday night at the Hunnewell Club under the auspices of the Read Fund on "The Pilgrims and Their Ideals."

Professor Baker who has recently been in Holland studying the Pilgrim Fathers in preparation for a Pageant to be given in Plymouth next summer, said that he had come to know more about the Pilgrims as human beings than ever before.

He paid a very high tribute to their character and ability in overcoming the difficulties of establishing themselves in a new country, of putting down internal disturbances, and dealing so fairly with the Indians that from 1640 until King Philips War there was no trouble. One of the secrets of their success lay in their leaders of whom the three greatest were Brewster, Robinson, and Bradford.

Brewster had the advantage of being in his younger days, secretary to one of the greatest diplomats of the period, and of visiting Holland with him, as well as the courts of Scotland and England. It was doubtless due to his advice and influence that the Pilgrims were able to reach Holland in spite of strict laws forbidding their going. Tradition speaks of him (Continued on Page 7)

THORNTON-CADY

One of the most brilliant weddings of the season took place on Saturday night when Miss Abbie Alice Cady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dean Cady of Clyde street, Newtonville, became the bride of Mr. Raymond Edward Thornton of Newtonville, a lieutenant in the air service during the war. The ceremony took place in the Universalist Church, the Rev. Albert Hammatt of Springfield, and Dr. Arthur M. Aucock of Providence officiating.

The bride was dressed in white satin trimmed with old Duchess lace, court train, and veil of white net with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white bridal roses. The maid of honor, Miss Helen A. Cady, sister of the bride, wore a gown of orchid silk with turquoise blue tulle overdress, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Alice Anthony, a cousin of the bride from Providence, Miss Helen Anthony and Miss Mary Kimball, college mates of the bride who graduated from Smith College in 1919, and Miss Virginia W. Hazard of Providence, R. I. Two of the bridesmaids wore changeable orchid and silver chiffon taffeta. All carried bouquets of pink roses.

The best man was Mr. William A. Walker, of Providence, and the ushers were Messrs. George H. Wild, Earle S. Day, and Maurice H. Deering of Providence, and Mr. C. Raymond Cabot, of Newtonville.

The church was tastefully decorated with green ferns, palms, etc., and the music was played by Mr. Albert L. Walker, the organist.

A reception at the house which was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, English ivy, and cut flowers followed the ceremony at the church, the bride and groom being assisted by the bride's parents, the mother of the groom, and the maid of honor.

After January 25th, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton will reside at 37 Clyde street, Newtonville.

FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS

Hundreds of persons attended the annual Festival of Lights at Trinity Church at Newton Centre, Sunday night. The Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, the rector, gave an address and appropriate musical selections were sung.

As a part of the service, the church was darkened, bringing into prominence a large illuminated star. The Three Wise Men of the East entered, in appropriate costume, and, after the service and the benediction, the rector took a large candle from the altar and lit the candles held by the Wise Men. They in turn lighted the candles held by the choristers in each stall and then marched down the aisle, lighting the candles held by the persons at the end of each pew, they in turn lighting those of their neighbors, until each person in the church held a lighted candle.

Then the choir marched around the church, singing an appropriate hymn, and the congregation filed from the edifice carrying the lighted tapers, each striving to protect the flame and to carry the light into the darkness as far as possible. In former years lighted tapers have been carried in this way as far as Lynn by people who came to the service in automobiles.

The custom is one that has come down from the ages and its significance is that of receiving and imparting the light of the spirit. Each receives the light and imparts it to his neighbor.

DEATH OF ENSIGN M'ILLAN

Ensign William I. McMillan of the U. S. S. "Halcyon" died last Sunday at the home of his parents, Captain and Mrs. William McMillan of 63 Royce Road, Newtonville, in his 27th year.

He was born in Winthrop and was a graduate of the Winthrop High School.
After leaving school, he was a pilot in Boston Harbor. A few months before America entered the World War, he entered the Naval Service at Boston, and rose to the grade of Ensign.

He has lived in Newtonville about four years, and was a member of Newton Post A. L.

Besides his parents, he leaves a sister, Miss Alice McMillan, and a brother, Mr. Walter McMillan. About two years ago, Ensign McMillan had an attack of pneumonia and influenza, and had been in failing health since that time.

Services were held at his late residence on Wednesday, the Rev. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity Church officiating. Representatives from the "Halcyon" were present, and military form of service observed. The burial was at Mt. Auburn.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Horace Mann

Grade VIII has started a new spelling record in their room. The class has been divided into two parts, one side is called the "Blues" and the other team the "Reds." Each side is striving for 100 per cent each day and the one who has gained the largest number of 100 per cent will win.

On Thursday, January 6th, a Class meeting was held in Grade VIII and "Work for Perfection" was chosen as a class motto. Blue and gold were selected for class colors.

We are all very much pleased this month to add five new names to our Honor Roll. The pupils on the Honor Roll for this month are as follows:
Leonice Bellamy, Adelaide Colwell, Thelma Coombs, Thomas Gilligan, Hope Hanly, Lois Harwood, and Helen Spencer.

Stearns School

The members of the eighth grade thoroughly enjoyed the visit to the Peabody and Agassiz Museums, connected with Harvard University, last Friday. The class was fortunate in being offered the services of a guide, Leonice Bellamy, who explained every detail concerning the customs and life of the early inhabitants of the earth, especially those of North America. Most of the afternoon was spent in the geographical rooms where the objects for observation were easily understood.
The beautiful headress of the North American Indians, their wonderful beads, necklaces, tomahawks, etc., were very carefully observed by the children. They often stood amazed at the guide explained the Indian ideas and objects in doing certain things which seemed so unnecessary and almost humorous. Some time was spent in the Agassiz but very little detail was given because of the intricate chemical processes of preservation which were so evident throughout this museum.

Mr. Winslow has offered a prize to the boy or girl who writes the best composition on the visit to the museum.

The candidates for the hockey team met yesterday. A strong school team is planned and, from the enthusiasm of the boys, one worthy of Stearns.

John McCarthy has been elected president of the eighth grade in place of William Eckstrom who has left school.

The little room over the office is being painted and fixed up in other ways for a "steamer class." Sixteen or eighteen children who have arrived from Italy since September will be taught there. Miss Edna Parker of Waltham, has been engaged to take charge of the work.

"Children's Hour" was the source of entertainment enjoyed by the Mother's Club at the Stearns School Centre, on Monday, January 10th.
Recitations, songs, interpretative dancing, and piano solos by the sons and daughters of the members comprised the program.

A group of 7th grade children, who were coached by Miss Jane Stoddard presented the "Ruggles" play in a very pleasing manner.

Cake and ice cream were served by the social committee, who had charge of the arrangements. This committee included Mrs. H. F. Langill, Mrs. Andrew MacLachlan, Mrs. Frank Casey, and Mrs. John Muse.

Fessenden School

The school opened its winter session on the sixth of January, in quite a different manner, however, from that in which it opened last year. Last year, at this time, the school was a veritable mound of snow, while this year, when we arrived, none was to be seen. Some has been discovered since then, however, and has been deposited on a presented hill, where coasting is fairly good.

The first beginners' dancing class was held on Wednesday. The advanced class will start the coming Saturday. On the 29th, two weeks from Saturday, will be held the annual quadrant, and shortly after will come the senior dance. Both of these events are looked forward to with interest and promise to be very successful.

One of our musically (?) inclined students started the idea of a jazz band, which met with the approval of the entire school—until the practicing began. This organization really has good intentions, nevertheless, and hopes to give us a concert sometime in the future.

Another enterprising member of the school has started a chess tournament, which promises to be an interesting event. So far, two contestants have joined the tournament, and are fighting a long drawn-out battle for the temporary championship.

The school dramatic club, under the direction of Mr. Stevens, who has had direction of dramatics in the school for several years, is working on a presentation of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" to be given sometime this term.

BURTON HOLMES LECTURE

Burton Holmes, in his third Photo-Story of the present season, will take his fellow-travelers to those lands of enchantment which he has grouped together under the comprehensive title of "The Garden of Allah." Mr.
Holmes and his pictures, not only take you into the desert and to the wonderfully beautiful oases, but also transport you along the Barbary Coast, replete with memories of the Corsairs, to the cities of Algiers and Tunis, Constantine, Timagad, Biskra, Targu, modern Carthage and Kairua-n, finally concluding his journey, through what might be called the Mohammedan Mediterranean country, to Egypt, there to get a few delightful glimpses of Cairo, the Sphinx, the Pyramids and other scenes of perennial-touristic interest as they looked this last summer.

Next Friday evening in Symphony Hall, Mr. Holmes will give "The Garden of Allah" and will repeat the Photo-Story at a matinee on Saturday, Jan. 22nd.

DEATH OF MR. HANSCOM

Mr. Edwin Chapin Hanscom, who died very suddenly at his home in Newton Highlands, Mass., on Wednesday, January the fifth, was born in Elliot, Me., Sept. 22, 1846.

Mr. Hanscom had been ill for a few days, with influenza, but the immediate cause of his death was the forming of a clot of blood on the brain.
His wife was a self-made man, his father dying when Edwin was a boy, leaving his mother with a family of six or seven young children to bring up and educate.

He attended the public schools of Elliot, and for a time was a pupil at old Elliot Academy, but early in life he started out to earn a livelihood, working in Portland, Maine, and Cambridge, Mass.

For about fifty (50) years, he was connected with the "Gamewell Fire Alarm" Manufactory, situated at Newton Upper Falls, occupying at one time, the Superintendency of that plant.

He retired from active business three or four years ago, but doing a little in real estate, till the time of his death. Mr. Hanscom was an Odd Fellow.

Mr. Hanscom married in early life
Miss Clara Dixon of Kittery, Maine, daughter of Capt. Dixon of the Civil War, by whom he had two sons, and one daughter, the latter dying in infancy.

Clarence, the eldest, of Brookline,
Mass., is of the firm of Delano, Potter & Co., of Boston, and Arthur, of Newtonville, has been connected with the same firm for several years. When Mr. Hanscom's two sons were very young their mother died.

Mr. Edwin Hanscom married second July 6, 1912, Miss Mary Wallace Janvrin, of Newton Highlands, Mass., daughter of Jonathan W. Janvrin and wife, Mary F. (Brown) Janvrin, of Amesbury, Mass., who survives him.
One brother alone remains of his family, Albert Hanscom of Newcaste, N. H., whose death from an incurable disease has been anticipated for four or five years.

Only two weeks ago Mr. Hanscom had followed his brother, Waldo Hanscom of Kittery, to the grave.

Mr. Edwin C. Hanscom was a man of sterling worth, and high moral character, a man who will be sadly missed by his family, his relatives, (to whom he was very loyal) and the church and community where he had long been identified.

His remains were taken to Elliot,
Me., on Saturday.

COMMUNITY SUPPER

The Community Supper given Saturday evening by the ladies of the Service League of Grace Church Parish in the parish house, was one of the most successful entertainments of the season.

The same care as to details was observed as if the supper were given in a private home, and many were the comments on the charming setting of the tables, and the decorations. Over 225 people partook of the delicious supper, and many more who could not obtain places at the tables came in afterwards for the dancing. Johnson's orchestra furnished the music.

A group of high-school girls, costumed alike, under the able leadership of Mrs. E. P. Brown, acted as waitresses. The committee in charge were Mrs. Fred H. Loveland, Mrs. Sydney
Harwood, Mrs. Charles F. Painter, Mrs. S. W. Bridges, Mrs. Howard Norton, and Miss Todd.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The first two weeks of every General Court are always occupied with the receipt of a large number of petitions and bills and the sessions are short and uneventful.

The decision of the Supreme Court that Methuen was not legally incorporated as a city caused a little flurry and a bill was rushed thru this week to revive the town government and legalize what has been done during the past two years in that community.

The Massachusetts Electoral College met this week and cast its 18 votes for Warren G. Harding for president and for Calvin Coolidge for vice president. The College took most fitting action in selecting Mr. Frank W. Stearns of this city as the messenger to carry the vote to Washington. Mr. Stearns is largely responsible for the nomination of Mr. Coolidge for vice president and has been a big factor in Mr. Coolidge's political career since he was a member of the state senate.

WEST NEWTON MEN'S CLUB

The January meeting of the West Newton Men's Club was held Tuesday evening at the Second Church and well over a hundred men sat down to an excellent supper at 6.30.

An unusual feature of the evening was the introduction by the president, Mr. Stephen H. Whidden of a half dozen ladies from the West Newton Music School. The boys all played violins and under the leadership of Mr. Paul C. Scarborough at the piano played a number of selections remarkably well and showed that their training in the music school must have been of a high character.

If the community could only realize what good work this school is doing, as shown by this exhibition, there would be no doubt but what the $2,500 deficit in its expenses would be easily met.

The boys who took part were Joseph Fennelly, Harold MacNeil, Francis Parker, Leby Caruso, Charles Lafie and Olan Helgeson.

The address of the evening was given by Mr. H. Akagi, a native of Japan, who spoke on the so-called Japanese problem. Mr. Akagi held the closest attention for over an hour and impressed all with his apparent fairness, convincing logic and fluency. His facts and figures seemed to indicate that there was nothing to the cry of the "yellow peril" and that it was political propaganda pure and simple.

THE HUNNEWELL CLUB

The Ladies' and Gentlemen's Bridge held at the Club on Tuesday night was a unique affair. Each lady brought a prize for a gentleman, and each gentleman one for a lady. These were then numbered according to their size, the best score receiving the largest prize, etc. The first prize was won by Mrs. Goldwin Sprague, and the second by Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson. Great fun and much laughter was caused by Mr. Goldwin Sprague's dressing up as a colored woman and demanding money for washing which she (?) alleged to have done. The matter was eventually settled by allowing her to give out the prizes.

Saturday will be a regular club night.

On Tuesday, January 18th, there will be an Old-Fashioned Country Dance. Both old and new dances will be danced, and everybody is asked to come in costume. There will be prizes for the best costumes.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB

The Highland Glee Club of Newton gave its first concert of the season in Bray Hall Wednesday night under the new director, Mr. A. Vincent Bennett. Judging from the enthusiasm of well filled Bray Hall, the concert, as usual, are receiving the splendid support of its patrons.

The program consisted of "Adoramus Te" by Palestrina and "Cantata Domino" by Hassler both typical of the old church music of the Fifteenth Century. "Three for Jack," a rollicking sea song, was given with verve, and to all appearances was enjoyed quite as much by the singers themselves as the audience. "Love," by Schiller, unaccompanied, was in fitting contrast.

"Exhortation," a humorous number by Cook, was in the program by request, having been done by Mr. Dadmun here two years ago. The negro sermon was delivered by Mr. Dadmun with such great fervor that the audience insisted that it be repeated in the second half of the program. It is quite apparent that this number will always be a great favorite when we hear Mr. Dadmun again at the Club.

After a brief intermission, Part Two was opened with "The Hunter's Farewell," by Mendelssohn, which is being programmed by many of the leading clubs in the country this year. It was done effectively. This, in turn, was followed by "The Cossack" by MacDowell, unaccompanied. The folk songs—English, French and Russian—were considered by many the most interesting group of the entire evening.

The program was ended by a masterful rendition of "Drake's Drum" by Coleridge-Taylor.

The soloist of the evening, Mr. Royall Dadmun, is not new to the Associates of the Highland Glee Club, as he appeared with them two years ago. It was indeed a treat to hear so eminent an artist under such intimate surroundings. His program was well chosen, consisting of two groups, and the selections showed to excellent advantage his unusual interpretative ability.

The "Hunger Song" by Cul, a most graphic picture of the starving Russian peasant, was unusual in its excellence. "Musette," an old French folk song, was in keeping with the program, and showed to very good advantage the beauty of Mr. Dadmun's high register.

"Trade Winds" and "Port of Many Shells," two songs from "Salt Water Ballads" by Frederick Keel, were rendered with consummate art—the former a beautiful sea picture, and the latter a typical narrative that fairly savored of salt breezes.

"Travelin' to de Grave," a negro spiritual by Reddick, is being presented for the first time by Mr. Dadmun. This was endorsed by "Didn't it Rain" and "Hard Trials" by Burleigh.

It has been said that Mr. Dadmun is the greatest exponent of negro spirituals, which are the only traditional folk songs to which America can lay claim.

Mr. A. Vincent Bennett is a newcomer to Boston. He is a young man of promise, as was indicated by the mastery with which he conducted the program.

Mr. Bennett studied at North Western University. He was one of the chaplains in the First Division, A. E. F., and is now organist at Union Church, Boston. He directed last night's program with authority and precision. The Highland Glee Club is indeed fortunate to have so able and magnetic a conductor as Mr. Bennett.

The City of Newton and its environs are to be congratulated in having a male organization of the calibre of the Highland Glee Club. Its two concerts given during the winter season, supported by an associate membership of two hundred, should be encouraged. Their endeavor to give a program of interest and educational value and to present to its audiences soloists of the highest type, has already been exemplified. Under such capable leadership, it is to be expected that the club will attract the very best of the male singers in this section.

KNOW MONEY BY PICTURES

How Those Who Handle Many Bills Find It Comparatively Easy to Tell Bad Ones.

It is a comparatively easy matter to become an expert in the quick handling of money and also to detect bills that have been raised, according to those who have tried. A large proportion of the bills now in circulation are federal reserve notes. Those in common use have identification characteristics, in addition to the numerals, easy to memorize.

Cashiers who handle large and small bills rapidly usually memorize the portrait on the bills, which are large enough to be unmistakable as the major mark of identification, with the numerals as the minor aid. The two combined are well-nigh infallible, save in the case of clever counterfeiters.

As the raising of bills is accomplished with the numerals, familiarity with the portraits, and comparison, will verify the proper denomination of the bills. The portraits on the federal reserve bills in everyday use are as follows:

One-dollar notes, portrait of George Washington.

Two-dollar notes, portrait of Thomas Jefferson.

Five-dollar notes, portrait of Abraham Lincoln.

Ten-dollar notes, portrait of Andrew Jackson.

Twenty-dollar notes, portrait of Grover Cleveland.

Fifty-dollar notes, portrait of U. S. Grant.

Hundred-dollar notes, portrait of Benjamin Franklin.

HAD HAZY IDEA OF FINANCE

Queer Notion Held by Old Wash White Common to Many Investors, According to Lawyer.

At a dinner in New York the other day a prominent lawyer noted for his activities in rounding up investment swindlers told the following good story:

"It's pitiful to see how foolish a great many people are when it comes to a question of finance.

"Old Wash White is a good example of financial foolishness. When Wash's boss got back to the Delta from the North one day, he found the old man driving a fine young mule hitched to a handsome wagon.

"Now, Wash was a notoriously shiftless customer, and so his boss said to him:

"Where did you get that splendid turnout, Washington?"

"Ah done boughten it at Magnolia, sah," said Wash.

"How much did it cost you?"

"Ah done give mah note fo' $200 for it, sah."

"Good gracious," said the boss, "where do you expect to get $200 to meet your note when it falls due?"

"Wash looked astonished and offended.

"'Fo' de Lawd's sake, boss man," he said, "you sholly don' expect me ter give mah note an' pay, too?"

Wasn't Addressing Tramp.

On her way downtown the other morning the woman stopped to see a sick friend, who lives on the first floor of a remodeled private house with a bedroom overlooking a nice old-fashioned back yard. The window was open and suddenly a loud voice broke the calm of the sick-room.

"You dirty bum, that's what you are," said the voice. "Of course you'll be comin' home now for your breakfast—look at you, covered with dirt. It's a bum you are and not a drop of blue blood in you. Quit your whinin' you hungry stayout. Me lookin' and waitin' for you last night and worryin' about you! And now I suppose you want to sleep all day and rest up for another night. You're just like the rest of your kind. It's a bum you are and nothin' else."

The woman leaned out of the open window that she might see the wreck of humanity the tirade had visualized. And there was the comfortably built, immaculately clean fatness letting in her prize-winning Angora cat. Doughboy had come home for breakfast.—New York Sun.

Japan's Sulphur Baths.

At the foot of the volcano Asamayama in Japan there is a combination of hot sulphur and cold mineral springs. The bathing house consists of three or four substantial wooden bathing tanks, into which the hot water flows, and a wooden platform running around the room with cupboards and shelves where the people dress.

Beams laid across the bathing tanks divide them into little squares, a square for each person.

The duration of the time bath is regulated with great precision by the head attendant, and during the bath from 150 to 200 half litre scoops of hot sulphur water are poured over the head of the bather.

Emergency Call.

"We've got lizards in our basement, and I just killed a snake in the front yard. Can't you send some one out right away to kill them?" wailed a voice over the telephone to William F. Cleary, clerk of the board of public works.

It was a woman's voice, or Mr. Cleary would have sent a request to the board of public safety that one of the morals squads be sent out with a suggestion that they might find whatever it was that made people "see snakes." However, he asked the board to send out an ordinary policeman to kill the reptiles.—Indianapolis News.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Plenty of good fellowship, a delightful reunion of many old members and a varied program characterized the celebration of its twentieth anniversary by Channing Alliance in the church parlors on Tuesday.

An informal reception preceded the luncheon, during which Mrs. Harry Lutz, the president, Miss Jessie M. Fisher, Mrs. Isabella Hardon, Mrs. George M. Nash and Mrs. H. L. Simpson, past presidents, received the guests. Invitation cards in rhyme had been sent to present and as many of the past members as could be located, hinting at the festive nature of the occasion, and as a result about ninety sat down to a delicious luncheon served in the church parlor.

The table decorations, which were in charge of Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, were most attractive. Birthday cakes surrounded by lighted candles adorned each of the four long tables. The color scheme was carried out in pale yellow, the color of the National Alliance, in the decorations of the cakes, the tall candles upon each table, in the flowers, the grapefruit and in the candies. The original hymn was sung by the Alliance choir as grace, and after the guests had been seated, a clever adaptation of "Cousin Jedediah," in which many of the names of those present were introduced was also sung by the choir.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Lutz, as toastmistress, called the meeting to order. After another song by the choir, Mrs. Lutz announced a birthday gift to the Alliance of a new baby, the Sunshine Society, which was responded to by Miss Harriet Murray, the chairman, stating that the girls propose to organize in the near future as a Junior Alliance. Then came the treasurer's report, which proved to be a song by Mrs. Harry N. Wilken. This was immediately referred to the Auditor, Miss Maud Henry, who presented an original version of the "Four-and-Twenty Black Birds." Mrs. Edward M. Moore responded to the call for the report of the Sewing Circle and Miss Georgia H. Emery for that of the Post-office Mission, both being in humorous vein.

The Alliance Choir again sang after which Miss Helen L. Wells for the Cheerful Letter gave a Shaker song and dance, which she with several others had given upon the same stage many years ago. Mrs. Henry K. Hobart, who served upon the first Alliance Basket committee, drew from her basket of memories an incident which had forced her into the chair at one of the early meetings.

Then followed The Chronicle presented by Miss Grace M. Burt, in which were set forth many of the brighter and amusing things of the early years, with numerous citations from both the secretary's and treasurer's books. As a supplement to this record living pictures were shown upon the stage. The first, entitled "Some Old War Horses," was a group of members of the first executive board; the next, "The Scribes," a group of most of the secretaries; the third, "At the Receipt of Customs," showed Miss Fisher selling Super tickets; the fourth, "The Aarons and Hurs of Channing Alliance," was a group of some of the earlier vice-presidents. An impromptu picture, "The Church Cooks," was composed of several who frequently haunt the kitchen and whose suppers are always partaken of with great relish. Following these, a moment was given in tribute to the memory of "Those who walk with us no more," a service flag with two large gold stars in special recognition of the two presidents, Mrs. Emma Coffin Stone and Mrs. Anna Leland Bailey, was shown in the frame, while the audience stood and soft music was played by Miss Cohen on the piano.

The Alliance then turned to the "new business," an original poem by Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, on "The Spirit of the Alliance," and a short response by Mrs. Sidney Peterson, to the toast, "The Future of Channing Alliance."

Miss Bertha Langmaid, a director of the national organization, who had been one of the first speakers before Channing Branch, was present as a guest and summed up briefly something of the growth in the parent Alliance in the twenty years. The program closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by the audience.

The affair was arranged by the Program committee for the season, Mrs. John T. Alden being in charge of the luncheon, Miss Hattie Henry of the Music and Miss Grace M. Burt of the after-luncheon exercises.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, was held Thursday evening of this week in Players' Hall, West Newton, which is the temporary home of the church.

The reports of the officers and committees were most gratifying, showing not only a steady gain in membership, the membership now exceeding 300, but showing also a more widespread community interest in Christian Science. The average Sunday attendance has been greatly in excess of the church membership.

The Building Fund of the church has been materially increased during the year, plans for the new structure being under consideration and awaiting more normal building conditions for a final decision.

The benevolences of the church have been generously supported during the year for the purposes directly connected with Christian Science, and for other appealing causes. At the collection last Sunday for the Hoover Fund for Starving Children in Europe, the sum of $511 was raised. It will be recalled that the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston—The Mother Church—has recently contributed $10,000 to this fund.

The annual election of First and Second Readers and an Executive Board of nine, then followed. In each case the former incumbent was re-elected, the two Readers having the compliment of receiving every ballot cast.

The officials elected are as follows: First Reader, Harry I. Hunt; Second Reader, Mrs. William D. Harvey; Executive Board, Miss Helen D. Barker, Mrs. Wm. F. Ferrin, Mrs. Frank H. Plitz, Mr. Theodore P. Grant, Mr. Wm. L. Judkins, Miss Nellie E. Robinson, Mr. Winfield S. Smyth, Mr. Harry F. Stimpson, Mr. Augustus Thurgood.

Mr. Charles F. Towne was the speaker at the Fellowship Club at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening, Jan. 10th. The subject of Mr. Towne's talk was "Immigration." He presented it in a very interesting and instructive manner. Next week at 7 o'clock Mr. Louis E. Smith will speak. Supper at 6.30.

Mr. Henry I. Harriman was elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association at a recent meeting of the directors.

DEATH OF MR. BLAKE

Edmund Mortimer Blake, whose death in Oakland, California, on Wednesday, Jan. 12, is announced, was one of the prominent younger men of the Pacific Coast. He was born in Taunton, Mass., Aug. 13, 1874, the son of Percy M. and Phoebe Sheffield Blake, and was educated in the public schools of Hyde Park, Amherst College, Class of 1897, and Harvard Lawrence-Scientific School, Class of 1899, in each case graduating with honors. Taking up civil engineering, he was employed in the construction of the New York subways, the enlargement of the Portland, Me., water supply, and in his own private practice built the water works at Westford, Hampton Beach, Wareham and Wrentham. He married in 1903, Clara Allen Drake of Cleveland, O., who died in 1907. He then went to Idaho, where he engaged in irrigation and water supply work until 1911, when he returned to Massachusetts and was placed by the State Board of Health in charge of the improvement of the Neponset river meadows. Upon the completion of this important work he entered the employ of Holbrook Cabot and Rollins as superintendent of the construction of the dry dock at South Boston. From there he became the supervisor of sub-contractors for the Abertaw Construction Co. under its contract for building the Victory destroyer plant for the Government at Squantum, and upon its completion in 1918 went to Alameda, California, for the same company to supervise similar work on the large shipyard plant for the Pacific Coast. This work was stopped upon the signing of the armistice and after completing adjustments under the settlement with the Government Mr. Blake joined the Charles R. McCormick Co. of San Francisco, one of the largest firms in the country dealing in Douglas fir and treating with preservative methods railway ties and lumber for marine and wet work. As representative of that company Mr. Blake made many friends among railroad managers in all parts of the country and interested them in the improved methods, and the facilities for shipping, possessed by the McCormick Co. He was the president of the National Association for Railroad Tie Producers, a fine public speaker and writer on technical and popular subjects, and of engaging personality. He was a member of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers, the Harvard Engineering Society and the Idaho State Society of Engineers. He married again in 1909 in Boise, Idaho, Miss Grace Twigg, and leaves a son, Robert Sheffield Blake, eight years old, brother, Philip W. Blake, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Cumberland, Md., two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Highlands of Brookline and Mrs. Frederick A. Tennant of Newtonville.

Newton Community Club

Under the topic of "Buying Happiness," Miss Helen Louise Johnson of New York, gave the Newton Community Club a forceful lecture, in which she pled for the budget as a working basis for the purchase of happiness.

Happiness, as Miss Johnson experiences it, consists in being in harmony with our surroundings, that we may not feel out of place, and a proper adjustment of work and rest. Ninety percent of the people do not think so, the remaining ten percent have to do it for them. If the ten percent do not get the proper food, clothing and shelter and set the right example to the untalented ones, the result is sad. There is no method of learning how to get the proper things unless we teach the budget. She begged her audience not to say so much about the high cost of living, but rather talk in terms of the purchasing power of the dollar.

In discussing the question of clothing, she feels that we have said altogether too much against the way the girls of the present dress. We should rather set them a good example ourselves and make them see how inartistic they are and how absurd they look, and then, she thinks, they will choose differently. Miss Johnson at the club on Wednesday evening in short skirts, silk stockings and pumps with the fur coats bundled up about the neck, to the Catholic Cathedral of New York walking down Broadway on its spires. The three things which we should strive for are: Physical length, intellectual breadth and having those, the third, spiritual depth follows as a natural result.

At the business session Mr. Ball of the Mutual Merchants' Association, told of the plan of that organization whereby its members may purchase directly from the mills with an average saving of 33 1-3 percent. For all memberships in the association, which the club secures through its Home Economics committee, there will be a substantial commission, so that it is possible for the club to realize a considerable amount. The club chorus sang one selection, which was enthusiastically received.

Guest tickets for the Guest Night, January 27, may be obtained either from Miss Walker, the treasurer, or at Hubbard's.

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

It is with regret that the readers of the Federation Bulletin found the announcement in the current issue that this is to be the last. Lack of interest upon the part of the club women is the avowed reason and the attendant difficulty in securing the necessary advertising. Appended to the notice is the statement by the Council of the State Federation that four issues of "The Calendar" will be sent out by them to the subscribers of the Bulletin, thus covering the announcements for the remainder of the season. Thus it is that another woman's club periodical is going by the board. It is a pity that these ventures cannot be placed upon a sound financial basis, but amidst present conditions in the paper and printing industries it is not surprising that the inevitable has happened. One after another of these periodicals has fallen by the way. Just what will be done another year is a matter for speculation, but one thing is sure, that some sort of an organ is absolutely necessary, if the Federation and the work of the committees are to continue doing their work successfully. Another thing is also certain, that such a venture cannot be successful unless it has the backing of the whole Federation. It will never succeed as a private undertaking nor in the extensive form which has been given to this and to the Federation Magazine of late. It would seem that the State Federation will have to undertake the matter itself, since it must get across its notices in some form, and certainly the combined Calendar is the most advantageous way in which to do it. The Executive Board will have to consider it just one more liability to be met as a matter of course.

Congratulations to both Auburndale and Newton Highlands in the promising outlook that their needs for suitable club houses and meeting places is soon to be realized. Attention is called to the account in another column of the prospects at the Highlands.

In "The Country Cousin," a delightful comedy by Booth Tarkington and Julian Street, Miss Grace Sage will appear before the Auburndale Woman's Club at its meeting of Janu-

Between the acts of the reading there will be a "Peddlers' Parade" under the auspices of the Hospitality committee. Mrs. H. A. Perry, chairman. Local Happenings

The Costume Party of the West Newton Women's Educational Club brought out a brilliant display of handsome, unique and sometimes startling and amusing effects. Mrs. Burrisson, Mrs. Dimond and Mrs. Waring appeared in elaborate, old-fashioned silk dresses, with skirts so full that they would make three or four of the present day. Mrs. Cole as a Spanish senorita, Mrs. Holbrook in a beautiful Japanese costume and Mrs. Jennings all a-jingle with tiny bells attracted much attention. Mrs. Reed wore a most becoming orange-colored costume, Mrs. Peck appeared as a little girl in embroidered white muslin with pantalettes, and Mrs. Chipman, as a sun-bonnet girl, while red-crozier uniforms and calico dresses and even the academic cap and gown added variety to the picture. The members taking part in "The Courtship of Miles Standish" in appropriate costumes were Mrs. Munroe as "Elder," Mrs. Dickerman as John Alden, Mrs. Brackett as Priscilla, Mrs. Bacon as Miles Standish and Mrs. Wells as the Indian. Gifts were exchanged and a delightful informal tea followed.

The Home Economics Class of the club held its regular meeting with luncheon, at the home of Mrs. A. B. Munroe on Jan. 6th. The usual committee of eight planned and served the luncheon. The limited time to do it with, thus working out a genuine problem in thrift. A talk on "Weights and Measures" by State Inspector Jones and Mr. Prior, Sealer of Weights and Measures of Newton, made the occasion helpful and practical as well as interesting.

The Travel Class met this week at the home of Mrs. Earl Brackett, with Mrs. Frederick Waring as assisting hostess. A talk on "Bridges and Memorials of Newton" directed attention to points of interest in this city. A paper on Nicaragua was full of information which was interesting because new and up-to-date.

A "Morning of Music" with Mrs. Nelson Freeman in charge, is sure to bring out a large number of the Auburndale Review Club members and their friends, and there was no exception on Tuesday morning when the largest number of the season gathered at the home of Mrs. Amos R. Wells of Williston road to listen to American composers.

Mrs. Arthur Francis Farley sang "He Loves Me," by George W. Chadwick as an appropriate introduction to a paper by Miss Bridgman on the New England Conservatory of Music and other schools. Another song, a negro spiritual, "Nobody knows the Trouble I've seen," by Burleigh, introduced the paper on Orchestras, Festivals, and Folk Songs, by Mrs. C. W. Blood. Mrs. Farley sang "Summertime" by Ward-Stevens, a very new American composer, and Mrs. Freeman played on the piano, Gottschalk's "Last Hope." Then followed Mrs. Freeman's paper on American Music Composers, Players, and Singers, in which she made particular mention of Horatio Parker, a native of Auburndale and one of America's finest, and Albert Stoessel, violinist, who is a son-in-law of one of the club members. Mr. Stoessel won a reputation for himself as band leader in the Army and as a trainer of other leaders. The morning closed with the song, "Old Folks at Home," by Mrs. Farley. Mr. Stoessel's accompaniment being played by Mrs. Freeman. All present agreed that it had been a wonderfully fine morning.

On Wednesday morning a large number of members and guests of the Newton Social Science Club listened with great interest to the presentation of the question of "Japanese Immigration" by Roy Akagi, who is Thayer fellow in history at Harvard. Mr. Akagi stated that up to 1885 the immigration of Japanese into the United States had been practically insignificant, but with the passage of the Chinese exclusion act they began to come in increasing numbers, as Japanese laborers came to replace the excluded Chinese. In 1907 immigration reached its high water mark of 30,000 and the Japanese problem became a national one. The Gentlemen's Agreement was made at this time, whereby Japan agreed to prohibit the emigration of laborers and the United States would pass no further exclusion laws. The recent initiative measure passed by California, he characterized as one of the most stringent ever adopted toward any people residing in the United States.

The speaker's presentation of the subject was clear and fair-minded, showing that this country is not alone in having a Japanese immigration problem, that Australia, Canada and British Columbia in particular, have passed regulations making it very difficult for Japanese to enter at all. Canada imposes a head-tax of $400, but it does give naturalization rights to them, which the United States denies. In answering the charge against the Japanese, Mr. Akagi stated that there had been a gradual decrease in immigration since 1908 and showed how strict the Japanese officials are in issuing passports. Four classes are not prohibited—former residents, parents, wives or children of those already here, settled agriculturists, and transient visitors, not laborers. The "picture brides" have been much heralded in the newspapers, but he considered that the number of them is much less than the papers would have us believe. The speaker showed the absolute necessity it is for Japan that her people spread out since within its territory there are 70,000,000 with only 440,000 square miles or 3 to 4 persons to the acre. He feels that we are not likely to see any further agitation against Japan and that there will probably be a new Gentlemen's Agreement in the near future.

CHURCH SERVICE LEAGUE

At the meeting of the Church Service League of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, on Monday afternoon in charge of Mrs. Manning Williams, Miss Eva Corey, the chairman of the diocese, was the speaker.

Miss Corey said that never before in the history of the Church was there a greater need of Christianity in the world than there is today. It is the Church's opportunity. The object of the League is to mobilize the spiritual forces in opposition to the forces of evil in the world. To do this, it is necessary that the League be 100 per cent strong, every man and every woman in the parish having his or her part in the work of the church. The League is a part of a great national movement on the part of the church to meet present needs.

In the League the parish is the unit. There are three fundamental principles, namely, the principal of Getting-Together, the Program of Service, and the Enlistment of Every man, woman and child in the movement. Of the three, she said that the first was the most difficult. When people did actually get together, many of the seeming difficulties disappeared. In the effort to get together socially, parish suppers are in many places becoming very popular, but the plan includes getting together in work, and in worship as well.

As for the program of the League, this of course, must be left to the individual church, but the program should be made for a whole year, and be big enough to permit every individual as well as every society included within it, something to do.

The organization is composed of a Parish Council of which the rector is the head. He, together with the heads of the different organizations of the parish make up an executive board. Miss Corey suggested a Community Welfare Committee, and a Department of Missions as lines of work successfully employed in many churches. The meeting was very well attended and a real interest shown by those present in the aims and plans of the League which promises well for the League this winter.

Following the address, tea was served in charge of Mrs. Morgan L. Cooley, assisted by Mrs. Frederick Robinson.

D. R.

The January meeting of the Daughters of the Revolution was held at the Newton Club on Wednesday afternoon.

Following the business meeting, Mr. Edwin M. Whitney, head of the Whitney Studio of Platform Art of Boston, gave "The Square Deal," an adaptation of "Hit the Trail, Holiday," by Cohan. The play shows how a clean, "square" young man can win out even in adverse circumstances. The bulldog owner of the saloons and breweries of the town attempts to run the town for his own interests, putting out all who oppose him, but is met by Billy Holiday who refuses to be dominated, and champions all who are trying to do right.

The characters, as Mr. Whitney presented them, were clearly differentiated and very well done, especially "Jed," and "Grange," and Billy Holiday. Bits of humor alternated with the more serious elements. In the end, Billy and the forces of temperance triumph.

CLUBHOUSE FOR THE HIGHLANDS

Women's Club Takes the Initiative

With more than half of the three hundred shares set as a goal already subscribed for, the first step to secure the long-needed Neighborhood Clubhouse and Hall has been taken by the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, and an active campaign to form an Association of every interested family is underway.The first impetus came from the Dramatics Committee, which requested that its modest surplus be used to start a building fund. The faith of this group of women met an answering faith in a public-spirited citizen, who offered a very desirable and centrally located lot, with the stipulation that building be commenced within three years.Realizing that this was more a Community than a Club matter, the Executive Board of the Woman's Club recommended that an Association be formed, enlisting the co-operation of all elements in the community, membership to be through the purchase of shares at $50 each, payable $25 a year for two years. This would serve to accumulate a considerable fund as a nucleus, and bring together those willing to demonstrate their faith in the community, in a democratic body fitted to see that the need is met according to the wish of the majority.A goal of three hundred shareholders was set as the mark to reach before forming the Association. To test the sentiment a mail canvass was made of the membership of the Woman's Club, after explaining the plan at their last meeting. The response from this canvass alone has brought in less than a week over half the required number, so the success of the plan seems assured, and the scramble will be to get in among the first three hundred, to be counted as charter members.An interim committee, to carry on the matter until the Association is formed, is composed of the Presidents of the Improvement Association, The Men's League, The Men's Club, and the President and Treasurer of the Woman's Club. This committee plans an active campaign to enroll the three hundred charter members at the earliest possible date.Quoting from the letter sent to members of the Woman's Club: "In every effort connected with the last few troublesome years the people of Newton Highlands have worked together in a way that not only insured success, but developed a friendly community spirit and pride that everyone counts as a distinct asset. Now that war times are over cannot we capitalize and develop this spirit in a way that will make us still more glad we live in Newton Highlands?""No such movement comes about except through faith—faith in the community, our neighbors and ourselves. The real investment will not be so much at the rate of fifty dollars a share, as it will be contributions to a common fund of faith in the community, and this kind of an investment bears more than compound interest."

was pastor of the flock in Holland, and was a man of great learning and high spirituality, greatly respected by the University professors of Leyden with whom he came in contact. It was largely due to him that such high standards of liberty and faith were established among the Pilgrims. It was he who said, "Liberty is to serve God in Faith, and His Brethren in sincerity." "He who does what he does lawfully cannot fall into unlawful things," and, "There is no one interpretation of the Word of God; nothing final." He also showed an entire absence of fear of death.Bradford, the young Governor of the colony, was the product of the other two. He, too, was not stern and forbidding, but possessed a strong sense of humor, and a fine, rich, strong humanity."From all three leaders the Pilgrims inherited an interest in people, kindness and firmness in dealing with their neighbors, and a high spirituality.In concluding, Professor Baker said that he liked to think that the Pilgrim spirit was still with us, and that in the late war, a Phantom Ship led our troops across the water again and again, and that in any crisis it would still lead us.

THRIFT WEEK, JAN. 17-24

Sunday, January 23rd, Share With Others Day.
"Not what we give, but what we share,
For the gift without the giver is bare."
It isn't so much the money we give as the real gifts,—the gifts that mean the most to the receiver. When we give ourself with one's gift, we give with a bit of effort,—a little of sacrifice.That's what thrift has to do with that sort of giving. National Thrift Week features "Share With Others Day, January 23rd" in the seventh day of its program and emphasizes on that day the religious privilege of sharing a part of one's income with the Church or other unselfish causes. It is a fine thing to be able to spend, but it is a God-like privilege to be able to give.National Thrift Week is endorsed by a number of co-operating organizations of Greater Boston.The local Y. M. C. A. will be glad to furnish information not only about Thrift Week but about all the year round thrift. Tell you where you can get budget books and other helps to thrifty living. Call Newton North 592.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

"The great difficulty with choral societies is the lack of men. If the 'tired business man' realized what a wholesome and refreshing exercise choral singing is, he would find room for it in spite of his crowded life, and he would then realize that he had made a sound, and dividend-paying investment of his time. Many have an exaggerated estimate of the requirements for entrance into a good choral society. A voice of average quality and the ability to sing the tenor or bass part in a hymn tune is all that is required." Peter Lutkin, in the "Musical Leader."The Newton Choral Society needs men, and invites your membership. Rehearsals Tuesday evenings, 7:30 P. M.,

WINS PRIZE

Miss Sylvia Chapman's Essay on "Electricity in the Home" Given First Place in School Contest

The essay written by Miss Sylvia Chapman of the Senior class of the Newton Classical High School on "Electricity in the Home" was adjudged by the committee the best submitted in the contest held by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston. The essay contest, conditions of which were recently published in the Graphic, was open to all high-school students, and the subject which is of universal interest was given out as a class exercise so that practically every student submitted his or her conception of "Electricity in the Home." A choice of appropriate prizes: Waterman fountain-pen, Ever-sharp pencil, Ingersoll watch or Ever-ready flashlight was offered by the Edison company to the authors of the eight winning essays, and these are to be awarded in the near future to the lucky boys and girls announced by Mr. Maurice J. Lacey, Head-Master of the West Roxbury High School. The essays were judged according to classes. The winners among the girls are Sylvia Chapman, Senior; Frances Ayres, Junior; Katherine McAskill, Sophomore; Anna G. Horton, Freshman. Among the boys, the Seniors were led by David R. Hull; the Juniors by Herbert A. Jones; the Sophomores by Dexter Dimock, and the Freshmen by Duncan Howlett. Miss Chapman's essay follows:

"It seems as if we high school boys and girls had always known the old, old story: how, on a stormy night, years and years ago, a man was interested enough to go out into the storm armed only with his kite and key, for he had long been wondering about those mysterious lightning flashes. His curiosity was satisfied, and we need only to peer out of our windows at night, for one instant, that we may behold the result of Benjamin Franklin's first wonderful discovery!

"We see street upon street of attractive homes, and, gathered around the artistic reading lamp is the whole family. They have come to this one centre: the lamp on the living-room table! there father may enjoy his evening paper, mother may do her mending, and the boys and girls may pore over their school-books!

"It is a pretty picture—it seems typical of the American home. But in these busy times, when we are accorded almost no time we may call our own, how often do we stop to realize what these same homes would be without that blessing—electricity? Electric illumination—why, of course, we have never known of any other in our day; and with a careless shrug of the shoulders, we snap the button of the piano lamp, or of the bed-room fixtures, and immediately the whole room is flooded with a clear light.

"As for mother, the house-keeper, she can remember the days of gas and oil lamps, and in fact often wonders 'how she used to get along without electricity.' But now, with her vacuum cleaner, her electric iron, and that wonder of wonders—the washing machine—it seems as if the housework actually does itself! In fact, everywhere we look in the house we must acknowledge that electricity reigns supreme—he is the king!

"When the vacuum cleaner made its debut in the homes of several interested Americans, it was a large, bulky article, hardly better suited to its purpose than the old broom itself. But now after a few years it has been

BOY SCOUT NIGHT

Interesting Exhibition Given Before the Men's Club of Eliot Church

A very successful Boy Scout Night was held in the chapel of Eliot Church on Wednesday evening. A most excellent dinner was served to sixty "sons," accompanied by as many fathers.

Following the dinner Troops 1 of Newtonville, and 11 of Newton gave a demonstration of "A day in Scout Camp." The platform was decorated with trees to imitate a camp, and tents were erected, fires built, kites unfolded, etc. Then came the sounding of the colors, and the allegiance to the flag, followed by a demonstration of First Aid Work and of signaling. These were done by Troop 11 of Newton in charge of J. M. Carley.

The second half of the program was given by Troop 1 of Newtonville in charge of R. W. Cotton. This included troop formation, demonstration of rope tying, a friction fire race, elimination drill, Scout yells, and the reciting of the Scout Oath and Law.

Scout Executive William B. Sharrat then gave a talk in which he explained the work of the Scouts. He said in part: "Scouting has passed its period of experimentation. It has proved its value to the boy. It has proved its necessity both to the community and to the nation. The Scout program has been adapted to the essential needs of the man of tomorrow through the boy of today. The aims of the Scout program are Character and Good Citizenship, and it will live on, not by reason of its past history, but because it is fundamentally a necessity, both for the present and the future welfare of our nation."

At the conclusion of his speech, it was voted to form a Scout troop in connection with Eliot Church and a committee consisting of Messrs. J. W. Gerrity, H. Wilson Allen and H. C. Spencer were appointed to organize such a troop and provide for a Scout Master.

PROBATION IN NEWTON

Mrs. Wellman Speaks to Newton Hospital Social Service League

A meeting of the Newton Hospital Social Service League was held on Monday at the New Church, Newtonville.

Following the regular business meeting, Mrs. Wellman, Probation officer of the City of Newton, spoke on her work. She said that the work of a probation officer was largely preventative, her aim being to keep people out of the courts as far as possible. Her own work dealt, she said, with children under seventeen, and women.

Her first duty is generally to visit the home and learn of conditions there, and her second to find out the school record. For a first or second offense, the offender is placed on probation and only sent to a reform school as a last recourse. More boys than girls usually come before the probation officer, but, when a girl is brought before her the case is usually a serious one.

An examination, physical, mental, and moral, is required before a girl can be placed in any home. Sometimes this examination reveals the fact that a woman in years has the mentality of a child of seven or eight. Boys in their teens are often neglected at home and get into trouble when the real need is of physical care.

Mrs. Wellman spoke strongly against the "movies" in Newton, stating that their influence often directly led to evil. She expressed the wish that the women of Newton should band together to do something to bring about better movies and showed how hard it is for the working mother to keep her children away from the movies.

The greatest evil of "crap shooting," in her opinion, lay in the attitude which even young children get toward

FIRST MEETING

Newton Community Forum Discusses the League of Nations

The first meeting of the Newton Community Forum was held last Sunday evening in the Central Church, Newtonville, under the auspices of the Central Club of the church.

The meeting was introduced by Professor Gorham W. Harris of Simmons College, President of the Central Club. He said that this meeting was the first of a series of meetings to be held with the object of bringing together members of different churches of the community to consider vital questions of the day.

Mr. Raymond Cabot of the Universalist Church then read the Scripture, and Mr. John Daboll of the New Church offered prayer. About one hundred members of the Newton Choral Society sang a selection from Bach, and a Prayer of Thanksgiving.

The address of the occasion was given by Professor Manley O. Hudson on "The League of Nations in Action." Professor Hudson is a member of the Harvard Law School and of the Secretariat of the League of Nations in which capacity he attended meetings of the League at Geneva.

In his opinion, the League of Nations is a significant political achievement, an effort of 48 nations to get together to solve their common problems. The League has members from Asia, Africa, South America, and Central America as well as from Europe. All of the nations of the world are included except Germany, Russia, Hungary, Mexico, and the United States.

As for its organization, there are three distinct parts—the Council, the Secretariat, and the Assembly. The Secretariat does the planning for the League. So far, there have been five disputes referred to the League, and

ALDERMEN MEET

Significant Facts of Our Financial Condition Given by Alderman Philip Nichols

The first regular meeting of the city government was marked by a long docket and a short session. President Harriman was in the chair and Aldermen Blake, Jewell and Phipps were the only absentees.

No one appeared at the only hearing, that of the Edison Co. for poles on Winthrop street.

Alderman Nichols was appointed to draw five jurors for the coming session of the Superior court at Cambridge and drew the names of John E. Sullivan of Bridge street, Almond M. Tewksbury of Erie avenue, James J. Collins of Hale street, Charles J. Fewkes of Forest street and Edward S. Nally of West street, the last named being substituted for the name of Charles D. Willcutt of Auburndale, who has just moved out of the state.

Mayor Childs sent in recommendations, later approved, of $75 for substitute stenographer for the City Engineer, and $200 for Office Expenses for the Comptroller. His appointments of James E. Tully and William R. Poole as Public Weighers were confirmed.

He also transmitted the petition of the Firemen for one day off in three, a petition from Wm. H. Mague for relief from his contract for collecting garbage and requests of the Charity and Buildings Departments for money to meet certain 1920 deficits. Petitions of Charles L. O'Neal for a wagon license, J. H. Walsh for a pool room at 283 Walnut street, J. H. Fahey for taxi cab license, Richard Joyner for an additional pool table on Prospect place, the Telephone Co. for attachments on Aspen avenue, the Edison Co. for attachments on Walnut street, and for apportionment of betterment assessments on Oak avenue were granted.

Other petitions were received for acceptance of Brook street, for a sewer in Ward street, and relative to acceptance of Morton street, Morton road, Victoria circle and Royce road. On recommendation of committees hearings were assigned for Feb. 7 on the laying out of Victoria circle, Royce road, Morton street, Morton road, Eastbourne road, the relocation of Centre and Beacon streets, the relocation of Chestnut and Fuller streets, and taking land for sewers in Victoria circle, Royce road, Morton street, Morton road, Mague avenue, Norwood avenue and Oakwood road.

NEWTON CLUB

One of the most successful parties of the year was the informal evening bridge held at the Club, January 17. The first prizes were won by Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mr. Sherman; second prizes by Mrs. C. E. Conant and Mr. Arthur Brown.

A men's bowling tournament was started Friday, Jan. 14th, with sixteen teams. The first division will bowl Monday nights and the second division Friday nights. A new feature is the method of handicaps, which will be based on averages of the three first evening's results.

All Newton Club Night

Last Wednesday evening the entertainment committee provided a very unique program consisting of eight numbers announced by placards at each end of the stage. Those taking part were all club members.

Two youngsters, Billy Holbrook and David Kimbly dressed as little Colonial gentlemen, changed the signs as the performers came on.

A piano duet by Mann and Hicock was well rendered, followed by Raymond Tucker who sang tenor solos. He played his own auto harp accompaniment.

Mrs. Brown gave a delightful reading from Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen."

Mrs. Ray Huntington and Miss Marion McKeon were very graceful in a Spanish dance, which was coached by Mrs. Osborne. The costumes were particularly charming.

Harry Owen played two cornet solos that were very well received.

Mark Hanna and Ray Huntington made one of the biggest hits of the evening in their impersonation of two humorous old farmers, and their jokes got across, and won much applause.

Mrs. Blackley's piano solo was very well rendered and was followed by Billy Hoag and Jimmie Watts, "The Gentleman and the Kike." It was announced that Mr. Watts had been suddenly called to New York and could not take his part, but while his partner was trying to do his bit, a dispute was heard at the door, calls for "Piper", etc., and in came a typical "Kike", who for a promised fifteen dollars agreed to help Mr. Hoag with the act. They made a great hit with the local crowd.

Dancing followed the program with the usual refreshments. The dress was formal and the entertainment committee should be congratulated on the success of the evening.

The Thursday night dinners are becoming very popular of late and have brought out from 75 to 100 people. Piper is certainly giving the best dollar dinner that one could ask for. The bowling and dancing are both well patronized on Neighborhood Nights.

FAVOR NEW CLUBHOUSE

At the annual meeting Monday night of the Longwood Cricket Club, the board of governors were authorized to proceed with the plans for a new club house at Chestnut Hill. The new building is intended for an all-year-round proposition, a "neighborhood center" for the cold months and an attractive gathering place during the summer, at the same time making the club's new grass courts, the plot which is bounded by Boylston street, Hammond street, Middlesex road and Dunster road. The entrance driveway would be from Hammond street.

The organization is in a flourishing condition and just now there is a waiting membership list of 55. It was voted to increase the membership dues also to devise ways and means toward enrolling juniors and non-playing members.

It was decided to have the same conditions govern the eighth Longwood Tennis Bowl, which goes into competition in July, as in past years. The members recognize that it is the only trophy in lawn tennis that the defender stands out and meets the challenger, and wants to make it traditional. William M. Johnston of California, won the last bowl by his victory over Nathaniel W. Niles last summer.

The delegates of the Longwood Cricket Club to the annual meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis Association were given authority to ask for what championship tournament they desired to play in the future. A request will be made for the National doubles championship tournament, as in past years.

Edwin Sheafe was chosen president for the ninth time; Philip Stockton and R. Norris Williams, 2nd, vice-presidents; Richard Bishop, secretary; George S. Baldwin, treasurer; Frank N. Godfrey, Richard Harte, G. Penbody Gardner, Jr., George W. Wightman and George T. Putnam, governors.

Following the presentation of the money, refreshments were served. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, music being furnished by Miss Lila May Morrill and Mr. Albert Morrill.

One of Human Ways.
Ever notice how every one of the near-centenarians thinks his one good habit is the secret of longevity?

ADVERTISING IN THE COUNTRY WEEKLY

(Newark (N. Y.) Union-Gazette)
Advertising in the country weekly is the most valuable advertising in the world. Expert advertisers say it is not only the most valuable but the most scientific advertising in the world. Advertising in the magazines has to be general, for the reason that the average magazine that you receive today was set in type several weeks ago, and the advertising copy was probably prepared several weeks before that. This means that advertisers in the magazines have to anticipate conditions several weeks in advance of the time the copy is prepared.

This is not so with advertising in the country weekly, for the country weekly has the advantage over the magazine in that the weekly circulates in a comparatively small territory and the name of the merchant or the business man who is selling the goods can be placed in the advertisement. This is impossible in magazine advertising, which covers sometimes the whole nation.

The weekly newspaper also is considered the best advertising medium in the world by expert advertisers for the reason that it has a more intimate association with the family than a magazine or a daily newspaper.

No local merchant can afford not to advertise in weekly newspapers of the better class. It is a sad commentary upon small town business men that they don't see the advantage to them of carrying an advertisement in the small town paper every single week. Such an advertisement is the cheapest salesman that the merchant can employ. The money spent in advertising in the better class of weekly newspapers is an investment and not an expense; and it is the best-paying investment that the merchant can make; but not one in a thousand publishers of the weekly papers is compensated anywhere near what he is worth to the merchants and to the community in which he lives and to whose interests he dedicates his life.

Every editor of a weekly newspaper is constantly working in behalf of every merchant in his community, whether that merchant patronizes the local paper or not; but every merchant, does not have the business common sense and the business foresight to see that it is his own personal advantage to help support the country editor by advertising—telling the people in the newspaper what he has, how it can be used and what it costs.

WEST-MANDELL

The wedding of Miss Florence Ellis Mandell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Mandell of West Newton and Mr. Thomas Alfred West of Somerville, took place last Saturday evening at Channing Church, Newton.

Rev. Harry Lutz, minister of the church, performed the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her wedding gown was of white satin, made with an unusually long, full train and trimmed with Carickmacross lace. She wore a veil of tulle, fastened with a coronet of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride roses combined with Swainsonia.

A group of attendants included, as maid of honor, a cousin, Miss Emily Close of Cambridge, and five bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Emery, Miss Carolyn Blaney, Miss Margaret Pierce, Miss Dorothy McNamara, and Miss Helen Schermerhorn, together with a young matron, Mrs. H. Bigelow Emerson, who as Miss Eunice Learned became a bride last spring. These attendants wore gowns of pale pink chiffon and carried lavender sweet peas, with the exception of the maid of honor, who wore the same colors reversed, as her dress was of lavender chiffon and she carried pink sweet peas. The flower girl was Nancy Ellen Mandell, the small sister of the bride. She wore a frock of pale blue chiffon and carried a basket filled with pink roses.

The bridegroom's brother, Ambrose West, was best man, and as ushers were, John F. Davis, John F. Howe, William F. King, Augustine S. Francis, Stephen M. W. Gray, and the bride's brother, George W. Mandell, most of whom were classmates of the bridegroom at Harvard.

Following the ceremony at the church, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mandell on Walnut street.

GLOBE THEATRE—To study the eccentricities of the amusement-seeking public from the managerial standpoint must be highly interesting from its very uncertainty. I do not believe the various purveyors of entertainment give much thought to the matter, but go at it blindly, relying on the fame of the author and the reputation of the different players more than their own judgment of the piece itself. I am told that "It's Up to You" which is now filling the Globe Theatre, Boston, at every performance, was put out with some trepidation, and, to insure success, several names were given out as being members of the organization. Yet, after all, there is a cause for every effect which takes place in this weary world.

Joseph Stanley, Ivy Sawyer, Douglas Leavitt and Ruth Mary Lockwood are players of established ability, and the public was assured there would be something doing. After the inaugural host of patrons went abroad in hand and told their friends that "It's Up to You" was a good show, and there you are. Really it is quite attractive, not only on account of the music by Manuel Klein and John L. McManus, but there is a story which one may follow with interest, and there is laughter of the genuine sort.

TRENTON THEATRE—David Warfield is booked to appear at the Trenton Theatre, Boston, on Monday, Jan. 24, for an engagement of two weeks, in David Belasco's most noteworthy play, "The Return of Peter Grimm." The distinguished star appears under the direction of Mr. Belasco, who has supervised every detail of this revival of his dramatic masterpiece. Mr. Warfield's portrayal of the gentle old florist, Peter Grimm, returns from the spiritual world to rectify the mistakes that he made while living, was accounted by many critics an achievement rarely if ever paralleled on the American stage. The figure of Peter Grimm—and the mind and heart and soul of Peter Grimm—as revealed by Mr. Warfield live in the memory not as a character of the stage, but as a noble-hearted, well-beloved friend. The play is revived in exactly the manner of the first production, and several members of the original cast are to be seen in the role that they created.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Bigelow School

Miss Stearns has recovered from a tonsil operation. Her class is very glad to have her back.

In its first game of the season Bigelow held the Peirce team to a tie, playing two five-minute overtime periods. Bigelow did not present her full strength, as two of the regular players were unable to be present. Under the circumstances, to hold the fast Peirce team to a tie was a worthy achievement, and speaks well for Bigelow's chances for the rest of the season.

Stubbs was the star of the game and Walter Schliephake played a remarkable game in the net.

Bigelow will play Horace Mann Saturday morning.

The slide on Burr Playground is ready for the little children, and they may bring their sleds and skates Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and Saturday at 9.30, until further notice. One of the Bigelow teachers will be there to care for them Tuesday and Thursday afternoon.

Stearns School

A bread making club has been organized at the Stearns School with Miss Loring as leader. The following officers have been elected: Pres., Hazel Lieth; Vice-Pres., Juliet Roy; Sec., Florence Sampson. After the business meeting a demonstration of muffins was given. At the next meeting, Jan. 25th, the name of the club will be chosen. Miss Marion E. Forbes, Asst. Worker of Middlesex Co. Bureau of Agriculture, will give a bread demonstration.

Our steamer class started this week. Eighteen children all of whom have come from Italy during the past four months, are enrolled. Miss Parker of Waltham is in charge.

The prizes offered by Mr. Winslow for the best composition written by members of the eighth grade were won by Grace Dalton, first; Mildred Lawson, second, and Cecile Champagne, third. Honorable mention was given to the papers written by Theresa Cormier, Ina Hanson, Reuben Meilman, Alfred Hotin and Gladys Mahoney.

The eighth grade is planning a trip to the Loose-Wiles plant in Boston. Much is expected of this trip because of the very successful one of last year.

The first debate of the year is planned for Friday morning by the 8th grade. The subject chosen: "Resolved: That Sunday sports should be allowed in Newton," promises to be interesting.

The Girls' Club at Stearns School Center will give a vaudeville performance on Wednesday, Feb. 2, in the hall of Stearns School Center. The program will include a comedy, "The Florist Shop"—Japanese Fan Dance—a pantomime, and a feature chorus. Fifty girls are participating in the performance and are under the direction of professional coaches.

Eleven new members to the Boy Scouts passed their Tenderfoot tests and were sworn into the troop last Thursday evening. This brings the troop up to a membership of twenty-one. As this is the third meeting of the troop thus far we feel somewhat encouraged as we look over a list of thirteen candidates to take tests later.

Private James Adams from Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, was a visitor to the troop and initiated the boys in a series of Army "setting up" exercises.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The shield to mark the winning of the baseball championship last June was received last week from the playground department. At the school assembly on Monday morning it was unveiled to the pupils. The following pupils composed the team: Neil Mahoney, Capt., and catcher; James Regan, manager and pitcher; Francis Smith, 1st base; Waldo Hamilton, 2d base; John Simpson, short stop; Patrick Conlon, 3d base; Alfred Fay, left field; John Proctor, centre field; Ernest Ward and Tony Valente, right field; Joseph Meredith, coach.

Miss Mildred Dallinger gave an illustrated talk to the pupils in the hall at 11 o'clock on Monday on the general theme, "Health Habits." The lecture was given under the auspices of the New England Dairy and Food Council.

The Upper Falls Service Flag containing 181 stars—6 gold stars—has been placed permanently in the school in a beautiful oak frame, size 4 ft. 8 in. by 6 ft. 8 in. The flag is under glass cover and occupies a conspicuous place on the walls of the south stairway. The beauty and the appropriateness of the setting is admired by all who see it. The work was done under the direction of Mr. A. D. Colby representing the Village Improvement Society.

Lasell

Miss Mary Dobson, daughter of the noted English poet, was a guest of the school on Tuesday, and gave a very interesting talk on the student volunteer movement.

On Thursday evening the French reception, the first formal reception of the year, will take place. Miss Gertrude Tingler, a former Lasell student, is to sing and there will be a selection of French poems read by Mr. Charles A. Vouga of Switzerland.

"The Japanese Question in California," is to be the subject of a lecture given on Saturday morning before the student body by Rev. Paul B. Waterhouse.

Dr. Butters will be the speaker at vespers on Sunday evening.

14 Taber Avenue,
Providence, R. I.

Please send me two bottles of your depilatory, enclosed find stamps for payment and postage. Thanking you in advance, I am,

Yours truly,

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Edison Electric Light Co. of Boston, has announced the winners in the contest for the best essays on "The Uses of Electricity in the Home." The winners are: Sylvia Chapman, '21; David R. Hull, '21; Frances Ayres, '22; Herbert A. Jones, '22; Katherine McAskill, '23; Dexter Dimock, '23; Anna G. Horton, '24, and Duncan Howlett, '24. Sylvia Chapman's essay was considered the best one submitted. Before the judges realized that the winners were to be chosen by classes they had selected Eleanor Millard's essay as second best.

On Wednesday the English Club held its monthly meeting in the school library. When the business matters had been settled, Miss White turned the meeting over to Frances Varney, who gave the members a test in their Sunday school education. Many of the members were "exposed." According to many of the answers on the test papers Shakespeare wrote a great deal of the Bible. Later Mr. Lane gave a most interesting talk on his experiences in France.

Judging from the number of tickets sold, the concert and dance, which are to be given by the "Tech" mandolin and glee clubs, will be a total success. The concert will begin promptly at 8 P. M., in the assembly hall of the classical high school and will be over by about ten o'clock. After that there will be dancing in the gym until 12. Candy made by pupils in the school, will be placed on sale before the concert.

The hockey team has added three more victories to their list. On Monday they defeated Roxbury Latin, 5 to 0. On Tuesday they overcame Arlington 2 to 0, and on Wednesday they defeated the U. S. S. Nantucket 18 to 0.

A very appropriate quotation is used at the end. "This sad old earth's brighter place All for the sunshine of her face. A gentle, clear eyed messenger Go, whisper love—Thank God for her."

NORTH GATE CLUB

The informal dance Wednesday evening, January 19th, was very well attended.

Some sixty couples of members and their friends danced to exceptionally good music. Refreshments were served and midnight came all too soon. The first of the new year's dances augurs well for the season's success.

A Valentine Party dance followed by an informal dance, Feb. 28th, are the club's next social events. The dances have become so popular that tickets should be secured well in advance, because the club's hall is limited as to capacity.

EDITORIAL

Alderman Nichols' clear explanation of the financial situation of the city ought to be read by every taxpayer. It shows the absolute necessity of keeping down the ordinary running expenses to an extent which would be considered parsimonious in previous years. Expenses must be curtailed if we are to keep down to our present high tax rate—a rate which, we learn has already discouraged one wealthy man from erecting a house and garage to cost $50,000, and has probably kept out many others of which we know nothing.

Efforts should also be made by the executive departments of the city to obtain a greater production and to prevent the inevitable waste which always accompanies public work. With co-operation along these lines by the aldermen and executive, it may be possible to even face the million and a half school building program which seems so imminent at the present time.

It seems a great pity that the building trades unions are tying up the housing and building program which the state and country so sorely need by making such preposterous demands as $1.50 an hour wage scale, and a continuation of the wholly illogical no-work-on-Saturday scheme which seriously limits much needed production. There ought to be some method besides the soup kitchen to settle matters of this sort.

Alderman Whidden's plan to raze the old church building at West Newton and to erect a plain office building as an overflow for City Hall has so much merit that it ought to receive serious and prompt attention.

The freemen ought to try out the plan suggested by Alderman Whidden of an extra night off on the present one day off in five, before urging the one day off in three proposition.

Thieving at the shelter house on Bullock's pond is becoming a serious matter and should be promptly remedied by the installation of suitable lockers.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union celebrated the first anniversary of National prohibition on Monday night, Jan. 17th, in the Parish Hall of the Episcopal Church, Auburndale. It was a guest night and about one hundred and fifty were present. After the President of this union, Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, gave a few words of welcome to the guests a most entertaining program was presented. It consisted of piano solos by Miss Betty Brooks, vocal and whistling solos by Mrs. Helen Pratt Kelley of Brookline, pianologues by Mildred Beardsley, and vocal solos by Miss Edith Patchett, also a bird and flower dance by Baby Evelyn Carson of Waverley. Mr. Raymond Sykes was accompanist.

During the evening the State Secretary, Mrs. Adeline E. Priesbe was introduced and told of the various lines of work of the W. C. T. U. A social hour followed during which refreshments were served and all went away feeling they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The Masquerade Ball at the Hunnewell Club Tuesday evening was considered by all participants and on-lookers, as a brilliant success. Originality and ingenuity of costume were most effectively displayed.

The grand march was led by a typical Cape Cod fisherman in tarpaulin and rubbers with a real farmerette partner, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Angier. Following these were Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson as a distinguished looking French chef and waitress. Many housekeepers engaged Mrs. Jamieson on the spot for beauty and efficiency, she was complete.

The judges, Mrs. Tuttle, Mrs. Lankman, Mr. Sykes and Mr. Nichols gave the first lady's prize to Miss Florence Morford, who was spectacularly garbed in every conceivable color of brilliant silks, representing an Oriental Turkish lady. Mr. Walter B. Sharp won the gentlemen's prize for complete disguise and cleverness in an indescribable costume—black and white with ruffles and orange diamond shaped patches applied and sweeping coat tails and a bald wig.

There was everything from Puritan maidens with clowns as partners, milk maids, farmers, farmerettes, nurses, doctors, a sampler, a convict, "620," a ballet girl, Italian and Spanish dancing girls, Indian squaw, a riding girl, period costumes, bringing out brocades and lace shawls and powdered coiffure. One hundred or more were present. Mr. Scofield as a prim angular old lady in sweeping skirts and lace shawl and bonnet caused great excitement as he and his lady partner fell headlong on the open floor. Many rushed to pick up the fallen lady.

Delightful refreshments were served. Virginia Reels and Paul Jones fox trots added much enthusiasm to the evening. Everyone felt 10 years younger.

road be discontinued for testing automobiles, for the laying out of Acacia avenue, for sewer in Hawthorn street, for laying out of Ricker terrace, for sewer in Milton street, for laying out of Ashton park, Orient avenue, Kenwood avenue and Oakwood terrace.

No action necessary was reported on communication from Calvert Cray relative to land damages on Walnut street and petition of modification of building line on Walnut street was placed on file.

$1484.99 was granted for deficits in Water Department and betterment assessments were levied on account of work on Charlesbank road, Brae Burn road and for sidewalks in Algonquin road.

No action necessary was reported on request of City Clerk of Brockton that the city request action by Federal authorities on the price of coal, etc.

Petitions of Wm. E. Tomlinson to sell firearms, of H. E. Milliken, Moffat road, M. D. Quirk, Walnut street and Paul Doherty, Westland avenue, for private garages, of the Newton Cemetery Corporation to run private telephone wire across Walnut street, and of George Beck to sell gasoline on Jackson street, of the Edison Co. for attachments on Braeland avenue and Washington street, and to remove pole on Pearl street and of the Telephone Co. for attachments on Webster street and Warren avenue were granted.

The favorable report of the License committee on petition of Ann M. Bacon to use a private garage on Chestnut street, Waban, was opposed by Alderman Carter, and favored by Aldermen Morse, Nichols and Lloyd, and granted with Alderman Carter alone voting in the negative.

The Mayor was requested to petition for legislation to allow the city to bond $2,500,000 outside the debt limit for new school houses and for completion of the Hammonds Pond Parkway thru the city of Newton. Alderman Nichols explained the need of additional school buildings and the fact that a survey of our schools was being made at the present time in order to determine just what action should be taken. The present debt limit is not sufficient if the city is to start on a comprehensive program and additional legislation is needed. Mr. Nichols also said that there were many demands on the Metropolitan district for improvements, the cost of which would be assessed on the district and Newton would have to pay its share. The Hammonds Pond parkway plan had been under consideration for the past 12 years and was a part of a plan to obtain a north and south boulevard without passing thru the congested parts of Boston. It seemed advisable to have the land taken for this purpose, the present year.

Alderman Whidden reported that the scheme to remove the West Newton branch library into the old church buildings had been held up on account of the lack of heating appliances. The plan for enlarging the City Hall by connecting it with the old church had failed because its cost would be too much for the taxpayers. Whidden suggested the feasibility of tearing down the old church and erecting a plain office building on its site. On the matter of utilizing the old fire station at Lower Falls as a branch library, he said the library trustees preferred to extend the house to house delivery plan to the Lower Falls and the Mayor was now considering the use of the old fire station as a community house for the district. On the matter of a garage for the library automobiles, he said that the Mayor had been asked to submit plans and estimates.

Just before the board adjourned, Alderman Nichols gave an interesting talk on the financial situation of the city. He said that last year for the first time, Newton entered the class of high tax rate cities, its rate being higher than the average thruout the state. He believed that the tax rate ought not to be allowed to exceed $30 under any circumstances. On our present valuations of $86,000,000 a $30 rate would produce $2,580,000. We have other income amounting to $745,000, making a total income of $3,325,000. Out of this comes state, county and Metropolitan charges of about $500,000, leaving $2,825,000 available for city expenses. The 1920 budget called for $2,635,000, showing that on a $30 tax rate the city only had a margin of some $190,000. If we entered upon an extensive school building program, the annual charge for interest and serial bonds would be about $187,000. Mr. Nichols said he gave these figures to show the board that every appropriation should receive the most careful scrutiny and that if one matter was deemed important, something else would have to be omitted. He explained most clearly that the presence of rich people in the city did not add to the wealth of the place as their money paid in income taxes to the state was, by a most unjust law, distributed to other municipalities and did not benefit Newton as it should.

The Mayor's Address committee reported recommending reference to various committees of four recommendations made by the Mayor.

President Harriman believed that the difference in tax rate between Newton and various other places was largely due to the geography of each. The cost is materially affected by the length of streets and the density of population. Newton, he believed, had streets and sewers enough to support a population of a 100,000 and he also believed that as Newton grew in population it would have a relatively diminishing tax rate.

The board adjourned at 9.02.

improved and perfected, so that at the present time the Edison people offer the public the light, attractive product that we all admire. "Even the baby can lift it," runs the proverbial ad, and that fact is most assuredly true. The house-keeper herself, after doing the daily "sweeping" with her vacuum, looks as fresh and tidy in her little white apron and dust-cap as if she had never been working at all.

"No sane, clear-thinking person can doubt the value of the electric iron. First of all, it saves time, for there is no running back and forth to the stove, to change irons. Then secondly it saves labor. The anxious mother looks at the heap of clothes as yet unironed and with a sigh, she reaches for the button. She turns on the electric current, and presto! the ironing, clothes, signs, or cares while the electric iron remains with us."

"Now we hear of new ways that Mr. Edison has found to wave his magic wand over our homes, and every day we read of these added wonders. Besides the washer, with its marvelous saving of money, there is the electric sewing machine, even the stove, and yes—a new wonder presents itself—a refrigerator, the contents of which are kept cool by the passing of the electric current. They all are giving us more of that blessed "spare time" they are saving our strength, and in fine, are doing their utmost toward keeping our pocket-books stout and thick."

"What a debt we owe to Benjamin Franklin!"

Among possible helps in the way of recreation she suggested hand concerts, and community dances, such as those conducted by the Newton Circle last summer.

COAL--3C--SAVER

"Regarding results from use of Coal-3C-Saver wish to say that the results in saving and economy are very satisfactory. From Nov. 15th to Dec. 15th the saving amounted to 15½ tons over the same period of last year, in spite of the fact that this year we are having three sessions of evening school per week, which we did not have last year. In addition we are carrying a heavier load than we ever carried. We notice that the ash residue has been reduced about eight cans a day."

Yours truly,

NEWTON COMMUNITY FORUM

The League has been of real service in connection with them.

The question of how far we can go in limiting armaments is one of the important questions of the day. The League of Nations is an experiment in Social Science.

Mr. Hudson stated that, in his opinion, the League had not as yet had a fair chance to prove its value. He was of the opinion that the United States would eventually enter the League. What is needed is faith, time and courage.

Following the address, the Newton Choral Society sang the "Song of the Marching Men." Mr. Paul Scarborough singing the solo.

At the close of the meeting an opportunity was given the audience to ask questions of the speaker, and many interesting questions were asked. Central Church was well filled, showing that there is a very real interest in the Forum form of meeting.

PLAIN SURFACE ROOFING

There are some roofing jobs where a plain "rubbar" roofing is preferred, covering old roofs, poultry houses and factories. The inferior smooth surfaced roofings requires an occasional coating or painting to lengthen and preserve their life. This, of course, adds to the first cost of roofing.

RELANCE SMOOTH SURFACE ROOFING, made by THE SAIL MOUNTAIN COMPANY, is the only roofing that is guaranteed without paint. Once laid, a RELANCE ROOF needs no further attention. It does not require painting or coating because it is made of perfect weatherproof materials by a standard manufacturing process.

No other roofing is so guaranteed. Buy value, not price.

THE UNITARIAN CLUB

The January meeting of the Unitarian Club of Newton was held last evening in Channing Church parlors. Following an excellent supper, Mr. Everett E. Kent, chairman of the school committee, Alderman Philip Nichols, chairman of the Finance committee and ex-alderman Arthur W. Blakemore, secretary of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, spoke on the subject of "The financial needs of our schools and the taxpayers."

Mr. Everett E. Kent said in part, on School Housing Needs: The need of more housing is a simple physical fact. The present houses are full; children who need schooling are increasing in number. Our average membership for December 1920 was 8579, being 364 larger than that of December a year ago.

To understand the situation, let us view the school in this district with what the moving picture men call a "close-up." Grade V of the Bigelow School has 93 pupils, divided into two classes one having 46 and the other 47. The proper number for a teacher to handle is about 34, a total of 68 for the two classes. The extra 25 do not get what they ought from our educational system; or, more strictly, none of the 93 get what they should; but the point to which I particularly direct attention is that if this number increases by enrollment of a few new pupils, the nearly all should be promoted next September, proper administration will require that they be divided into three classes. Of the other classes in that building, four classes each have 40 or over; the remainder have 39, 38, 37, 36, 35, and there is a Grade II of 31, which fills a surplus room on the north side that was never intended for a classroom, but only for recitations.

When provision is made for the next new class, where can it be put? Every school room in the building is occupied. We can't transfer any to the Underwood School, for that is full. The only other school in the district, a two room building, the Lincoln School, is full. Pupils who belong there had this year to be put into the Underwood. Six years ago, Grades I and II each occupied a room and a half at the Underwood. Now each requires two rooms. One of these is at the Bigelow School in the small north room previously mentioned.

The next nearest schoolhouse is the Stearns School in Nonantum. Perhaps we could transfer some to that. But if you go there you will find the situation worse. Two classes are meeting out in the yard, in a portable building; and our estimate made last month forecasts a further increase of three classes this year. Clearly there is no room for Bigelow district pupils there.

At Newtonville the situation is similar. The Horace Mann School has a portable, and forecasts a necessary additional classroom. The Clafin School has two portables, and must have a new class room. The Peirce School, West Newton must care for two additional classes. At Waban there will be two. Happily, these latter will be housed in the new building; but that building is too remote to relieve any other district. At Upper Falls another classroom will be needed; another at Newton Centre.

Nor can the High School accommodate any increase. It is indeed a misuse of language to say that it "accommodates" those now there, who occupy the library, the typewriting room, the mechanical drawing room, the basement, and half of the correct gymnasium room, all being places not intended for that use.

In other words, need for more housing is distributed generally over the city. At present we have eight portable classrooms in use, distributed at five different locations; a kindergarten meeting in hired quarters; a grade in West Newton divided into two platoons, which use the same room in turns at part time; and a kindergarten meeting in West Newton, but awaiting organization for lack of room.

There are three ways for relief: First, we might build an addition to each elementary school house according to its need. We have 23 houses for elementary schools. Barring Waban, Lower Falls, and Oak Hill, and speaking in general terms, each schoolhouse is already overcrowded, or will probably be so within the year immediately before us. We might build addition of two, four or eight rooms to each of these twenty as needed. To the Bigelow School, for example, a section large enough to hold four rooms might be added. I doubt if that could be economically done, considering the way the building is situated on the ground and the rooms arranged within. Such an addition would evidently involve three new walls, roof and basement, would require corridors through rooms of the present building, and would involve the heating and ventilating changes and other difficulties which so often make the buildings inordinately expensive.

Second, These 23 school are now organized in 10 different districts, corresponding roughly to the different villages of the city. Rather than build 20 additions, it would seem better to add a single whole new school building to each district, large enough to accommodate the expected growth. This would have the merit of being wholly constructive, preserving whatever we now have, without the cost of tearing down and altering parts of the old to fit the new. Probably these 9 or 10 buildings would be cheaper and the results better than the 20 additions.

Third, Better still, we might set new buildings between districts, thus cutting our needs down to 5 new buildings for the 10 districts, and having the advantages of concentration. This principle seems most economical having the advantages of concentration. This principle seems most economical for first cost, for physical maintenance and for operation, both as regard material and personnel.

In either of these plans careful consideration should be given to the need for a primary school in the southeastern part of the city, where it can accommodate the recent Boston College, Chestnut Hill and Commonwealth avenue real estate developments; and for another in the northwest near Rowe street and Abundant road.

Any of these three plans must be supplemented by a new high school; or by an addition to the present high school. The addition would be cheap, because the occupants could avail themselves of the same laboratories, library and general rooms, and the same organization of department heads, by the mere addition of school rooms and teachers.

You will observe that I have said nothing about junior high schools. I think that system is coming to be standard throughout the country; and that within a short time Newton citizens will feel that it is forced upon them by its universal adoption elsewhere. But in showing you the need for housing I have said nothing about that; and have assumed that we are to proceed with our educational system constituted in the past.

However, please observe this: If the City should see fit to adopt a junior high school system, it will not need the proposed new high school, or high school addition of present type. The new buildings in the districts can then relieve both the high school and the grade schools.

You may figure that it will take as many cubic feet of housing per pupil, under one arrangement as under another; and I grant that in general that is so. But the same cubic foot cost, more, ordinarily, if done by way of "alterations and repairs," or if provided by making a building of senior high school type. If in addition you guard against spending for buildings that are useful only for an educational system soon to be obsolete, you make another saving.

The expenses and taxes of a city depend more or less upon the industrial character of the region. Newton is essentially a city of homes; its principal industry is the raising of children. With a population of 46,000, and a school membership of about 9000, the schools constitute the chief business in life for approximately one-fifth of the entire population. In the past 25 years school attendance has increased faster than the population.

The schools affect the happiness and the future of every family which is represented by children in them. Since the beginnings of this nation, it has been recognized that if the nation is to survive the common schools must be maintained. Every city may divide for itself how well it will raise the children that are committed to its care; but, at least, it must house them.

Alderman Philip Nichols said in part: Newton people frequently wonder why it is that the city so apparently rich as Newton, should have any difficulty in raising all the money that is necessary for maintaining the public schools at as high a standard as any other city in the country, and they should study the true situation in regard to Newton's resources and needs in order to understand both sides of the question.

In the first place Newton covers eighteen square miles of territory, almost all of which are intersected with roads, sewers and water pipes sufficient to support a much larger population, so that Newton is a more expensive city to maintain than, on the one hand towns like Brookline, which have an almost equal population but much less area and much less mileage of roads, sewers, and water pipes, and on the other hand towns like West Newton, which though the area is large in comparison with the population, contain comparatively few streets and sewers. The real difficulty, however, is more in the revenue than in the expenditures.

The revenue of the city is, of course, derived almost entirely from taxes, and these taxes are of two kinds, one, taxes on real estate and tangible personal property assessed and collected by the city directly, and two, taxes collected by the state and distributed to all the cities and towns in accordance with some rule of apportionment fixed by statute. The taxes of the first kind under the present laws do not apply to any kind of stocks, bonds, notes or moneyed securities of any kind or to any class of personal property except what is known as tangible. Newton lacks the chief source of revenue for real estate taxes, namely, the taxes on valuable down-town business property, because on account of the nearness of Boston, we have no business section with eleven-story office buildings and similar structures such as are found in such cities as Springfield, Worcester, Lowell and other similar places. Land on the main streets of such cities has a value per square foot many times in excess of that of the most valuable land in Newton, and in many cases a single building is worth more than all the business district of one of Newton's business centers. As a result of this condition, although the value of our residential property probably averages higher than in many other cities, the total value of our real estate is not relatively large. The aggregate valuation of the real estate of tangible personal property in Newton is $88,000,000. While theoretically this property can be taxed at any rate required to meet the appropriations of the current year, as a practical matter the city cannot collect a tax in excess of the difference between the aggregate income of the inhabitants and the amounts expended by them for living expenses since otherwise there would be a decrease in the aggregate taxable property each year and progressively an increasing tax rate until the city was submerged by it; and furthermore the tax rate cannot safely be very greatly in excess of the rate in towns of similar character, as in such a case the development of Newton would be practically checked and families desiring suburban homes would locate elsewhere. The tax rate last year in Weston was $14 per thousand, in Brookline $17.30, in Wellesley, $18.50, in Milton, $21.60, in Winchester, $22, in Boston, $24.10, and the average tax rate in the whole state was $25.65. In Newton it was $27.20. Newton thus now ranks for the first time among the high tax rate towns and the growth of the city may be seriously jeopardized if its tax rate is maintained so much in excess of that of the other suburban towns of similar character. At any rate the tax rate should under no circumstances be allowed to exceed $30 per thousand. With such a tax rate on the present valuation of $88,000,000 (and it is apparent that the valuation is now as high as is warranted) the total revenue that could be raised by direct taxation would be $2,580,000.

Of the other sources of revenue the principal items are the corporation tax and the income tax. Under the present laws the taxes on corporations doing business in this state are collected by the state and the greater part of the proceeds is distributed to the cities and towns. The tax on each corporation being paid over to the city or town in which it carries on business. The residence of the stockholders is not considered. As there are comparatively few corporations having places of business in Newton, Newton's share of the corporation tax is not large. The income tax takes the place of the tax on intangible property which prior to 1917 was assessed a direct tax by the cities and towns on their own inhabitants and Newton was fortunately situated in this respect as the aggregate wealth of the city was relatively large. Under the income tax the tax on this property was no longer assessed by the cities and towns, but during the first two years each city or town received from the state an amount equal to that which it had formerly collected from intangible property. Under a statute enacted in 1919, however the proceeds of the income tax are distributed to the cities and towns in proportion to the value of their real estate and tangible personal property and as Newton real estate is not so valuable as that of some other cities and towns contributing far less to the income tax it receives a relatively small share of the proceeds of the income tax, in fact while the people of Newton pay in to the state over $900,000 annually in income taxes, when the method of apportionment provided by the 1919 statute goes into full effect, Newton will get back but $250,000, the remainder being handed over by the state to such cities as Springfield and Worcester, in which the real estate and tangible personal property is relatively more valuable.

The aggregate income of the City of Newton from the income tax, corporation tax and other like sources for the current year will probably not exceed $745,000, making a total possible revenue of $3,325,000. Out of this revenue the city has to pay its share of the state tax and the county tax, the Metropolitan District Tax and various other state assessments in the levy of which it has no voice except through its representatives in the Legislature, and these various assessments will probably amount to about $500,000, leaving a possible revenue available for municipal purposes of $2,825,000. The total city appropriations for 1920 amounted to $2,835,000 and this did not include any extraordinary expenditures peculiar to that year, and represented a budget cut down by the most careful paring in every detail by the Board of Aldermen. If this expenditure for ordinary current expenses is not exceeded in the coming year there will be available $190,000, assuming that the city has reached the tax rate of $30 a thousand which is, as already stated, the maximum figure which can be reached with safety, and a much higher tax rate than it is for the best interest of Newton to maintain.

If new school buildings are erected at a cost of $2,500,000 as has been estimated, and the cost is met by twenty-year serial-payment bonds, the annual charge for principal and interest will average $187,500 which would practically absorb all the remaining revenue available, even with a tax rate of $30 a thousand.

It is apparent, therefore, that if the citizens of Newton are prepared to enter upon the extensive program of school building recommended by the school committee, they will be obliged either to face a 30 tax rate for many years to come or else undertake a reduction in the current expenses of the city.

Mr. Blakemore said in part:—Cities, like individuals, are subject to the laws of economics and penalized for breach of those laws. Thrift brings prosperity and extravagance brings insolvency to both, and we have examples in our own State of cities formerly prosperous but now so burdened with the weight of taxation that their growth is stunted and they are less able than they would otherwise be to serve the public.

A tax rate of twenty dollars seems to be the limit of prudence and prosperity. Neighboring cities as their tax rate has mounted from twenty towards thirty dollars have fallen steadily behind. A high tax rate means high rents for all, and that outsiders are deterred from coming in and residents begin to move out. Our own beautiful city is not above these results, and similar action on our part will bring similar punishment, and a study of the situation in Newton shows that the tax rate has a definite effect on the amount of new building in the city.

Any man who would seek to hamper the work for example of our schools, of which we are so justly proud, would need be an enemy of the city, but few of us seem to realize that if Newton is affected as other cities have been by the disastrous effects of unwise financing and excessive taxation our elaborate school system would be the first to suffer. The true friends of the schools realize that they should plan, not for the greatest expenditure, but for the least expenditure, and they can obtain for this or any other year, but for the best treatment they can obtain over a series of years.

Let us examine the tendencies of the times at City Hall. The City assessments were raised in 1920 from, in round numbers, seventy eight and a half millions in 1919 to eighty-six millions, and the tax rate raised about seven dollars to $27.20 to meet an increased expenditure of seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars more in 1920 than in 1919. The school department alone obtained in two years an increase of fifty per cent going from six hundred thousand dollars in 1918 to nine hundred thousand dollars in 1920, and it was already receiving one of the highest amounts per pupil of any school department in the United States.

And in the face of all this the Mayor and Aldermen have this week asked the Legislature for authority to borrow beyond the debt limit the sum of two and a half million dollars, although this bond issue seems totally unnecessary as the City has already a borrowing capacity of over a million dollars. This bond issue has been asked for without public hearing and will entail an annual charge of over one hundred and eighty thousand dollars or an increase in the tax rate of two dollars for twenty years. This action was taken after a statement by the Chairman of the Finance Committee tee showing that it meant a thirty dollar tax rate. Instead of planning to return as fast as possible to a sane twenty dollar rate the plan now is to ensure a thirty dollar rate for the future, a rate higher than any other city in the Metropolitan District. The plan seems ruinous to the future of the city and I hope all citizens interested in our welfare will protest at once, either through the Newton Taxpayers' Association or directly to the Legislative Committee on Cities.

Over two hundred and eighty thousand dollars in City bonds mature this year which, added to the present borrowing capacity will give the City a borrowing capacity of nearly one million four hundred thousand dollars, which should be more than ample to pay for any new City buildings necessary. The real purpose of this proposed bond issue is of course to enable the introduction of a new experiment in education called the Junior High School, which means expensive buildings and a much larger cost of maintenance than the present grammar school system. Mayor Hatfield some years ago suggested that our magnificent City school plant could wisely be used the whole instead of a portion of each school day, and it seems that the time has about arrived when some such plan to avoid this enormous expenditure should be tried. If this plan is not feasible additions can be made to our present buildings where necessary at moderate expense.

The City has adopted the unsound policy of borrowing money on ten year bonds to pay for street improvements, which practice is bad in itself and expensive for the taxpayers. The City budget is no longer of much value as during the past year over two hundred thousand dollars was granted after the budget, which is supposed to cover all expenses for the year, was acted upon.

I do not mean in the above statements to criticize in the least the members of the Board of Aldermen who are hard working body, acting without remuneration out of their public spirit for the good of the City. The Mayor it must not be forgotten is given by our City Charter the primary responsibility for all financial questions, which responsibility he has consistently transferred to the Board of Aldermen, and they are constantly beset by the demands of earnest people interested in various projects, and they never hear from the men who pay the bills. Last year for example a very small group of hysterical women took two hundred thousand dollars out of the Treasury, against the best judgment of the Finance Committee, without consulting the Mayor. It is to meet this situation, to keep the City financially sound so that it may properly maintain its schools above all else, as well as its other necessary public activities, that the Newton Taxpayers' Association has been formed and we ask the support of all citizens interested in the City.

DEATH OF MR. MESERVE

The community was greatly shocked yesterday afternoon to learn of the sudden death of Mr. Charles D. Meserve for 24 years a much beloved teacher in the Newton Classical High School. Mr. Meserve was about his duties as usual on Monday but was taken ill that night with pneumonia, and which later affected his heart. He died about noon on Thursday at his home on Hull street, Newtonville.

Mrs. Meserve, who was attending the National Convention of Girl Scouts in Cincinnati, Ohio, did not reach home until last night.

Mr. Meserve was born Jan. 29, 1865, at Hopkinton, Mass. He graduated from Boston University in the year 1887 and in 1897 took courses in Harvard University.

In 1888, he taught in the Waltham New Church School; in 1889 he became Principal of the High School at Hollis, N. H.; from 1889-94 he was Principal of the Hyannis High School; and from 1894-97 he was Principal of the Leominster High School. From that time to the present, he has been the Head of the Mathematics Department of the Newton High School.

He was a member of many educational associations, and as an author had written two books, "A Collection of Logic Problems," and "A Syllabus of Plain Geometry."

Mr. Meserve was a very popular teacher, a strong influence in the school, and a true friend of the boys with whom he shared a love of athletics. His helpful spirit of cooperation endeared him to his associates in the school by whom he will be greatly missed.

Funeral services will be held at St. John's Church at three o'clock on Sunday, the Rev. Richard T. Loring officiating.

EACH ONE OF THEM IS GRAY

J. D. Monahan

I

Just a pair of gallant horses

I saw upon the road

Just two patient animals

As they pulled their heavy load

In build they might be brothers

Each one of them is gray

As side by side with steady stride

They struggle up the bray.

II

And just before they climb the hill

They stop and rest a while

And whisper to each other

As they champ their bits and smile

Indeed they might be brothers

Each one of them is gray

As side by side with steady stride

They struggle up the bray.

III

Ah! we well might learn a lesson

From this good pair of steeds

As we face our morning task

To help win life's daily needs

Laboring day by day

As side by side with steady stride

They struggle up the bray.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer Speaks on "Training of Our Children" at Auburndale Meeting

A reception to members of the Auburndale Mother's Association was held at the home of Mrs. George P. Knapp, Central street, on Thursday afternoon, January 20th.

Mrs. W. J. Spaulding rendered very beautifully three pretty songs, after which Mrs. Chauncey B. Conn, president, presented the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer.

Mrs. Palmer took as her subject, "The Training of Our Children." Some one has well said bringing up a child means carrying one's soul in one's hand. We all want to be artists in our profession of motherhood. The daughter of one of these artists in motherhood once said, "Mother is a little girl who trod my path before me, just a bigger, wiser girl, who always watches over me; mother is a playmate who will always treat me kindly." We should be faithful pals who understand our children. Mother should not be a critical judge, but a bigger, wiser, stronger one who always understands. We must live with our children, not above them. The greatest adage of mankind is "Except ye become as one of these." Character is caught not taught. All the beautiful and noble characteristics we wish our children to possess, must first become our own. What time makes out of the face shows more plainly than anything else what the person has made out of her time.

In speaking of the very young child, Mrs. Palmer made a strong plea that our children be permitted to live in God's great outdoors—they need the sun, the air, blue sky, wind and rain, birds, trees, flowers. Otherwise, they are apt to become weak and lacking in self-reliance. Fortunate is the child who is permitted to spend his summers on the farm, where he may learn the name of every living thing—learning from nature the great lessons of life.

We were then led to think for a few moments about the older girls, the girls in their teens anxious to know life in all its fullness. These girls are careless and thoughtless, demanding much and giving little, critical and hard to please. They are the girls who most of all need the mothers that understand. They are preparing for Womanhood—they have their shrine of hope. Every girl has her hope-chest, representing a longing for a useful career.

Mrs. Palmer then suggested that mothers help fill their daughters' hope chests with proper materials; a hope chest in these days meaning not a mere stock of linen. The materials suggested were: Health, Strong character and Self control.

A plea was made for the well-poised girl. Such a girl would have a good Appearance, a pleasing speaking voice, Modesty, Good manners, Education of a practical type, including Religious Education and Training in Domestic Science.

In speaking of Motherhood, Mrs. Palmer stated "we do not want our girls to trust to instinct in mothering the little girls and boys that come to them." We cannot expect our girls to be born mothers. Motherhood is a real profession.

Let us sprinkle a sweet fragrance over all these materials—it will be "joy"—joy comes from within and is in the soul. We want joy in health, joy in character, joy in education, joy in work, joy in wifehood and in motherhood.

After the beautiful and inspiring message from Mrs. Palmer, the ladies were given the opportunity of greeting each other and partaking of refreshments, served by our very able Social Committee.

NEW PRESIDENT

Mr. John T. Burns Elected to that Office by Newton Board of Trade

At the annual meeting Tuesday night of the Newton Board of Trade, held at the Newton Club, Mr. John T. Burns was elected president for the ensuing year.

The meeting was preceded by the usual excellent supper, about sixty members being present.

Besides the election of officers, the annual reports of the Secretary, Treasurer, and Auditing Committee were received.

The speakers of the evening were Hon. J. Weston Allen of Newton Highlands, Attorney-General of the Commonwealth, and Hon. James Jackson, Treasurer of the Commonwealth. They arrived late in the evening, having first attended the Governor's reception held that night at the State House.

Mr. Allen gave an interesting talk on some of the matters which engaged the attention of his office—his only reference to the recent controversy with District Attorney Tufts coming in the statement that the past year, the past month, and the past week had been the hardest he had ever experienced in public life. He also gave some personal incidents of Vice-President-elect Coolidge.

Mr. Jackson gave a plain business like statement of the affairs of his office and the plan he had made for placing the office on a more secure basis, and incidentally complimenting the Newton Trust Co. as one of the dependable banks of the state.

Besides Mr. Burns the other officers elected were: First Vice-President, Joseph B. Jamieson; Second Vice-President, John W. Byers; Third Vice-President, Gordon H. Rhodes; Fourth Vice-President, J. The annual meeting of the Second Church was held on Friday evening, January 21st. Over four hundred people sat down to supper, at the close of which Mr. Geo. H. Fernald, Jr., took the chair as moderator, and the following officers were elected:

Members of the Executive Committee, Benjamin J. Bowen, Deacon, 2 years; Edward M. Hall, Deacon, 2 years; W. F. Chase, Treasurer, 1 year; G. H. Fernald, Jr., Moderator, 1 year; J. D. Wood, Clerk, 1 year; H. D. Crowell, Church School Supt., 1 year; Thomas Weston, 4 years; William B. Phelps, 2 years; Auditors, Warren S. Kilburn, Joseph A. Symonds.

Mr. J. D. Wood reported for the clerk and Mr. Wm. F. Chase for the treasurer. A total of $27,357 was given by the church to benevolences during the year (including the sum of $16,177 given to the Pilgrim Memorial Fund), gifts were made to many schools and hospitals at home and abroad and to many local charities. The treasurer reported all bills paid and a small balance on hand. From Mr. Wood's report it transpired that the membership of the church was at present over seven hundred, more than twice the number of members at the opening of the pastorate of Mr. Park. The report of the Woman's Guild showed an average attendance of 66 at the meetings, the Young People's Society has an average attendance of between fifty and sixty, the choir of the church a membership of 110, the Boy Scout troop numbers forty members. The Church School has an enrollment of 340, with an attendance in its various departments of 80 per cent of those enrolled. The Woman's Guild reported the election of Mrs. Frederick S. Blodgett as president for 1921, Mrs. Thomas Chalmers as vice-president, Mrs. Willard C. Church and Miss Helen S. Davis as secretaries, Miss Grace M. Isaac as treasurer.

At the close of the meeting for business an enjoyable time was spent with Mr. Park as toastmaster, speeches were made by Messrs. Edward M.

EMPLOYERS ORGANIZE

Building Trades Association Formed to Cover Newton, Waltham and Needham

At a meeting of about 100 employing builders and contractors of Newton, Waltham and Needham held in Dennison Hall, Newtonville, steps were taken to form a new unit in the Boston Building Trades Employers' Association to be known as the Building Trades Employers' Association of Newton.

Mr. Horace W. Orr presided and there was a long discussion of the situation in regard to wages, overtime and hours of labor due to the termination of the old agreement on December 31st, which included a five-day week and $1 per hour scale.

A committee was finally appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws and to report at a later meeting. If the Association follows the course marked out by the Boston Association there is a strong probability of the strike now existing in Boston being extended to this city. It is said that there are about 3500 men employed in the district represented by the new Association.

PARENTS' DAY

Newton Centre Woman's Club Visits the Schools in That Part of the City

Newton Centre set a splendid example when, under the auspices of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, she set apart a day for parents to visit the schools and become acquainted at first hand with the work being done there. It is true that, in a sense, any day should be "visiting day," but so multifarious are the duties and calls upon mothers today, that any day too often means no day. This is much to be regretted. Both teachers and parents can gain much by becoming better acquainted with each other. Moreover, the child gains increased respect for his school when he sees that mother, too, is interested in what he is doing there.

The writer had not visited the Primary and the Grammar grades of the public schools for many years, and was much impressed with what she saw in her necessarily short visit.

The first impression was that from the first to the eighth grades, the pupils seemed to be interested and happy in their work.

The second impression which she received was of the immense importance of the sense of rhythm in the lower grades. This was shown not only in the spontaneous folk dances, but in learning to read.

The importance of dramatization was also marked in the lower grades where song and story were made vivid through this method.

Arithmetic in the second grade seemed to be a kind of game or puzzle where the pupil discovered for himself the various parts which made up a given sum.

In the upper grades, the writer was particularly interested in the initiative displayed by the 7th grade which was giving current events in short three-minute speeches. This class was conducted by one of their own number with a proper sense of decorum and dignity. The mottoes, too, recited in unison by this same class were admirably chosen. If the rising generation becomes thoroughly inculcated with such noble sentiments as were uttered in this class, we need have no fear of the future of our nation.

That parents were truly interested in visiting the schools was shown by the response made to the invitation of the woman's club, about three hundred women being present on Friday. Indeed, so crowded were some of the rooms, that the writer, not being a parent, felt some delicacy in taking the place of one whose interest though not greater than her own, was more immediate and personal.

The candy table in the hall was so well patronized that one could scarcely see the wares displayed for the would-be buyers.

The regular program of the schools over, the visitors adjourned to the hall which was tastefully decorated with greens and dainty tables in readiness for afternoon tea. While the school orchestra played, some of the members of the Women's club poured, and others welcomed the mothers, especially those who were new to the community. That she might become better known, each visitor or her arrival was given a tag on which to write her name which she then wore during the remainder of the afternoon.

May the other women's clubs of Newton follow the example of Newton Centre in bringing members into closer touch with our public schools.

FISKE CATS WIN

At the recent Cat Club Show in the "Vendome," "The Fiske Cats" were finely represented. Of seventeen brown tabbies, these eleven were from Colonial Stock; they took 1st novice, 1st male and winners, 1st female and winners' female, 1st and 2nd kitten, 2nd female open, 2nd female novice, best brace, best team and best display. The brown tabbies are noted for their fine heads, and expression. A great joy to their owner, a "shut in."

Abstract from the 77th Annual Report

Gross Assets, December 31, 1920 . . . $104,587,712.86
Policy Reserve and other Liabilities . . . $101,852,867.88
Surplus, Massachusetts Standard . . . $2,734,844.98

The past year has been decidedly the most successful since the institution was founded. The new paid-for business amounted to $108,411,136, an increase of nearly $20,000,000 over the previous year.

The net increase in amount of insurance in force was $85,594,483. The total insurance in force is $560,773,236, compared with $213,730,176 ten years ago. The usual excellent record of persistence, evidence of a satisfied membership, was maintained.

The death claims amounted to $5,063,592, an increase of $913,007. The claims incurred during the last sixty days of the year were $1,287,026, of which $733,337 was upon the lives of twenty-two persons. Claims amounting to $1,226,511 were paid on policies issued within five years to 309 persons, who passed a satisfactory medical examination and were in good health. The average duration of these policies was only two years, which emphasizes the uncertainty of life in an impressive manner.

Total payments to policyholders amounted to $10,258,720.31, an increase of $943,973.21.

Notwithstanding heavy taxes, greater cost of administration, and the increased expense due to the acquisition of so large an amount of new business (an investment that will bring substantial returns in the future), the shares of surplus payable in 1921 have been computed upon the same scale which has been in use for ten years. The amount set aside for this purpose, and which is charged as a liability, is $3,550,000, an increase of $550,000 over 1920.

DEATH OF MRS. CONNIT

Mrs. Elizabeth Lord Condit died suddenly on Saturday evening at the home of a cousin, Mrs. E. E. Strong, of Auburndale, with whom she had been living for the last ten years.

Mrs. Condit was born in 1846 in Hartford, Vermont, and was the daughter of Rev. John King Lord, the oldest son of President Nathan Lord of Dartmouth College. In 1869 she married Aaron Dayton Condit, a graduate of Dartmouth College in 1868, and they made their home in St. Anthony Park, Minneapolis, until his death in 1910.

For twenty years she was on the staff of the Clearing House Quarterly, a Minneapolis law review. She was a member of the Anthony Park Congregational Church and always active in the work of the church.

Mrs. Condit leaves a son, Dayton Condit of Chicago, and a brother, John King Lord, Professor Emeritus at Dartmouth College.

Services were held on Monday at the home of Mrs. E. E. Strong on Central street, Auburndale, Rev. Edward Payson Drew of the Congregational Church, Auburndale, and Rev. William E. Strong of Newtonville officiating, and the burial was in St. Paul, Minn.

NEWTON CLUB

On Wednesday the Club held a formal dance. The matrons were Mrs. G. Norman Banker, Mrs. Albert M. Lyon and Mrs. Harry D. Cabot.

On Thursday the usual Neighborhood Night Dinner was held followed by bowling and dancing.

The ladies are to hold a bridge party this afternoon at three o'clock.

The following is a pupil's tribute to the late and beloved Mr. Chas. D. Meserve:

A great man's task is over and his life's work is done. A teacher, a pal, and in time of need, a friend to everyone. He was ready and always willing to lend a helping hand. To those who could not grasp a thing, or did not understand.

We'll miss him, sadly miss him, the old school will not seem the same. For we've lost our pal and teacher, only memories now remain.

MURRAY-NEARY

A quiet wedding took place Sunday, January 16, at St. Bernard's Church West Newton, when Miss Mary S. Neary, daughter of Mrs. Susan Neary of 16 Upland street, West Newton, became the bride of Mr. Raymond J. Murray, son of P. J. Murray of Fliske street, Waltham. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Keleher, pastor of St. Bernard's church.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Neary, and Joseph J. Murray, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore a dress of Copenhagen blue charmeuse, with hat to match, and carried white roses. The bridesmaid's dress was of brown velvet, with brown velvet hat, and bouquet of pink roses. A reception followed at the bride's home, to relatives only, and after the reception the young couple left on a wedding trip to New York. On their return they will reside at 16 Upland street. Mr. and Mrs. Neary are both very popular in the many Catholic societies of Newton and Waltham.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL COMING

The Music Committee of the Norumbega District Sunday School Association is making plans for the Third Musical Festival of Memorial Hymns which will take place this year, May, in May. The following hymns have already been selected for the two of the "memory hymns" as this year:—"Oh, Master, let me walk with Thee," and "Fling out the Banner."

All those interested in the leading or teaching of hymns in the Sunday Schools or churches of the District are invited to the next meeting of the Music Committee, to be held on Feb. 15th, at the Immanuel M. E. Church, corner of Moody and Cherry streets, Waltham, at 8 P. M. At this time, in addition to the final choice of a few more hymns, the Rev. Earl E. Harper, Asst. Pastor and Musical Director of the above-named church, will give instruction in the interpretation and teaching of church hymns.

DEATH OF MRS. ALMY

Mrs. Annie Dean Almy, wife of Edward Almy, a Boston dry goods commission merchant, died Monday evening at her home on Woodbine street, Auburndale, following a long illness.

Mrs. Almy was the daughter of David Adams Olney, one of the first manufacturers of cotton cloth in Fall River. She had lived in Boston and Auburndale for more than 50 years. She was a member of the Auburndale Congregational Church, several local clubs, and also of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Her husband and two sons, Charles E. and George O. Almy, survive her. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Almy home, with Dr. Edward Payson Drew, pastor of the Congregational Church, officiating. Burial was in the Newton cemetery.

AUTO ACCIDENT

William B. Kenney, 61, of 11 Waverley place, Newton Lower Falls, had several ribs crushed and sustained internal injuries Wednesday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Fred J. Gellins of Main street, Cohasset, on Washington street, Newton Lower Falls. He was sent to the Newton Hospital, where his name was placed on the danger list. He had stepped out of the way of a truck which the automobile was also trying to avoid when the accident occurred.

HAS AMPLE SUPPLY OF WOOD

Berea College Owns Many Acres of Forest and Boasts It Never Cuts Sound Timber.

Berea college, at the foot of the Cumberland mountains, in Kentucky, has the unique distinction of owning two mountains, 4,000 acres of forest, its own sawmill, but never cutting a sound tree, writes Marie Dickore in the American Forestry Magazine. This wood is used for the college, for power, for heat and in the many cozy fireplaces in the dormitories and in the great open fireplace which delights every traveler who stops at Boone tavern.

The sawmill, as well as the 4,000 acres of forest reserve, provides not only ample practical experience for the students, but also actual labor for those students who work for their education. The sawmill is operated by steam, and like every other industry at Berea college, is run by students, who work at least two consecutive hours per day under the supervision of a superintendent of labor, who in turn is responsible to the dean of labor.

Students at Berea are given the opportunity to earn their expenses, and they may select the work, which is paid for at the regular rates according to the student's ability and efficiency. As every student in the college must work the minimum of two hours per day, suitable occupation must be provided by the dean of labor and in the forestry department the students are very happy patrolling the forest, marking the dead timber, hauling the fallen timber to the sawmill, cutting it there into the required lengths, and then hauling the logs to wherever needed on the campus. No sound timber is cut, as there is enough of the other to supply all needs.

UNEARTH SKELETON OF GIANT

Bones of Supposed Mound Builder Those of Man Eight or Nine Feet High.

Dr. W. J. Holland, curator of the Carnegie museum, Pittsburgh, and his assistant, Dr. Peterson, a few days ago opened up a mound of the ancient race that inhabited this section and secured the skeleton of a man who when in the flesh was between eight and nine feet in height, says a Greensburg (Pa.) dispatch to the Philadelphia Inquirer.

This mound, which was originally about 100 feet long and more than 12 feet high, has been somewhat worn down by time. It is on the J. B. Seerist farm in South Huntingdon township. This farm has been in the Seerist name for more than a century.

The most interesting feature in the recent excavation was the mummified torso of the human body, which the experts figured was laid to rest at least 400 years ago. Portions of the bones dug up and the bones in the legs, Prof. Peterson declares, are those of a person between eight and nine feet in height. The scientist figures that this skeleton was the framework of a person of the prehistoric race that inhabited this section before the American Indians.

The torso and the portions of the big skeleton were shipped to the Carnegie museum. Drs. Holland and Peterson supervised the explorations on the Seerist mound with the greatest of care. The curators believe the man whose skeleton they secured belonged to the mound builder class.

Golf Ball Displayed Sense.

People who don't believe that golf balls have some sense of their own would stand small show just now in an argument with a player on the Rombold links, who made a badly-sliced tee shot, which carried the ball across the roadway into the open upstairs window of a house.

When the golfer went to retrieve the ball he found it on the mat of the front door of the house, waiting for him like a good child. After entering the bedroom it had bounded out through the door and rolled downstairs to the mat.

The golfer says if it hadn't had sense it might have gone through a closed window, breaking the glass, and then stuck in the room, making all sorts of possible trouble for him. As it was, the people of the house were none the wiser for the trespass of the golf ball.—London Mail.

No More Tarts!

It was bad enough when we lost the secret of how the pyramids were made, and now the Manchester Guardian raises a warning cry that we are about to lose the key to another of mankind's achievements rare. The war, it is said, wiped out the art of the Baba, the Flamande, the eclair. When rationing forbade pastry, 20,000 apprentices left the trade in France, and while making mud pies in the trenches, they quite forgot how to flute icings, and combine creams and almond paste into the gateaux and tarts that made the pastry cooks of Paris famous. Whatever will the children do?

England Turns to Spanish.

A society craze for things Spanish seems to be imminent in England. Two Spanish plays are running in London and Spanish singers and dancers are in great demand. Many fashionable women are wearing the high Spanish comb and one sees tentative attempts at the mantilla, or mantilla effects. All the new fashionable dances are said to show distinct leanings toward Spanish interpretation.

TAKING SPECIAL WORK

Miss Alice M. Leeds of Newton, Miss Doris E. Fales and Miss Hazel Miller of Newton Centre, and Miss Gertrude L. Lichter of Newtonville, are taking special work at the School of Religious Education and Social Service of Boston University. This is the first college of its kind in the country to offer the degree of Bachelor of Religious Education.

Widespread interest is being shown by the workers with young people all over New England in the series of model pageants and community demonstrations which are being given by the Department of Fine Arts in Religion, which is one of the newest developments of this branch of Boston University. Hundreds of people attended the Christmas pageant demonstrations, and many have already signed up for the Easter programs, which will be shown by the class in pageantry on three consecutive Saturdays beginning February 12th.

The purpose of these pageants is to show simple and effective methods of portraying by song and word, great civic, religious and social truths, and to do away with the former meaningless jingles that formed a large part of the average Sunday School concert.

GLOBE THEATRE—"It's Up to You" is a good show. Really, it is quite attractive, not only on account of the music by Manuel Klein and John L. McManus, but there is a story which one may follow with interest, and there is laughter of the genuine sort, and there is nothing in the lines which will cause a young man to look from the corner of his eye to observe if his lady friend has caught the doubtful point. There are two young men whose finances are at a low ebb. One of them, Ned Spencer, is loved and beloved by Harriet Hollister, a sweet young thing who is afflicted with a naughty mother. Ma has an eye out for the main chance and tells Edward there is nothing doing as far as Harriet is concerned unless there is a big lump of dough in sight. Spencer has a friend, Dick Dayton by name, and he finds that Harriet's sister Ethel is about his size. So the boys cogitate as to how the roll may be secured. Spencer has been left some land on Long Island which is mostly under water. The two form a real estate trust, dispose of the property at ridiculous high figures, and everything is serene. This is but the merest outline of the plot, but in the working out there are many relevant incidents introduced and the whole affair is sensible, which is more than can be said of the majority of modern musical comedies. Douglas Leavitt has the responsibility of being co-author as well as one of the principals. He is a comedian of the unctuous type, well favored and smiling, and he is always ready with a response, and a good one, when he finds himself in an awkward position. His methods, too, are pleasing. Opposite him is Ruth Mary Lockwood, who has never figured very prominently in Boston heretofore, but who will be remembered when she calls again. She is a mercurial young lady, dances well, and fills the role assigned her with good judgment.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Peirce School

Mrs. Tolman has presented the Peirce School with a beautiful picture of a Greek statue. It will be put in a prominent place in the school.

The following pupils deserve mention on the honor roll: Alice Batson (grade 4); Elfride Carter (grade 5); Benjamin Bowen and Enid Laffie (grade 6).

A fifth grade has started a novel way of keeping up the pupil's interest in spelling, a baseball spelling game.

Several pupils in the 7th and 8th grades have entered the story contest of the Pilgrim Tercentenary. The reward for the best story is a five dollar gold piece.

The children in Miss Kelsey's room recently gave her a lovely fruit show.

In return, Miss Kelsey gave them some bulbs for the school room.

Room 6 has bought a doll and is going to send it to the contagious ward of the Newton Hospital to a little sick child there.

As a result of a very interesting talk given recently by Mr. Ericson on Home Economics, twenty-one girls have joined the club.

Hyde School

During the present week the seventh and eighth grades are making very interesting and instructive charts in Vocational Guidance, embracing the following subjects: The Jeweler, Agriculture, Small Fruit Culture, and Industries of U. S. Mrs. Blakemore is the wide awake teacher of this subject and the pupils are showing much enthusiasm.

The Thrift Campaign is still very active in the Hyde School. The fourth grade, Miss Marguerite Green's room, led in the purchase of stamps last week.

Spelling matches are in style again! The two fifth grades had a contest last week, Miss Marian Green's room winning.

Miss Marion Watts from the Framingham Normal is our present student assistant. A number of the upper grade teachers are taking courses at Boston University on Saturdays.

The teachers of the Hyde School were very glad to have Mrs. Bell, the special assistant, return after her recent operations for appendicitis.

Miss Taber's pupils, sixth grade, are taking great pride in the progress they are showing in their health game.

They are scored on the following rules each morning: bathe often, teeth brushed, long sleep, drink milk, no coffee or tea, eat vegetables, 4 glasses of water, play out of doors.

Miss Bragg started a contest last September in which she offered a prize to the underweight girls of the eighth grade, the award to be given to the one who showed the greatest improvement in bringing her weight up to normal. Emily Littlefield has just been announced the prize winner.

The other names appearing on the Health Honor Roll are: Gertrude Dyer, Constance Ishy, Janet North, Phyllis Logan, Evelyn Allingham, Mandolin Powell, Mary Galvin, Elizabeth Savage, Dorothea Rust, Gladys Stevens, Virginia Mason, Katherine Bonner, Marjory Williams, Lillian Noyes.

The Burr School

"The Echo" in its Thrift number published this month, gets the following interesting bits of news: Miss Adams of the third grade has returned to school after a long illness.

The boys are interested in a new class in Manual Training. They are learning to make articles out of tin.

James Armitage, Local Editor of "The Echo" is ill with pneumonia.

Dorothy Burnett is coming back to school about Feb. 1st.

The children of Grade 6 have been making maps under the direction of Miss Sanders, locating the historic trees still standing and studying some which are now represented by tablets or markers, such as the "Liberty Tree," and also the trees in Natick and Newton, under which John Eliot preached.

Philip James has been chosen president of one of the eighth grades, and Mary Brown, secretary.

The eighth grade has been making weight graphs. This encourages them to arrive at the desired weight.

Classical High School

On Wednesday morning the senior class went to the assembly hall, Mr. Adams announced that the memorial service and the unveiling of the tablet, which contains the names of the students of the school who died in the recent war, will be held in the assembly hall on Sunday afternoon Feb. 13. The senior class, as a body, has been invited to attend the services. Invitations have also been extended to the Grand Army and the American Legion. Mr. Adams then called to attention the fact that the time for electing the "Newtonian" board had arrived. The class then elected a nominating committee. Those on the committee are: Helen Booth, Roger Cummings, and Frederick Blodgett. With the aid of Mr. Underwood, they will select the editor and manager for the "Newtonian."

The February issue of the "Review" goes to press this week. The "Review" movies were well attended on Wednesday afternoon, there being about one hundred present. The feature picture was Chaplin. Two other reels were also shown.

Because of the sudden death of Mr. McFarver, the Boys' Debating Club has postponed their entertainment and dance until Friday night, Feb. 4. The contract made between the Debating Club and the "Tech" Clubs was broken with the consent of both parties, due to the fact that the "Tech" clubs secured an engagement at Worcester for that night. The tickets already issued will be good for the new date. The club will meet on next Monday morning.

The track team will make its first public appearance at the Inter-school meet, which is to be held Friday night, Jan. 28, in the gym. The meet will begin at 7.30.

MRS. PHILIP T. McLEAN

The funeral services for Mrs. Philip T. McLean were held at her late home 4 Sharon avenue, Auburndale, Monday afternoon at 2 P. M., Rev. A. J. Strait of Newton Lower Falls officiating.

Mrs. McLean had been in failing health for some few months and for several weeks had been in the Newton Hospital, where everything possible was done to assist her recovery, but after much quiet suffering she passed into a peaceful slumber last Friday evening, after bidding her husband good-night, and before morning, had opened her eyes in that brighter world about which we know so little and hope for so much.

Before her marriage in 1919 she was Miss Bessie Mae Hanscom, and resided in North Easton during her early life. For the last few years she had lived in Boston and was in the employ of the Boston Optical Company, for about 13 years. She leaves beside her husband, two brothers.

The remains were placed in the receiving tomb at Woodlawn Cemetery, Wellesley. The many floral tributes were a living expression of the high esteem in which Mrs. McLean was held.

SEVENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

Of The New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston, Mass.

The 77th annual meeting of the Members of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company was held January 24th, at the Home Office of the Company, 87 Milk Street, Boston.

The year 1920 gave the Company the largest amount of new business in its long history, exceeding the record business of 1919 by nearly one-fourth. The growth of the New England Mutual is shown by the statement that in the last five years more new insurance was paid-for than the total outstanding insurance that the Company had in force in 1915.

The record of persistence of the Company's business is equally striking. During 1920 the ratio of termination of insurance by death and all other causes was extremely low—a convincing evidence of satisfied membership.

The death claims were $5,063,628, an increase of $909,639. During the last sixty days of the year claims were incurred of $1,287,000; of this sum $733,337 was upon the lives of 22 persons—an average of $33,333 on each individual. Claims of $1,225,000 were paid under 309 policies in force an average of only two years. Every one of these policy holders had passed a satisfactory medical examination, and was in good health at the date of insurance. Total payments to policy holders were $10,259,000, an increase of $945,973.21.

Notwithstanding additional taxes and increased costs of doing business, the shares of surplus to be distributed this year amount to $3,550,000, an increase of $550,000 over last year.

The Company has reached its present stage of solid prosperity through a long-established policy of progressive conservatism and liberal fair-dealing.

N. H. S.

On Feb. 13 the tablet at the Newton Classical High School Building in memory of former members of the school who made the supreme sacrifice during the World War will be dedicated. On Feb. 20 similar exercises will be held in the Technical High School Building for members of that school who died in the service. All patriotic bodies in the city will participate in the exercises. The funds for purchasing the tablets were raised by contributions of students and graduates. Graduates who have not sent in their contributions are urged to do so as soon as possible through their secretaries.

A FIRST PERFORMANCE

Mendelssohn's Fifth Symphony was performed with full orchestration for the first time in this country Sunday afternoon at the vesper service of the First Church, Newton Centre, before an audience of 1122 persons, which overflowed into the vestry and the vestibule.

The work, known familiarly as "The Great Reformation" Symphony," is much played in parts as religious music. The First Church orchestra is composed mainly of residents of Newton, many of whom are well known musicians and music teachers, two being members of the Boston Symphony orchestra. The church orchestra numbers 54 performers, under the direction of D. Ralph Maclean.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

It takes a few weeks for the Legislature to really get to functioning because it receives new business until the second Saturday in January and this mass of bills must be printed before the committees really know just what is before them.

Committee hearings are slowly increasing each day, however, and within a week or two things will be moving in good shape.

City Solicitor Bartlett appeared before Cities this week and opposed a bill which would give time and a half pay to all city employees working on Sundays under the Sunday sports bill, and it was given leave to withdraw immediately.

The big feature of the week was the message of the governor submitting the annual state budget. Newton taxpayers have some interest in this measure as the Governor recommends a state tax of $15,000,000 or a million dollars more than last year. Under present valuation figures Newton pays about $15,500 on every million state tax, or something like 18 cents on our present tax rate. The Governor also points out the greatly reduced income of the state and the necessity of raising additional revenue. Newton automobilists are somewhat interested in the proposed increase in automobile taxes, but with the showing made by the Governor, it seems as if every class of business will have to pay its share in order to meet the rapidly rising cost of the state administration. Every effort ought to be made to keep down the state expenses.

Newton residents will undoubtedly be glad to learn what the State Department of Health reports on the Charles river. I give it in full:

"The condition of the Charles River has shown marked improvement throughout its course as compared with last year, a result due very largely to the reduced quantity of polluting matter discharged into the stream from factories and mills, since this river receives very little sewage. Many of the factories in the upper part of the drainage area were either closed or operated only on part time during the latter half of the year. For example, one of the largest mills in the lower portion of the watershed reduced its output for the year to about one-eighth of that of 1919. Under such conditions the effect of the discharge of manufacturing waste into the stream naturally has been much less noticeable than formerly."

Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark of Auburndale offered the prayer at the session on Thursday in the absence of the chaplain.

J. C. Brimblecom.

SMALL PARTY

A dancing party of Newton West 43 was held in Legion Hall, West Newton, on Tuesday night. Owing to the cold weather, the attendance was very small. An orchestra of "Home Talent" furnished excellent music for the occasion. The committee in charge comprised Commander C. Raymond Cabot, Robert Cunningham, Joseph Cunningham and John Foran.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Bigelow School

Bigelow played the Horace Mann-Clafin combination a hockey game Tuesday, and was defeated 6 to 0. Notwithstanding this score the game was close, interesting, and well-played, and Horace Mann had to fight for every point.

If some plan could be worked out in the Grammar School League whereby boys in competing teams might be approximately the same age and size, the scores would have more significance. There should be an age limit for players and a scholarship requirement, as there is in High Schools and Colleges.

We were handicapped by the absence of McPherson and Monahan, but Capt. Shaw added a new man to the squad in White, who proved to be a strong, consistent player.

Bigelow meets Mason Thursday and will again be opposed by a much older team, several of the players being of high school age. The following Tuesday Bigelow plays Hyde, a team of our own age.

Miss Lena Nixon of Bigelow is directing the activities of the smaller children on the pond and coast at Burr Playground Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

The girls of eighth grade have finished their course of lessons in cooking and for the remainder of the year will take lessons in sewing, thus changing the periods of manual training with seventh grade.

Clafin School

Athletic interest centers around hockey at present. The Horace-Mann-Clafin team played the Bigelow team on Tuesday, January 25. The score was 7-0 in favor of the Horace-Mann-Clafin team.

Grade VIII is making a class magazine as original work in English. The pupils of the dancing class are very sorry to lose one of the teachers, Miss McClintock, who has accepted a position which makes it impossible for her to do the work at Clafin School.

The Manual Training schedule changes on Monday, January 31, and the girls of the seventh grade are pleased to begin their work in cooking.

Lasell Seminary

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. McDonald, Janet Rutherford, Esther Curtis, Inez Cabrera, Gwendolyn McDonald through the courtesy of Mrs. Maynard were guests at the annual Children's party of the College Club in Boston.

One of the most eagerly anticipated events of the year occurred on Monday night, when Dr. and Mrs. Butters tendered their annual reception to the faculty and students attending the Methodist Church. The other special invited guests were a group of young men from Boston University. The rooms were attractively decorated with Lasell and B. U. banners. After the formal reception, at which Dr. and Mrs. Butters and Dean Beebe of Boston University, received, Miss Alice Pape sang, Miss Louise Plunkett gave several readings and the evening was spent in a delightfully informal manner.

A group of girls from the Home Economics Department had the privilege of visiting the diet kitchen of the Massachusetts General Hospital on Tuesday afternoon.

The girls at Clark Cottage entertained with a dance and frolic in the gymnasium on Saturday night. Mrs. Lathan assisted by two of her pupils from the New England Conservatory of Music, gave a very delightful recital on Wednesday evening.

The New Education is to be the topic of a lecture by Lucia Ames Mead, which she will give before the student body on Saturday afternoon.

Dr. G. M. Winslow is in New York, the guest of honor of the New York Lasell Club, which is holding its annual reunion today at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

D. A. R.

The patriotic work of the D. A. R. and a very interesting paper given by Mrs. Wurd of Milton at the home of Mrs. W. J. Bicknell, Newton Highlands, on Tuesday afternoon of this week, when the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter of the D. A. R. had its regular meeting.

Many new members are being enrolled in this chapter, whose regent is Miss Annie Sanford Heath, formerly a member of the Boston Tea Party Chapter. Those eligible for membership in this Society may apply to Miss Webster, Chester street, Newton Highlands, for application papers.

ADVANTAGE NOW WITH WOMEN

Modern Feminine Garments Such That They No Longer Need "Take All Day to Dress."

No longer does it "take her all day to dress."

Quietly and steadily woman has got rid of many checks upon rapidity of dressing; has consolidated garments, abashed buttons, done away with hooks and eyes, abandoned very often even corsets and the "fixing" of her hair, while man is quite as slow a dresser now as when Uncle C. Depew repeated his first story.

Not, of course, if woman garbs herself for purposes strictly social. This means one-tenth dressing and nine-tenths preparation of an armament that no stupid League of Nations would ever hope to curb. Very different is the morning method of feminine executives, of girls intent on business, study or art, of stump-speaking ladies when in transit.

Brother dazed himself with speed when first he fastened trousers with a belt, though buttons still remain for the "weekit" and the coat and that weary round of pearl and gold buttons for the shirt. But sister takes her one-piece suit at a single snapper and snaps a single "snapper" at the waist.

Long ago man hopped into his congress gaiters. Now he ties his oxford. His wife, however, steps into her pumps.

"Making her hair" once impeded mother's toilet. Fathers having hair to part must part it still. But daughter, being "bobbed," gives her hair one shake to "do" it.

"Nowadays," says an expert, "a girl can easily dress in ten minutes. Then she adds 20 for making up her face."

SALMON HAD TRAVELED FAR

Fish "Tagged" at Point Partridge, Washington, in 1918, Taken in Waters 600 Miles Distant.

The Canadian department of marine and fisheries has notified the bureau of fisheries of the United States Department of Commerce of the capture in the Skeena river, British Columbia, in the spring of 1920, of a chinook salmon bearing an aluminum button or tag with the letters "B. F." stamped on one side and the number "1911" on the other. An examination of the bureau's records shows that the tag in question, one of a special series employed in connection with an investigation of the sockeye salmon in the Fraser river-Puget sound region, was attached to a fish at Point Partridge, Whitby Island, Wash., on August 13, 1918. It is now evident that the fish was a chinook salmon tagged by mistake.

The fact that a chinook salmon should be caught in a shore trap far from the sea two years after the fish attained the spawning condition is interesting and suggestive, and the wanderings of this fish before and after tagging would be a fascinating theme for speculation. The distance between the two points at which it came under observation is about 600 miles by the most direct water route.

At Four-Forty.

Theater orchestras throughout the country have fixed on a tone standard for general use in all theaters. The A is tuned to 440 vibrations a second. Louis Ruth, manager of B. F. Keith's orchestra, called up a local piano tuner and asked him to go to Keith's to tune the piano.

"I wish you would give it immediate attention," Ruth told the piano man. "Tune it at four-forty."

A day passed and the piano in the Keith pit remained untuned. Ruth called up the man who took the job. "You haven't touched our piano," Ruth said a bit indignantly.

"Well, I was over there at 20 minutes to five yesterday afternoon and couldn't get in," was the excuse.

And then Ruth explained what he meant by four-forty.—Indianapolis News.

Increase in World's Crops.

A bulletin issued by the International institute of agriculture announces that the aggregate wheat and rye crops of the northern hemisphere total 62,400,000 metric tons, as against 61,700,000 metric tons in 1919. The production of barley, according to the bulletin is 8 per cent larger than last year, while oats increased 21 per cent. The maize crop of southern Europe was good, and that in America 10 per cent more than last year. The probable yield of beet sugar is considered favorable by the institute. The export of 400,000 tons of wheat from British India is advocated by the institute.

Mabel and Myrtle.

Representative Dawson, the anti-suffrage leader, said at a luncheon: "Woman's place is the home. When she starts out to imitate man she is absurd."

"Mabel was a new woman. She said to Myrtle one afternoon: 'We'll make a night of it. Come to the Ritz with me and we'll have a fellowship dinner.'"

"A fellowship dinner? What's that?" said Myrtle.

"Why," said Mabel, "you pay for mine, and I pay for yours."

Not Apprehensive.

"Aren't you afraid America will become isolated?" "Not if us farmers keep rainin' things the world needs," answered Farmer Cornsloss. "The feller that rings the dinner bell never runs much risk of bein' lonesome."

ALL WELCOME IN LUXEMBURG

Little State Cosmopolitan in the Extreme, but Second to None in Patriotic Spirit.

We live at the crossroads of the nations, remarks the Luxemburg Zeitung. We are of all the peoples of the world those most cosmopolitan in spirit. On July 14 there was a French evening on the parade grounds, and everyone was enthusiastic for France. On July 20 we had a Belgian evening. In the same place and again everyone was inspired with enthusiasm. Should there be an American, Italian, Czechoslovak or Polish evening any pleasant summer night, the throng would greet it with the same enthusiasm. We like to have people of other nations as our guests. We wish them to feel at home in our midst.

A stranger who does not know us—and many who have lived among us fall to know us—might fancy that we lack national sentiment.

But precisely the reverse is true. Our national sentiment is so deep that we are like a tree whose trunk stands unshaken when its crown is rustled by the wind of sympathy for other countries.

Last Wednesday, after our French and Belgian evenings, we had a Luxemburg evening. The parade ground was too small and the firmament was too low to contain the enthusiasm of the multitude. We were at home among ourselves. The leader had provided a program of old, modern, and very recent Luxemburg music. During the choruses the thousands surrounding the platform stood as reverently as if they were in church. When applause was called for it was so thunderous as to be almost intimidating.

The depth and sincerity of a nation's patriotism is not measured by the area of its territory.

FEAR EPIDEMIC OF TYPHUS

British Authority Tells of Danger to the World Because of Bad Conditions in Russia.

Dr. L. Haden Guest of London, who has been investigating conditions in Russia, reports to the Lancet (London) that the whole of that country has been swept by typhus and relapsing fever, and that all indications point unmistakably to a formidable epidemic in the coming winter. Cholera also has made its appearance and smallpox is widely prevalent.

The Lancet warns the world at large that unless immediate and effective steps be taken these frightful diseases will spread through the border states to other countries, and before long will appear all over the world. "The council of the League of Nations has thoroughly studied the situation, with the aid of some of the best-known epidemiologists in the world; they have a reasonable and economical program, and have appointed commissioners, but the actual work cannot proceed until they have obtained money guarantees from the different nations, which so far have not materialized, except in the case of a few countries, including Great Britain and Canada. The future of the matter may well prove, in the parlance of the day, an 'acid test' of the reality of the league as a family of nations, ready to act for the common good and to protect members of the family who are threatened by disaster."

Modern Lover Practical.

"Harry," exclaimed the blushing maiden, "this declaration of love is so sudden that I hardly know what to say. I was unprepared for it. It unnerves me."

"I was afraid it might," said the young chemist, rising with alacrity from his knees, "and I brought with me a bottle of my unrivaled nerve tonic. This preparation, my darling," he added, soothingly, as he took the bottle from his pocket, quickly extracted the cork and poured a quantity of the medicine into a spoon he had also brought with him, "will allay any undue excitement, quiet the nerves, aid digestion and restore lost appetite. I sell it at 50 cents a bottle. This is a dose for an adult. Take it, dearest."

"Floating Fair" From Holland.

A company has been organized at The Hague for the purpose of sending a "floating fair" as it is called, but practically a ship loaded with sample products and commercial agents to sell them, to various parts of the world, particularly the United States. The concern is organized somewhat on a co-operative basis and proposes to send the Messageries Maritimes vessel, the Macedonia, of 6,100 tons burden, to the United States and Central and South America for the purpose of introducing Netherlands products and enabling Netherlands commercial houses to establish import and export connections in the countries visited.—Scientific American.

Ice to Hold Stored Water.

Because the water supply of the small city of Ashland, Ore., is becoming inadequate in the summer, and increasing the storage facilities would cost $100,000, the local engineers are trying an experiment as ingenious as it is simple. High up the side of Mount Ashland, at the headwaters of the supply, a system of piping and sprays is being installed, through which the surplus water of the winter will be directed and allowed to freeze. The dumpling action of the ice walls thus formed, and the gradual thawing of the ice itself, are expected to provide enough water for all the needs of summer.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

REGULAR EVERY-DAY AFFAIR

Most Mothers With Small Sons Will Recognize This as Strictly Accoding to Schedule.

Aw, mother, not yet! Just lemme stay out a little longer—just five minutes. Just one minute? Aw, gee!

Get ready? Why, ain't I all right to go this way? Why not? Aw, gosh, not my shirt! Yes, I see those edges on the cuffs, but I can keep my coat sleeves down over them. Gee whiz, you're pertickler. Why do you have to see my shoes? I did black them, just yesterday.

Yes, I'm all done washing; no, didn't hurry too much. Lemme alone—my neck's all right! Well, I'm sure I don't know why those dark places are on my hands; why, I just washed them. Ouch! Don't brush my hair so hard! Well, the place that sticks up is right over the bump, so that's why I couldn't brush it there. No, I haven't done my nails yet; I was just getting ready to when you made me wash my hands again.

I don't need anything. Well, then, just a sweater, not my overcoat. Aw, gee! No, I don't know where my gloves are; I don't need them, anyhow. Gosh, not my rubbers! Aw, mother! The mud isn't very deep, and it takes about a year to put the darn things on. Gee whiz.

Well, g'by! Yes, I am hurrying. Well, I'm gonna start right off, soon as I speak to Bill a minute; he's right up at the corner, and he might be going my way. Aw, why not?

Well, s'long!

(Departs with the bug and smile that cancel all his sins, and a great peace settles upon the household.)—Life.

"RODEOS" FULL OF INTEREST

Excceedingly Interesting Annual Exhibitions That Are Held North of the Arctic Circle.

In the vicinity of the Kobuk river, Alaska, 50 miles north of the Arctic circle, there are held annual "rdeos," which for picturesque, skill of exhibitions, and in popularity are comparable to the "roundups" of the western part of the United States—yet there is not a single horse or steer or saddle or "six-gun" within hundreds of miles of the scene.

These rodeos are conducted under the auspices of the United States bureau of education for natives of Alaska, for the advancement of the reindeer industry. There are 150,000 reindeer in the territory, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine.

At the fair all matters pertaining to reindeer are discussed, and the herders come to an understanding regarding grazing ground rights and similar matters. Government representatives give talks on reindeer breeding and offer scientific guidance for the development of an improved stock. Recently serious consideration has been given to a means of exporting the growing thousands of surplus deer to the United States.

Within the next year or two, it is anticipated, a market for distributing the meat will be established in the United States. It costs less than $3 per head to raise deer, which will dress 150 pounds of choicest meat.

Men Dodge Age Proposition.

Service of women citizens on the registration boards leads to interesting personal revelations about their neighbors.

A man who holds a position in the city government had always given his real age, now 48, before women sat on the boards. When his wife went in to register for the first time one of the women on the board said to her:

"Oh, Mrs. Blank, isn't your husband an old codger?"

"Why, no," said Mrs. Blank, "I don't think 41 is so very old."

"But he registered as 47."

Silence fell and Mrs. Blank entered the booth to fill out her enrollment ballot.

Next year, when the husband entered the registration place and was asked by a man on the board his age, he replied, "42."

The woman whose undue interest had evidently caused a family Bible meeting looked at him and her look said volumes. But he stared her down, and so the record stands.—New York Evening Post.

Fill Fountain Pen Without Dropper.

How can the fountain pen be filled without having a dropper handy? A man does not usually carry a dropper with him. Put in the crowd at hand there is likely to be someone who has a self-filling fountain pen. If he can be induced to lend it for a moment the trick is done, says the Popular Science Monthly.

Take the self-filling pen and steep it in ink until it is full. Assure the owner that no damage will be done to the point of his valuable self-filler and permit him to watch the following performance:

Press the lever of the borrowed pen, and through its point discharge its contents of ink into the barrel of your own pen. Then refill the borrowed pen and return it.

Retired to Private Life.

"What's become of Congressman Twobble, who used to pose as the man of the hour in this part of the country?"

"He met the usual fate of 'sixty-minute men,'" said Squire Withersbee.

"How was that?"

"A lot of his constituents got together and decided his hour was up."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

OBSERVES HIS 25th ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Charles J. Galligan, pastor of St. Margaret's Church, Lowell, formerly a curate of St. Bernard's parish, West Newton, recently celebrated the 25th anniversary of his ordination. A reception was tendered Father Galligan by his parishioners in Lincoln Hall, Lowell, and as a token of the high esteem in which he is held, he was presented with a check for $1000 by Hon. James B. Casey.

Father Galligan was ordained in 1896 and was first assigned a curate to St. Bernard's Church, under Rev. Laurence O'Toole. Fr. Galligan remained with the West Newton parish until 1912, when he was transferred to his present parish as pastor. He was one of the most popular priests in Newton while serving in St. Bernard's Church, and the news of his being remembered by his parishioners comes as a great pleasure to those who were acquainted with him before he left Newton.

During his term as pastor of St. Margaret's Church, Fr. Galligan has succeeded in removing a heavy church debt, and has also done valuable work in connection with St. Peter's Orphan Asylum in Lowell.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

In view of the fact that the coming meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation is the one when legislative matters are discussed and action is taken, it behooves the delegates to inform themselves as far as possible concerning the matters to come up, that the vote may be intelligent. A new responsibility rests this year upon the delegates, since they themselves are now legal voters, and the legislators are bound to heed more than ever before the desires of the women.

At the annual meeting in 1915, Mrs. Esther M. Andrews, then chairman of the Legislative department, in presenting her annual report summed up her own experiences at the State House and stated her conclusions upon the matter at that time as follows:

"It was impossible to escape the political influences which affected the success or defeat of our bills. Sixty-four thousand voteless women do not represent intrinsic value to the politician. Our indirect methods cause loss of time, energy and money. Until women are eligible for promoting the welfare of the people by direct methods, our Legislative department cannot be expected to obtain the best results."

That time is now ours. Shall we use it, or shall we abuse it?

Numerous opportunities are being given by the present Legislative department for the clubwomen to know about the measures. Next week no less than three conferences are to be held for the purpose; one at Roxbury on Tuesday, by invitation of the Roxburghs Club, another at East Boston with the Home Club, the same evening, and a third, on Friday, the 4th, at Rockland, while three other districts have already had them.

In this way and through literature sent to the clubs the Federation is certainly trying to do its part in informing the women, but it cannot do it all. It rests with the delegates themselves to assume their part of the responsibility, which means taking the time to become informed and then using one's gray matter to judge the merits of the questions.

State Federation

Wednesday, February 9, 10.15 A. M. Mid-winter meeting of the State Federation at Melrose Highlands in the Congregational church, by invitation of the Woman's Club. As usual the morning sessions will be devoted to the presentation of an action upon the State and Federal legislative matters now pending. At the afternoon session, at two o'clock, Jean H. Nowell, City Magistrate of New York City, will speak on "Problems of the Women's Court and Court of Domestic Relations."

In accordance with the amendment to the By-laws passed at the annual meeting, only those holding white delegates' tickets properly stamped will be allowed to vote. Any club member may have a red admission ticket. For luncheon tickets send check for 60 cents and stamped addressed envelope to Miss Alice L. White, 18 Rockland street, Melrose Highlands, before Friday, February 4. Official train leaves North Station, Boston, at 8.50 A. M.

Boston Mt. Holyoke Association

Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball of Waban will preside at the regular meeting at Hotel Vendome, on Saturday afternoon, Raymond B. Fosdick, who was in Paris during the Peace Conference, will speak on "The League of Nations." Mr. Fosdick was at the head of the War Camp Community Service at Washington during the war. Alumni publications contributed for the Gift Sale will be on sale for the benefit of the Endowment Fund.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands will meet with the president, Mrs. George W. Barker, on January 1st. Mrs. C. H. Keeler will give a book review and there will be a social tea.

On Monday, January 31st, the Newton Highland C. L. S. C. will have one of its special days. Miss Ward of Allen terrace will be the hostess. She will be assisted by Miss Webster and Miss Anna Thompson in carrying out the program.

Rev. Abraham M. Ribbany will lecture on Monday evening on the topic, "Can Community be Civilized?" at a public meeting in the Central Congregational church under the auspices of the Newtonville Woman's Club. The proceeds will go to the club's contribution to the European Children's Fund.

At the next regular meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday afternoon, Jan. 31, Mr. Raymond B. Fosdick will speak on "The League of Nations." There will be a piano solo by Miss Constance Turner. Tea will be served.

What must a woman consider if she really would dress well? Science, art, and even, it may be, religion. Club women have given much thought to the problem of good dressing since the war service presented the subject in a new and compelling light. At the next meeting of the Abundant Woman's Club, Mrs. Joseph R. Draper, chairman of the Home Economics committee of the club, will give an illustrated talk on "The Ethics of Dress."

This is to be a practical, friendly talk, the material for which Mrs. Draper has gathered from years of experience. There will be an exhibition of about fifty hats made by the millinery class, which was recently conducted by Mrs. Draper with the assistance of Mrs. McNear and Mrs. Fisher. This class was held as an extension of the work conducted at the Middlesex County Farm Bureau in Waltham, and proved to be so helpful and so popular that other classes are to be formed in the near future.

Tea will be served at the close of the afternoon's program. This most attractive meeting will be held on Tuesday, February first, in the Methodist Parish House.

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will hold its next meeting in Lincoln Hall on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 1, at 2.30. A "Programme of Contrast" will be given by Constance and Henry Gideon and will consist of "Songs of Yesterday and Today" sung by Mrs. Gideon accompanied by Mr. Gideon, who will give an informal lecture.

After the entertainment there will be a cake sale by the Camp Fire girls.

The annual musicale of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon promises to be a rare treat. The program will be given by the Durrell String Quartet and Charles Stratton, tenor, from Tennessee. Mr. Stratton will be accompanied by Charles Fonteyn Manney. The quartet was organized in 1915 and includes, Josephine Durrell, violin, Jessie Symonds, violin, Anna Golden, viola, and Mildred Ridley, cello. Their numbers will be: Quartet in D Major, Haydn, violin solos by Mrs. Symonds, accompanied by Miss Ridley, Souvenir Poetique, Fibrick, and Valse Bluette, by Durell-Aper; and two selections by Ippolito-Ivanov, and Folk Song "Molly on the Shore" by Grainger, for the quartet. Mr. Stratton will sing two groups of songs, "The Divan of Hafiz by Harling, and "The Songs of Grusia," Rachmaninoff, "May the Maiden," Carpenter, "Afterday," Cyril Scott, and "Love Went A-Riding," Frank Bridge.

Wednesday morning the Newton Social Science Club will hold its monthly business meeting when the question of raising the dues will be acted upon and any other business which the committees may bring.

Mrs. Grace M. Poole will give the monthly Current Events lecture before the Community Club next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Ladies' Home Circle will hold its regular meeting in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, February 3rd.

Saturday, February 5, at 2 P. M. Miss Margaret Tucker will talk on Insects, using mounted specimens. The meeting is under the auspices of the Nature Study class of the Newton Centre Woman's Club and will be held in the Mason School hall. Children are especially invited. Miss Tucker is in charge of the Children's Museum in Cambridge.

The musicale announced by the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club has been postponed until the open date in April. The program committee is very glad to announce that Mr. A. J. Philipotts of the Boston Globe has been secured to lecture on February 7. Mr. Philipotts has traveled extensively and is a popular lecturer, whom all will be glad to hear.

Local Happenings

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands met at the home of Mrs. F. S. Fairchild on January 24. Mrs. Ogden and Mrs. Fewkes discussed the "Customs and Manners of the People of Norway" and Mrs. O'Connor touched upon "The Landlapers."

At the meeting of the Abundant Review Club on Tuesday morning held at the home of Mrs. Robert P. Gilman, Mrs. J. F. Dunton was in charge of the program and she was assisted by Mrs. George F. Howland and Mrs. R. L. Bridgman. The subject considered was "The Poets and Novelists of America from 1870 to 1900." Mrs. W. J. Spaulding contributed two songs, which were much enjoyed.

On Wednesday morning at the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club, Mrs. C. Crawford gave the first of her series of three talks upon current events. Beginning with the Governor's message and continuing with that of President Wilson, she took up the cabinet possibilities and discussed Mr. Harding's proposition to invite the vice-president to sit with the cabinet. She then turned to Europe and its debt and the work before the Supreme Council now meeting in Paris.

Miss Georgia H. Emery made an appeal for more knitting for the disabled soldiers as the supply of articles is well-nigh exhausted.

The next meeting of the Newton Ladies' Home Circle will be held on Thursday, Feb. 3, at 2 P. M. It is especially important that a large number be there to discuss plans for the coming activities. Something is going to happen so the members must wake up for pleasure and work. We want to meet all our calls and maintain our reputation for good work.

WILL TEST WATER-DIVINING

French Government to Try Plan in Effort to Locate Precious Fluid in the Sahara.

The government of France has decided to test the value of water-divining in its African colonies, and an impressively expert committee comprising geologists and surveyors, as well as diviners, has been appointed to apply the magic rod to the Sahara. Since Moses first struck water from the rock the question of divining has been a moot one, and the world is no less credulous of its results in this age than in ancient days. The "dowsing" had a great vogue in England in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, especially in Cornwall, where numerous learned works attest his prowess in finding metals under the earth. But even latterly "dowsing" for water has been attended with such success that science has had to explain the drooping of the forked hazel twig in the "dowsing" hands by such theories as that "certain people possess a supernatural perceptive faculty," and that the twisting of the branch indicated a "mental disturbance in the dowsing which is beyond the scope of conscious perception." We can well imagine that whether the twig or the man be the agent in the matter the French government will be well rewarded for their experiment in dowsing on a large scale if an extra oasis or two be added to the Sahara. Falling that, the world will doubtless come yet to the more complete and imaginative plan, which has from time to time been mooted, of tipping the water of the Mediterranean into the great desert by means of a canal.—Manchester Guardian.

MUSIC NOW PUT TO WORK

No Longer Sufficient That "Concord of Sweet Sounds" Shall Fall Pleasantly on the Ear.

Materialism can never let alone, but always wants to put the horse collar on it and make it haul something. There was a time when music was the handmaiden of the soul and was asked only to buoy our spiritual selves upon life's stormy sea.

The most utilitarian service it was asked to perform was to soothe the savage breast, and then it was in some degrees brought down from its peak and set at the task of accompanying the Fletcherizing in temples of gastronomy; next it was tried as an accelerator on discontented cows. Designed to facilitate the flow of soul, it was found to facilitate the flow of milk.

And now what do we hear? That music has been found "efficacious"—think of it, efficacious, that tolling and moiling world!—in therapeutics; good for boils, bunions, rheumatism, gout, corns and paresis.

But perhaps it is for the best. If music can be of some use in the world instead of being a mere butterfly of emotion, it can better hold its own against all the wild tempests of jazz and syncopation.—F. H. Collier in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Defects Never Long Hidden.

It takes but little fallen fruit to discount the value of the whole barrel. Purchasers are always looking for evidence of fallen fruit so they can have argument for lowering the price. Wise dealers see to it that no fallen fruit is found in their products. Unscrupulous people take delight in putting all the fallen stuff they can among the good. It may work for a time. Some of the fallen may even be so much like the picked fruit that you can't tell the difference at first. But in the end the fallen stuff will be its own advertisement. It's the same with people. Discounted characters try to mingle with the best folks because they hope to be rated among the best. And it often works for a time, but in the end there is sure to be revelations that show the picked and the fallen product—Exchange.

Roumania to the Front.

In these days when Roumania emerges from the wreckage of the old continental order as the greatest and potentially strongest state of southeastern Europe, the realization is needful that a Latin people, imbued with Latin culture and the consciousness of a Latin sorority of nations, exists on the banks of the Black sea and occupies an outpost the west one of the most important strategic positions at the gates of the Orient.

Through the union of Transylvania and Bessarabia, Roumanian since time immemorial, with the old kingdom formed by the fusion of Wallachia and Moldavia, Roumania comes to occupy an area almost as large as that of Italy, with a population more than twice that of Belgium.

Engines of Peace.

One of the surprises of the great war, a disastrous and effective one, was the heavy artillery of the central powers. One of the great producing centers was the Skoda works in Pilsen, Bohemia. The siege mortars turned out by these works were terrible weapons, but now these works are ready to make from 200 to 250 locomotives annually.

READ FUND LECTURE

In spite of the weather, Hunnewell Hall was well filled on Monday evening to hear the second lecture of the course given by Mr. Peter MacQueen, minister, author, and lecturer.

Mr. MacQueen interspersed his pictures with comments on the war and present events. He showed the famous places of France and Belgium before and after the war paying high tribute to both countries. In connection with Italy, he showed a picture of Fiume and explained Italy's desire to gain possession of this seaport, as caused by her fear of Russia.

The present condition of Austria in regard to food, he said, was due largely to the fact that she is cut off from Hungary and Roumania, her natural sources of food supply.
The speaker also expressed a wish that the United States might have control of Constantinople, and paid a high tribute to the American teachers and missionaries who have done such splendid work in Turkey.

The power of the Bolsheviks in Russia was touched upon, and the present helpless condition of the country in spite of her natural resources. In an interview with the late Count Tolstoi the Count told the speaker that Russia would go from bad to worse, but from a state of chaos would arise a new republic of strength and power.

The lecturer concluded his lecture with the hope that France, Italy, England and the United States might yet be united in a League cemented by the blood of their heroic dead.

The next lecture of the course will be held on Feb. 7th, when Mr. Loring Underwood will show pictures of "The Arnold Arboretum," by the use of "direct color" photographs.

LODGES

One of the biggest events in K. of C. circles in Newton will be staged in Odd Fellows' Hall, Newtonville, on March 30 and 31 and April 1 and 2, in the form of a Grand Bazaar. John J. Goldrick is chairman of the committee and John Barwise is secretary, with John F. Gallagher acting as treasurer. The other members of the committee are Henry Kinchla, R. Kerrihan, John E. Riley, J. Sheridan Louis Mullen, Thomas M. Waters, Jr., Robert A. Vachon, O. J. McCourt, George King and John Fahy.

Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold a dancing party at Nutting's on the Charles, Waltham, on Tuesday night, February 1st.

THE MASQUERADE

On Saturday night, January 22nd, the annual masquerade party was held in the Fessenden School gymnasium. At 7.30 the grand march started and the masquerade was off. It was attended by all the boys, and several masters also honored the party by their untimely appearance. The girls in the Saturday night dancing class prettily completed the merry group.

There was much doubt as to the costume that withheld Mr. Fessenden's personality. As usual he was unknown until the unmasking, and even remained a mystery to many till the dance ended at ten o'clock, when he was finally identified in the disguise of Uncle Tom. At ten o'clock the kings, queens, Russians, and other animals bid farewell to the ball room and retired for the evening. The Masquerade was undoubtedly a success.

POMROY HOME

"LOOK OLDER THAN LONDON"

Many American Cities Suggest Age and Permanence, Says E. V. Lucas, Visitor From Europe.

Looking back on it all, I realize that America never struck me as a new country, although its inhabitants often seemed to be a new people, writes E. V. Lucas in the Outlook. The cities are more mature than the citizens. New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington—all have an air of permanence and age. The buildings, even when most fantastic, suggest indigence or at least stability; nor would the presence of more ancient structures increase this effect.

To the eye of the ordinary Englishman, accustomed to work in what we call the city, in Fleet street, in the Strand, in Piccadilly or in Oxford street, New York would not appear to be a younger place than London, and Boston might easily strike him as older. Nor is London more than a little older, except in spots, such as the Tower, and the Temple and the Abbey and that little Tudor row in Holborn, all separated by vast tracts of modernity.

Indeed, I would almost go further and say that London sets up an illusion of being never even than New York, by reason of its more disturbing street traffic both in the roads and on the footways, and the prevalence of the gayly colored omnibus which thunders along so many thoroughfares, in notable contrast to the sedate and sober vehicles that serve Fifth avenue and are hardly seen elsewhere.

LEARNED SECRET OF INDIANS

Boy's Chance Discovery Revealed How Aborigines Constructed Their Bone Arrow Heads.

Cushing, an eminent authority in matters pertaining to the Indians, has told us how, as a boy, he learned the way Indians made their flint arrow heads.

He had unearthed a beautiful harpoon of bone. He had a toothbrush with him, and the bone handle of this he chopped off and ground down on a piece of sandstone to make a harpoon of his own; but he could not grind such clean-cut barbs as those of the relic.

The boy then took his flint-slates and chips and set to work with them. The flint cut the bones away, but left the work rough. Then accidentally he made a discovery, for no sooner had he begun to rub the bone transversely on the flint than the bone cut the flint away. Not jaggedly, as his hammer-stone would have chipped it, but in long, continuously narrow surface furrows wherever the edge was caught in the bone at a certain angle.

He never finished that harpoon. He turned it about and used it as an arrow cutter, by tying it to a little rod of wood with a shoestring. He had found out how the Indians made arrow heads.

One Against the Archbishop.

In his book, "Our Family Affairs," Mr. E. F. Benson, the English novelist, tells of a joke he played on his father, the archbishop of Canterbury.

The archbishop was a loving but exacting parent, although he sometimes nodded. He certainly did so one hot Sunday afternoon when Mr. Benson was deputed to read the life of St. Francis to him and the assembled family in the garden.

The tranquillity of the listeners became after a while so remarkable that the reader decided to test it by giving them a senseless jumble of lines selected at haphazard from different pages of the volume. No one stirred till the cessation of his voice caused the primate of England to open his eyes.

"Wonderful!" he said. "Is that the end, Fred?"

"Yes, that's all," said Fred.

"Money? Pouf!"

"I don't know how much Sarah Bernhardt got for her recent farewell performances in London, but I don't suppose it was much less than the £1,000 a night she was paid when she last appeared at a West end music hall. The divine Sarah has made and spent more fortunes than any other woman, one of her American tours realizing £50,000.

But she cares nothing about money. "My earnings during my career?" she says. "Nothing. Nothing. I say. It comes, it goes. I keep no account. Could I not spend money, I would not earn it. Money is to spend. I detest accounts. I don't bother. I have enough. I never calculate. I can't calculate. Oh, bother the money!"—London Tit-Bits.

United States King Celebrates.

Mike Fogel, "King" of Moorea island, who at one time was a San Francisco musician, recently gave an elaborate banquet and hula hula dance to all of his native subjects in celebration of the first anniversary of the beginning of his reign. Fogel became "king" when he married Tanta Mata, native "queen" of the island, whose husband died when influenza swept the Society islands. At the banquet Fogel served native foods cooked in European style. The natives, who never before tasted foods cooked other than in the time-worn manner, enjoyed the banquet immensely. Ten oil cans and four ancient hollow drums furnished "music" for the dancing, in which 200 girls took part. The dance lasted until daylight.

A BEAUTIFUL PARTY

Masters Emilie, Jr., and Maurice Coulton, the two eldest of E. P. Coulton's family of five possible Presidents, entertained about 40 of their boy and girl friends last Friday evening in the ball room of the Hotel Westminster. The room was beautifully decorated, and when the party of little men and misses, the latter dressed in their gayest frocks, were seated at the tables, it was indeed a pretty picture. Not that the boys, however, were happier than Mr. and Mrs. Coulton, who were on hand constantly to see that every one had a good time. Before the dainty supper was served an hour's "movies" were enjoyed by every one present, including the "grown-ups." Some very superior pictures were thrown upon the screen, including the kiddies' favorite, Charlie Chaplin. An excellent orchestra furnished music, and between courses the youngsters danced until 10 o'clock, when they said good-night—regrettably.

FIRST INSPECTION

In the evening the formal inspection of the personnel of the company was held. The different officers of the company alternated in command. Mayor Edwin O. Childs and Col. Thomas Foley of the 101st Infantry were among the guests. A thorough result of the inspection will not be known for about a month, both inspectors complimented Capt. John MacClellan on the appearance of the men and the condition of the armory. A buffet lunch was served.
